Monday: What is one conclusion you can draw from your reading tonight? Use evidence from the text to support your thinking.

Tuesday: Make an inference about a character as you read tonight using textual evidence. (I can infer that ____ because the text says ____).

Wednesday: Write an objective summary of the section of the text that you read tonight. An objective summary is writing about only what really happened in the text without using your opinion or personal feelings.

Thursday: Write down a line of dialogue from your reading tonight that you feel is significant to the story. What does that line of dialogue reveal about the character who said it?

Common Core Reading Log

Monday: Contrast your current independent reading book with another book you have read in the past. How are the structures of the two texts different?

Tuesday: Pick a place in your reading tonight where the author's word choice impacted the meaning or tone of the text. Write down that word or phrase and discuss the meaning of it to the story.

Wednesday: Analyze the structure of a major section with the text. Discuss how that section helps develop the central idea of the text.

Thursday: What is the author's point of view or purpose for writing this text?
