Village Manager's Office Provides Wealth of Information for Community

If it's happening in Brown Deer, it most likely got started at the Office of the Village Manager. And if you have a specific Village need, that's probably the right place to look for help. Need voting information? Wondering who is responsible for Village elections? Want a permit for a block party? All of these services – and many more – are handled by the Village Manager's Office at Brown Deer's Village Hall.

The Manager's Office is a one-stop resource center that handles its long to-do list smoothly and efficiently. Responsibilities include administering Village business; facilitating the establishment of policies and procedures; proposing alternative strategies to accomplish Village goals; preparing agendas and committee packets; enforcing Village ordinances; maintaining records and responding to citizen inquiries.

Amazingly, this vital office does it all with only three key staff members. The Village's new Manager Michael Hall leads the busy team. Hall comes to Brown Deer with an excellent background in local government service (read more on page 5). He replaces former Manager Russell Van Gompel who is now the City Manager in Eau Claire, Wis. We extend our deepest thanks to Van Gompel for his nearly 15 years of dedicated service to the Village.

A terrific support team of dedicated and experienced professionals help Hall keep things running. Jill Kenda-Lubetski serves as the Village Clerk/Executive Secretary and is responsible for licenses and elections. Assistant Village Manager Matt Janecke manages the Village's IT infrastructure, web development and policy formulation, and collaborates with the Village Manager on various projects. Matt is also the Village liaison to the Our Brown Deer magazine committee.

Hall is already "digging in" and getting started on a number of initiatives. A top priority is maintaining good relationships with our businesses.

"Brown Deer's unique identity comes from a sense of community, that is strengthened by partnering with our businesses," says Michael. "My goal is to personally visit each of them to express our appreciation for the vitality they bring to Brown Deer and to welcome our many new businesses. As we continue to facilitate new development plans, we'll need their support and ideas to continue our momentum."

Another important project on the Manager's Office agenda is establishing a unique "identity" for the Village through marketing and signage. Elements of this exciting venture have been under discussion in the Original Village Streetscaping plan. That plan includes enhancing the Village's most unique neighborhood by making it more pedestrian-friendly and creating comfortable, convenient gathering spaces for residents and guests.

A connection to the Oak Leaf Trail system will run through the Original Village Streetscaping area, and will also formalize the street system within the Original Village. Additional signage to draw attention to the community and its landmark points of interest are also part of the plan.

With so many positives going on, Michael expects good things for the future of Brown Deer. "A new vitality of commerce is emerging and we have much to look forward to, including our business partnership with the Granville-Brown Deer Chamber. We'll see some of the success of this fine relationship in another summer of family fun at the 2nd annual Community Vibes concert series."

Our Village Manager's Office is ready to serve the needs of the community in person Monday-Friday from 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. at Village Hall or by calling (414) 371-3000. For those with Internet access, a convenient way to find out Village information and get answers to questions is the Citizens Request Management Center feature located on the home page of the Village website (browndeerwi.org). It's a quick, easy option to send an inquiry to a specific department and you can then track your inquiry from start to resolution.

MESSAGE FROM THE Village Manager By Michael L. Hall

"I shall do less whenever I shall believe what I am doing hurts the cause, and I shall do more whenever I shall believe doing more will help the cause. I shall try to correct errors when shown to be errors; and I shall adopt new views so fast as they shall appear to be true views."

– Abraham Lincoln (August 22, 1862)

As your new Village Manager, I am inspired by the words of Abraham Lincoln and I am very excited to be a part of the Brown Deer community and to help promote our wonderful Village. Over the years, I have had the opportunity to work in both large and small organizations as a public servant.

These experiences have given me a greater understanding of government and provide the foundation for my new role in Brown Deer. Most recently, I was the City Administrator for Shawano, Wis. Prior to that, I lived in and worked for the City of West Jordan, Utah, where I served in several government positions focusing on administration, finance and public works.

When I entered college, I chose to follow in my father's footsteps and study computer science. But even though I grew up around computers and advanced technology, and loved to figure out how things work, the curriculum was not satisfying to me. Then I discovered a government/law class in college and was hooked. I learned that there is more than one answer to a problem, and I enjoyed thinking "outside the box." I immediately changed my studies to government, law and history. I earned a master's in public administration from the University of Utah (Salt Lake City) and a bachelor's in political science (with a minor in constitutional law) from Colorado State University in Fort Collins, Col.

Public service is about improving the quality of life for everyone and making a difference. Working in local government is an incredibly rewarding experience and a profession that allows me to shape and positively impact the daily lives of citizens, businesses and other constituents. I am deeply grateful to add value to the government process.

It is a great honor to serve Brown Deer and be part of such a strong team of employees at Village Hall. My family and I are looking forward to moving to Brown Deer to enjoy the cultural diversity of the area and the variety of entertainment options associated with big-city living. Thank you for the warm Brown Deer welcome. I anticipate great things ahead for our Village.

MESSAGE FROM THE VILLAGE PRESIDENT

Using Civility To Serve Our Community

By Carl Krueger

Civility is defined as “politeness and courtesy in behavior or speech.” Consider what Samuel Johnson, one of the most distinguished writers in English literature, said about civility: “When once the forms of civility are violated there remains little hope of a return to decency.”

I believe that civility is at the core of our current political and societal dysfunctions. When I was in high school, our civics course taught us that reasoned rhetoric, backed by facts and logic, is far more persuasive than emotional rants. Today, the talking heads on radio and TV take extreme positions and are out to foment anger and frustration. The extremists of our political parties are out on the fringe of the mainstream. They believe by shouting louder and harder they will somehow convince the other side they are right. In truth, the opposite happens and positions are hardened leading to conflict. Lack of civility can be seen in larger global issues such as the constant conflicts between North and South Korea, or other similar worldwide situations. It can even be seen in local issues such as the original Village redevelopment project.

I have been hearing more and more recently about how government should be run like a business. A banker colleague said, “the only real purpose of business is to make money.” As a businessman, I strongly disagree. Fairness, ethics, quality, decent working conditions and integrity should all be part of the equation.

As your Village President, I believe this should also be true in government. Our founding fathers wrote that this government is founded “by the people, for the people.” If the government is supposed to act in the best interest of the people, it must attempt to serve all the people. That’s why I continue in my quest to serve the Village of Brown Deer – its people, seniors, middle-class workers, children, schools and government employees – in the fairest manner possible. This is what civility is all about!

I look forward to serving the needs of all of our citizens and I welcome your comments, concerns and support as we move forward together into the future.

P.S. Should you happen to run into our new Village Manager Michael Hall, please welcome him to the Village! We are expecting great things from Michael. And don’t forget the upcoming Deer Run on April 27 (see pg. 11).

3rd Annual Home Buying Expo & Tour Showcases Community

Mark your calendars for the 3rd annual Village of Brown Deer Spring Home Buying Expo & Tour on Saturday, May 18. The purpose of this event is to promote the Village of Brown Deer as a great place to live with beautiful and affordable housing, great schools, bountiful parks and exciting recreation. The Expo and Tour gives potential home buyers a convenient and easy way to learn about our Village, tour homes for sale, and discover why we are all so proud to call Brown Deer home.

The Expo will be held from 10 a.m.-12 p.m. at the new Lois and Tom Dolan Community Center at 4355 W. Bradley Rd. The self-guided Tour of Homes will take place from 12-3 p.m. Maps of the homes open for tour will be available at the Expo where attendees can visit with representatives from the Village of Brown Deer, the Park & Recreation Department, the Brown Deer School District, the Granville-Brown Deer Chamber, local businesses, banks, lenders, realtors, home inspectors, and other Brown Deer home owners. Please contact Angela Walters at (414) 235-1152 if you have any questions or would like more information.

Bradley Crossing Celebrates Grand Opening!

Bradley Crossing at 4375 W. Bradley Rd. celebrated its formal grand opening on Thursday, March 21 when residents, staff, guests and Village and other government dignitaries gathered for tours and a special program presented by JFS Housing and Jewish Family Services. The Bradley Crossing Supportive Housing Community is a 60-unit apartment complex that opened in November 2012. It offers a supportive environment to a diverse group of renters, with a 50/50 split of disabled and low-income residents of all ages and abilities – from a newborn to a 90-year-old.

Included in the facility is the new Lois and Tom Dolan

Community Center, made possible by a generous donation from the Lois and Tom Dolan Family and supporters of the Brown Deer Foundation. The Center, which is managed by the Brown Deer Park and Recreation Department, offers classes and activities and is the new home to Brown Deer's Senior Club and Milwaukee County Senior Meal Program (see pg. 39). It also serves as a new Village polling location and is available for rental (contact the Park and Recreation Department for information).

We extend a heartfelt welcome to our newest neighbors at Bradley Crossing and wish them all the best in their new home!

Vader is Brown Deer's newest K-9 officer.

Brown Deer Canine Officers Serve and Protect

Throughout history, man's best friend has been a hunter, protector and companion. Realizing the value and importance of working dogs, more and more police organizations have created K-9 units. Always a leader in serving our citizens, Brown Deer became the first community in the Milwaukee area to introduce a K-9 program in 1985.

Since then, a proud parade of six loyal pooches and their trained handlers have been alert guardians of our Village. The honor role of K-9s and their handlers includes:

- German Shepherds Maik (1985-1991) and Zigo (1991-1995) and their handler Sergeant John Schneider.
- German Shepherd Jake (1992-1998) and handler Lieutenant George King.
- German Shepherd Fero (1998-2003) and handler Officer Richard Schwoegler.
- Dutch Shepherd Justis (2004-2012) and his first handler Officer Dan Hansen, and new partner, Officer Brad Caddock.

K-9 officer Justis served the Brown Deer community from 2004-2012.

Belgian Malinois Vader is the department's current K-9. Trained in narcotics detection, building searches, tracking, suspect apprehension and handler protection, Vader and partner Officer Joshua Morgan are assigned to work 10 p.m.-6 a.m.

Brown Deer K-9s have been involved in some exciting cases like a drug bust when Fero was called on by the Glendale Police Department to assist with a drug investigation at a motel. Fero "hit" on a vehicle in the parking lot that led officers to discover 39 grams of marijuana and $73,240 in cash. The Brown Deer Police Department received a portion of the cash and Glendale began building its own K-9 program.

K-9 police work involves many talents. Scenting and tracking for drugs, weapons, evidence, cash, bodies and criminals; holding criminals at bay; protection work; and search and rescue operations are all part of K-9 training. Police dogs and their handlers are put through a rigorous and specialized K-9 training course that can last four to five weeks.

Police K-9s are trained to maneuver an obstacle course that would simulate actual situations with jumping over obstacles, crawling under obstacles or squeezing into narrow spaces. Handlers are trained to control their dog with verbal commands and the dog will learn to wait for a command before reacting. A good police dog is trained to stay focused, avoid distractions and protect its handler. Hard working dogs, such as police dogs, often need to take early retirement or sometimes die in the line of duty of illness. Most recently, Brown Deer's beloved Justis passed away last summer due to gastric torsion (commonly known as twisted stomach), that can commonly occur in deep-chested breeds of dogs.

The Brown Deer Police Department is very grateful to the community for their contributions to make our K-9 program and the cost of maintaining it possible. Our special thanks go to the Stan Kass Family. Their generous donations over the past twenty years have made a significant difference in our program, including the opportunity to purchase Justis and Vader.

Children engage in fun activities at the new Transitional Development Learning Center.

FOCUS ON GRANVILLE-BROWN DEER CHAMBER

Improving the Quality of Our Business and Residential Communities

True to its mission, "... to improve the quality of life and general prosperity of residents, businesses and employees of the Historic Granville and Brown Deer neighborhoods," the Granville Brown-Deer Chamber plays an important role in the vitality of our community. Since its inception in 1998, it has maintained a history of local community initiatives to improve the quality of the residential and business community in the far Northwest side of Milwaukee.

The membership organization is a marriage of the Brown Deer Chamber of Commerce and the Historic Granville Association that began as The Northwest Community Collaboration. It originally worked to improve home ownership and housing opportunities, park development and community clean-ups.

As it evolved, the name was changed to The Historic Granville Association and the non-profit group began an effort to strongly involve local businesses. In 2002, The Historic Granville Association merged with the Brown Deer Chamber of Commerce. Their common goal has always been to highlight the area's strengths and opportunities, while focusing resources on weaknesses and threats.

"Our intent is to create a neighborhood second to none in quality of life of its residents, develop a healthy and growing business climate, and make the area an attractive asset to this region of Milwaukee," explains Gary Mohn, an original founder of the Granville group. Mohn is the president and chief executive officer of Alexian Village and the former secretary for the Chamber.

The Chamber's success in bringing change to the area continues to grow.

In 2013, the group helped to create the Granville Business Improvement District (BID) that represents more than 350 businesses in Granville. Recent initiatives have included a tour of Northridge Mall to discuss the mall's future, which was the catalyst behind Penzeys' idea to purchase the mall. Penzeys is working with the City of Milwaukee to make the purchase come to fruition this year.

The vision and its execution for the Brown Deer corridor is a major concern of the Chamber. It acted as the lead organization in the Northwest Side Comprehensive Area Plan five years ago and is instrumental in opening up the plan in 2013 to include Brown Deer and the Granville sections of the corridor. The Chamber also worked with creating more employee-based home ownership in the Woodlands, the area of lower-income condos on 95th St. north of Brown Deer Rd. Its influence in the area is also evident at Kohl Park, where it helps facilitate connecting the park with the Milwaukee and Ozaukee County Trail Systems. "The group is recognized as the lead organization bringing change to Historic Granville and Brown Deer areas," says Mohn.

While impacting the whole community, the Chamber also is an igniter in helping local businesses grow. Membership provides businesses with networking opportunities, grand openings, educational seminars/workshops, expos, luncheons, fairs and award dinners.

Chamber membership has doubled in the past three years and Chamber President Barb Fleming expects the trend to continue. "The organization is getting noticed and expanding its reach," she says. An example of its continual influence is this summer's Community Vibes concert series, organized by the Chamber to grow a stronger sense of community in Brown Deer/Granville through entertainment. It is also an effort to help raise money and heighten awareness of the Chamber and its efforts to build a stronger, vibrant community for residents, employees and businesses in the area.

The Chamber is proud to continue a new tradition of summer concerts with a stellar line-up of acts for the 2013 season. As the Granville-Brown Deer area's only summer concert venue, Community Vibes will host three locally known headliners in the beautiful Village of Brown Deer Park and Pavilion, 4800 W. Green Brook Dr. (see ad on pg. 5).

Watch for great things to continue to take place to benefit the community under the influence of the Granville-Brown Deer Chamber.

2013 Adult Summer Reading Program

Dig into reading this summer with Ground Breaking Reads! Each year, participants read to earn chances for incentive gift cards given away at the end of the summer.

The statewide theme this summer is "Ground Breaking Reads." Here's how it works. Select as many adult fiction or non-fiction titles – or unabridged audiobooks – of your choice between May 31 and September 6. Complete the required bookmark with a personal 2-3 sentence recommendation for the title when you have finished reading or listening to your selection.

Hold onto your completed bookmarks until you have five, then show them to the librarian at the Reference Desk before dropping them in the incentive boxes to receive a "Ground Breaking Reads" insulated lunch bag (limited to the first 125 readers) and a coupon for a free item at the Friends of the Library Annual Book sale in August. In September, you will be contacted if one of your bookmarks is drawn to win a gift card from Pick 'N Save, Kohl's, Applebee's, Panera, Larry's Market and others. The more you read, the better your chance to win!

Children's Summer Reading Program

Beginning May 31, come to the Brown Deer Public Library and register for the "Dig Into Reading" Summer Library Reading Program. At registration you will receive a reading log and an official "Dig Into Reading!" bookmark.

Children 7 years old and younger:

- Read any 15 books of your choice and record the titles.
- Having someone else read to you counts!

Children 8 years old through 12 years old:

- Read any book(s) of your choice for a total of 240 minutes and record your timed reading.

There is a limit of one reading log per child for the summer. You must read books at or above your reading level.

When you have completed your reading, bring in your completed log to receive a "congratulations bag" full of coupons! You will also receive a raffle ticket for our grand prize drawing. Reading logs may be turned in starting June 10. Grand Prize drawing winners will be contacted by phone on Mon., August 12, and will be able to select their prize. A child may win only one grand prize.

Teen Reading Program "Beneath the Surface" Offers Prizes

Starting May 31, students between the ages of 13-18 can register to read and win prizes during the "Beneath the Surface" reading program. Stop in the Library and pick up a reading record to keep track of your summer reading. Read seven books during the summer and receive a prize packet filled with coupons for summer fun!

Healthy Lifestyle Village a One-Stop Destination for Community Health and Well-Being

As they say, “It Takes a Village ...”

The unique collaboration among the YMCA of Metropolitan Milwaukee, Wheaton Franciscan Healthcare, and the Walter Schroeder Aquatic Center takes prevention and wellness to a new level, encouraging optimal health for spirit, mind and body.

Although Rite-Hite Family YMCA and the Walter Schroeder Aquatic Center have shared a campus for many years, adding Wheaton Franciscan to the site in 2009 anchored the “Healthy Lifestyle Village” concept.

Together, the three “neighbors” offer Y members, Wheaton patients and community visitors one location to improve health and quality of life.

“It’s about taking action before poor health and chronic disease sets in by incorporating a unique combination of resources,” says Barbara Zak, Wheaton Franciscan Vice President-Ambulatory Services. “From health management to fitness and recreation, our goal is to motivate people through education, planning and positive action to take charge of their lives and their health.”

The nucleus of those served come from Brown Deer and the North Shore, but the scope of members and patients extend into eastern Waukesha County, northern Ozaukee County, Milwaukee, and “East Side” communities.

Rite-Hite Family YMCA and Walter Schroeder Aquatic Center

have been a steadfast resource for the kids and families in Brown Deer, Mequon, Glendale and other communities on Milwaukee’s north shore for more than 25 years.

The Rite-Hite Family YMCA, which was completely renovated in 2009, features a full array of programs and facilities to help members and guests grow in spirit, mind and body. Y staff work together with members and guests to help them reach their wellness goals. The facility itself offers a full wellness center with cardiovascular and strength-training equipment and weights, an indoor running and walking track, full gym, racquetball courts, an alpine climbing tower, personal training, and a wide variety of group exercise classes for people of all fitness levels.

The Y also provides a variety of youth and family programming for members and non-members alike, including Day Camp, preschool and youth development programs, swim lessons, and more.

In addition, all Y members have access to the Walter Schroeder Aquatic Center, which is located at the Healthy Lifestyle Village along with Rite-Hite Family YMCA and Wheaton Franciscan Healthcare. The Walter Schroeder Aquatic Center is home to one of the area’s only Olympic-quality swimming and diving facilities. The center is a membership-based organization with a variety of youth and adult swim teams. The competitive swim and diving teams continue to grow and thrive year after year.

“From health management to fitness and recreation, our goal is to motivate people through education, planning and positive action to take charge of their lives and their health.”

AND WHEATON FRANCISCAN HEALTH CARE

“The collaboration between our three organizations over the past four years has really revitalized this facility,” says Heather Williams, Rite-Hite Family YMCA’s center executive. “The synergy created by joining together on one campus creates an opportunity to provide the very best, most comprehensive set of health, wellness, nutritional and stress-management services to the community.”

Wheaton Franciscan-Brown Deer Campus

The Wheaton Franciscan-Brown Deer Campus is designed to make health care visits as efficient and convenient as possible. Outpatient services and doctor offices are located only steps away from each other. Among the outpatient services offered by Wheaton Franciscan are:

- Cardiopulmonary testing
- Diabetes and prediabetes education
- Laboratory
- Mammography
- Pain management
- Physical and occupational therapy
- Radiology/open MRI
- Urgent care center, which is an independent affiliate of Wheaton Franciscan Healthcare

Physician specialties on campus include cardiology, cardiac electrophysiology, dermatology, endocrinology, family medicine, gastroenterology (GI), neurology, orthopedics, and physical medicine.

Shared Programming and Amenities

The Healthy Lifestyle Village offers a variety of educational seminars, workshops, and fitness/wellness/health programs on campus to help strengthen the local community.

Among those are Pathways to a Healthier Weight, an 18-week program for those who are seeking a path to a healthy lifestyle through weight loss and maintenance. A registered dietitian from Wheaton and a wellness coach/personal trainer from the Y lead small group sessions on a variety of healthy eating and lifestyle topics designed to help people develop healthy habits that lead to weight loss.

Additionally, Outpost Natural Foods has also recently joined the Healthy Lifestyle Village to offer staff and guests access to wholesome, local, natural and organic foods. A small store offers casual “grab and go” food, including healthy sandwiches, salads, desserts and beverages. The addition of Outpost helps to reinforce the importance of whole health and wellness to the community.

MESSAGE FROM THE SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT

Transformation of Our Schools Continues

By Dr. Deb Kerr

In the Brown Deer School District we have been inspired by our past as we drive into our future. For the past eight years, the Brown Deer school community had a vision for creating an educational campus that would better serve our children and meet growing community needs for services and activities that promote the whole child. This vision will become a reality as we open our new field house, fitness center, art rooms and commons this April.

Our school community has come together to turn the impossible into a reality – and this catalytic project will impact generations to come. With the impressive transformation of our physical landscape and utilizing all of our campus for learning both indoors and outdoors, the Brown Deer School District will be able to fulfill its mission to inspire students to become passionate learners, creative thinkers, and innovative leaders who enrich our world.

The journey to create our schools as the centerpiece of the community has been a collaborative effort of courage and bold decision-making of our School and Village boards, parents, staff, community groups, the Granville-Brown Deer Chamber, Milwaukee North Shore Rotary, business partners and alumni. There is a saying, “If you want to go fast, go alone, if you want to go far, GO TOGETHER.”

We would not have been successful without an unbelievable team of volunteers and staff who have traveled on this journey TOGETHER to see our dreams come true. This is a great example of how a village comes together – it's about transformation and bringing new life to forgotten spaces by acknowledging all of the potential, and delivering with a purpose.

Not only have the dramatic physical changes transformed our 63-acre campus, they have provided opportunities to leverage transformation of our instruction and teaching practices. The key to our success in today's world is mastering global and cultural understanding while knowing how to manage complex change. We are all experiencing an incredible amount of change in our professional and personal lives, but with the challenge of change comes opportunities.

Since last October, our school community has been engaged in a transformation process called “Reinventing Our Schools” to determine a new 21st century vision of what our students need as learners to be successful and competitive in a global economy. There have been thoughtful and reflective discussions of what our students need to know and need to be able to do in the 21st century – and how to best connect them to their learning. We have been driven by the important questions, rather than the easy answers, for inquiry and not just ideas. Through these crucial conversations we are exploring all of the possibilities as we consider the following: flexible learning spaces, different teaching schedules and calendars, access to a variety of technology, anytime-anywhere learning, individual learning profiles, health and wellness, on-line courses, bilingual language immersion classrooms, and much, much more. Our graduates must be prepared to step into the 21st century workforce with the skills necessary to compete at every level.

Our students need learning experiences to:

- Acquire invaluable cross-cultural competencies for success in a global and connected world.
- Gain knowledge and expertise in the 4 Cs: critical thinking, communication, collaboration and creativity.
- Master proficiency in reading, math and writing skills.
- Learn a curriculum that is innovative in delivery and rigorous in content.
- Develop and set goals to accomplish college or career benchmarks.

Some of our discussions have prompted more questions such as:

- How do we empower our students to make the connections between what they learn in our schools and how it can be applied to the real world?
- How should we provide relevant, hands-on experiences that foster the 4Cs, financial literacy, work readiness, and entrepreneurship?
- How do we develop a learning culture, enhance the significance of student classroom learning and increase the understanding of the value of education?

We thank everyone who has been involved in these discussions as we redesign and create world-class educational programs tailored for our Brown Deer students – this is truly transformation!

We encourage you to empower all of our young people to own their academic success – to inspire, innovate and lead to succeed in a global economy and internationally connected world. By focusing on quality education, the development of the whole child, and personalized learning we can develop students with the competence, confidence and character needed to successfully compete with any student across the world.

No other school district is better positioned to create economic vitality in their community through development of well-educated students poised for college and career pathways.

We are already celebrating the completion of Part One of our Transformation with the opening of the new field house and learning spaces. We are looking forward to unveiling Part Two of our Transformation with the opening of our renovated learning spaces at Brown Deer Elementary School and Brown Deer Middle/High School when the new semester begins in the fall.

Senior Tax Exchange Program

STEP: Senior Tax Exchange Program Benefits Retirees and School District

The School District of Brown Deer is proud to be a leader in bringing our students an exceptional educational opportunity while enabling our senior citizens to benefit by participating in the Senior Tax Exchange Program (STEP). This innovative program offers retired Brown Deer property owners a unique way to use their special skills and talents working within the School District in exchange for a real estate tax credit.

STEP is a highly regarded national program that started in Colorado and has since been adopted by other states, including Wisconsin. Brown Deer implemented its program at the start of the 2008-09 school year. The program is open to any Brown Deer citizen 55 years of age and older who has retired from full-time employment, owns property in Brown Deer and pays property taxes. Participants are paid $5 per hour and may work 119 hours per calendar year, for a maximum of $595 in annual compensation that is applied to their real estate taxes. Two eligible citizens residing at the same property may share the work to meet the maximum amount of tax credit for each primary residence.

STEP Coordinator Jan Williams, who is a retired Brown Deer K-12 counselor and teacher, says that everyone involved in the program is a winner. "Besides the tax credit, seniors are rewarded with the respect and gratitude of our community for sharing their lifetimes of experience, talents, skills and wisdom." Williams explains that as bridges are built between generations, STEP seniors are energized as they experience the freshness and idealism of youth. In exchange, their positive influence and encouragement are invaluable to students, especially for those most at risk, or those who have special physical, social or emotional needs. "The impact a grandparent figure can make is enormous," she says.

"The School District wins because STEP helps supplement programs with tight budgets that do not allow for hiring additional staff." Students work one-on-one with their adult role models who share experiences and wisdom gained over the years. As student skills, self-esteem and confidence grow, the senior mentors encourage the children to set goals and strive to do their very best.

A long-time STEP participant says that the program gives him great personal satisfaction. "The student I worked with was really struggling. I felt needed and I believe I made a difference for him. And in helping him I feel like I also made a contribution to our community."

Retirees involved in STEP say the advantages of the program are far greater than the property tax credit. They receive a bonus reward in the appreciation and recognition they get as valuable assets to our children and our schools. Enthusiasm for the program can be measured by the continuing interest of retirees to remain active in STEP - enjoying new friendships with their adult colleagues and treasuring the partnerships formed over the years with co-workers and School District staff.

Opportunities to be part of the STEP program are virtually limitless for just about every talent, skill or interest. The program is flexible and aimed at matching individual abilities with School District needs in academic, office and clerical work. A sampling of work opportunities includes tutoring, reading with students, class projects, bulletin boards, art projects, computer work, clerical activities (copying, filing, mailings, phone answering), fundraising, gardening, ushering and much more.

If you are a senior 55+ years, retired from full-time work and a Brown Deer property owner, STEP is a great way to be involved with our community while reducing your tax burden. All it takes to get started is completing a brief application providing information about yourself and the talents you can share. School faculty and staff will match their projects or student needs to your skills. After a short, informal interview and orientation, assignments are scheduled. It's as easy as that!

The Brown Deer STEP Handbook provides additional information explaining the program in detail, along with the application form. To learn more, visit the District website (browndeerschools.com), click on "school and community" in the bottom left column, and then "STEP Program."

STEP is fun, fulfilling and financially rewarding. Start today to make a difference in the lives of our students while helping the School District of Brown Deer. And, enjoy the added benefit of a reduction in your personal property taxes. Together we can define our destiny and create positive experiences for the entire community.

To find out how you can help others while you help yourself, contact STEP Coordinator Jan Williams at (414) 371-6932 or jwilliams@browndeerschools.org.

High School SMART Team Explores Molecular World

Innovative Program Links Students with Scientists in Real-Life Research

What do you get when you combine enthusiastic high school students with dedicated science teachers and today's most committed research scientists? Introducing the Brown Deer High School SMART Team (Students Modeling A Research Topic). In this engaging and innovative program, high schoolers journey beyond the facts in their text books to delve into the molecular world and explore science as a process.

The process is fascinating! Our young scientists work closely with a researcher to understand and model the structure-function relationship of a protein (that the researcher is studying), and then design and build a model of the protein using Rapid Prototyping technology (an actual 3-D model is created using computer visualization software). At the conclusion of their project, SMART Teams compose an oral presentation and create a poster to document and explain their work. There are more than 21 SMART Teams in the Milwaukee area, with this national program first being implemented at Riverside High School 13 years ago. This is the 7th year of SMART Team participation for Brown Deer students.

While our students visit the labs of the researchers, they are not actively engaged in the actual bench work. (The paperwork for getting students under the age of 18 into a lab situation is mind-blowing.) Instead, students are immersed in the world of the scientist by learning about the work that they and their colleagues do. Their science education extends outside the four walls of their Brown Deer classroom, and becomes something that is real and tangible. That big, scary medical research building on the hill where they do all that "sciencey" stuff becomes a world they feel they can become a part of, should they choose to do so.

The tasks that the SMART Team complete complement the Brown Deer High School science curriculum and focus on the following objectives:

- To learn how the process of modeling is central to the way a research scientist constructs an understanding of the invisible molecular world.
- To explain the relationship between the structure and function of a protein within the context of a "big picture."
- To examine and apply the experimental evidence supporting the relationship between protein structure and function.
- To describe how members of a scientific community collaborate and interact to advance the community's understanding of a field of science.

- To demonstrate how to communicate a project to both a scientific audience and a lay audience.

The program is coordinated through the Milwaukee School of Engineering (MSOE) Center for BioMolecular Modeling. SMART Team Program Director Gina Vogt, a former Brown Deer science teacher, explains the three phases of the program. "During the Qualification Phase, the SMART Team meets several times on Saturday mornings early in the school year to learn about protein biochemistry and computer visualization. Students accomplish specific tasks, complete an oral exam and design a model to meet the requirements of the first phase, before moving on to the Research and Design Phase. It is during this second phase that the exciting scientific discoveries take place."

This year, Brown Deer students worked with Dr. Dara Frank from the Medical College of Wisconsin as they explored the role of bacterial toxins and how they destroy host cells. Understanding how these toxins work may lead to the development of therapeutics to treat bacterial infections. "Based on what they are learning now, perhaps one day a student may invent a new treatment or drug to help a friend or relative affected by the medical conditions that we are studying,” says Dr. Frank. “Whenever I get together with our high school colleagues, it refreshes my energy level and gives me hope that the foundation we are building will continue into the next generation.”

SMART Teams learn the importance of teamwork and many students let their individual talents shine while working toward a group goal. Our young scientists use writing skills, artistic ability, computer savvy, graphic arts knowledge and organizational competence to create their group project, with the end product greater than the sum of its many parts.

“The SMART program integrates fun and creativity with science and as a scientist I believe we need to do more to convey the excitement and energy of what we do,” adds Dr. Frank.

Following the Research and Design Phase, each team presents their topic and model. As a culmination of their work, SMART Teams across the U.S. have an opportunity to present their completed project at the annual American Society of Biochemistry and Molecular Biology (ASBMB) meeting, this year taking place in Boston on April 20-24.

Dave Sampe, biology and anatomy teacher at Brown Deer High School and the SMART Team advisor, says the instructors also benefit from the program. “I’ve found my role with our SMART Team to be a truly rewarding experience and one that makes me appreciate the scientific process even more.”

Students participating on Brown Deer’s SMART Team also have extremely positive attitudes about the program. Senior William Keslin appreciates the opportunity of working with accredited researchers who explain the actual protein work in progress. “We meet with many different professionals and learn applications of both biology and chemistry in the real world. It allows us to understand how the science community works as a whole, both in and out of the lab. Our SMART Team feels more like a connection to the future than an actual class.”

Freshman Evan Bord agrees that this has been an incredible learning experience. “As a first-year member of the SMART Team, and the only freshman in the group, I expected it to be difficult. But with the help of veteran members, Mr. Sampe, and our mentor, I really feel included and an integral part of our team. I feel confident that it will assist me in my college studies and my future in science.” Junior Wongsai Heur sums it all up with, “Our SMART Team is much more than just science!”

Program Director Gina Vogt enthusiastically endorses the program. “The SMART Team program is remarkable, one that changes lives for all involved. Students in the program identify their passion and claim science as a profession, and not just a job. As an educator, my participation with SMART Teams was the motivation I needed to propel my own personal growth in the science world. We are very fortunate that the Brown Deer School District saw the value of this program and made the commitment to its success.”

New Schools Are Named

When school resumes next fall, Brown Deer students will be returning to only two remodeled buildings. Brown Deer Middle School will be converted to a K4-6th grade school and Brown Deer High School will be a 7th-12th grade school. After reviewing the suggestions from a recent parent and staff survey, administration made a recommendation to the Board of Education to rename the schools. The Board voted to name the K4-6th grade school Brown Deer Elementary School, and the 7th-12th grade school Brown Deer Middle/High School. The remodeling in some areas of the schools has already begun, and will be completed in early August.

2013-13 School Calendar Approved

The Board of Education has approved the calendar for the 2013-14 school year. The first day of school for students will be September 3. Orientation activities will take place August 27, 28, and 29. Additional information will be sent out to parents in a summer mailing. The calendar is available on the District's website at browndeerschools.com.

The Board has also approved the following school hours for students for the upcoming school year:

- Brown Deer Elementary School:
8:40 a.m.-3:50 p.m.
- Brown Deer Middle/High School:
8:00 a.m.-3:15 p.m.

Exciting Opportunities for Summer School

The Summer Learning Program offers classes in science, social studies, math, reading, music, art, theater, and physical education. This year's five-week-long program for elementary and middle school students will run June 24-July 25, on Monday-Thursday from 8:30-11:45 a.m. Due to the summer remodeling projects, summer school will be held at Dean School. Interested parents may sign up for the District's Summer Learning Program by contacting the school office or their child's teacher.

Milwaukee Concert Band Celebration Concert

The District is presenting a Celebration Concert on Saturday, May 11, at 7 p.m., in the Brown Deer High School Multicultural Arts Center. The Celebration Concert will include performances by the Milwaukee Concert Band, the Brown Deer High School Band, the Dean School African Drummers and High School artists. High school students will create impressionistic interpretive art during another musical piece.

The rehearsal and volunteer hours for this concert will benefit the School District's QZAB matching funds requirement. Director of Teaching and Learning Greg Schaffer, who is also the director of the Milwaukee Concert Band, arranged this event to provide a unique learning opportunity for our students to collaborate with this community organization. The Celebration Concert is a free event, and is open to the public.

Budget Listening Session Scheduled on Tuesday, April 30

In conjunction with the April 30 Transformation meeting, the District will be conducting a Budget Listening Session. The meeting will be held at Brown Deer Middle School from 6-8 p.m. The 2013-14 Preliminary Budget will be presented, and discussion will include planning for next year as we continue moving forward with the transformation process.

Summer Renovation Projects Continue

Major renovation work will begin June 24 and will continue through late August. During that time, Brown Deer Middle School and most of Brown Deer High School will not be accessible to the public. Dean School, the new high school addition and field house, and the Administrative Services Center will be open. Visit the School District website or call (414) 371-6750 for more information.

QZAB Projects for Spring

We are pleased to announce that the School District has met its QZAB match fundraising goal for the year, with more than $142,000 donated to date (our annual goal is $130,000).

The matching funds include monetary donations, materials and many volunteer hours for projects throughout the District. Thank you to everyone who has planted, baked treats for volunteers or donated to this wonderful project.

There still are plenty of QZAB opportunities, especially since the bulk of volunteer hours have been for outdoor projects throughout the campus. With the arrival of spring, it is time to start planning for another season of QZAB opportunities.

Sign Up for Brown Deer River Campus Cleanup

All residents are invited to participate in the Brown Deer Campus River Cleanup, on Saturday, April 20, from 9 a.m.-12 noon. This event is held in conjunction with Milwaukee Riverkeeper Spring River Cleanup.

Our campus contains tributaries of South Branch Creek which flow into the Milwaukee River and into Lake Michigan, our main source of drinking water. The purpose of this project is to clean up the area and to educate our students and families that keeping our watershed clean is important for our personal health and the health of our planet.

Volunteer hours that are a part of our referendum project count at $20 per hour towards repayment of our interest-free QZAB bonds. This cleanup project is an important step in the transformation of parts of our campus into an outdoor science classroom. Any volunteer age K4 and up is eligible to participate. An adult must accompany all children under 18.

Anyone interested in participating should meet at the bridge near the Middle School parking lot. The suggested attire for the event is waterproof boots and gloves. Questions may be directed to Jean Wells at (414-365-9619) or jeanwells5050@gmail.com.

Garden Plantings Begin This Spring

The first garden planting of the season is scheduled for Saturday, May 18, from 9 a.m.-12 noon. The planting is being organized by the Brown Deer Methodist Church, and the public is welcome to participate. We expect to be planting more prairie areas along the creek. Watch the School District website for more information.

Donate a Plant

You may not have time to volunteer, but you can still donate a plant (your donation is tax-deductible). A list of plants and their prices can be found on the District's QZAB website at bdsdqzab.wordpress.com/. Prices range from only $4.25 for a Russian Sage to $275 for a Shagbark Hickory Tree.

Premier Driver's Education for Teens

This teen program covers everything that any teen needs to get their driver's license, and goes above and beyond the state-required minimum to teach specific crash-avoidance skills. The course includes a 30-hour classroom program to prepare students to take the written test. Upon completion of the 30-hour classroom and written test (written test is taken in class), students are eligible to get their permits and start the behind-the-wheel and emergency skills portions of the program.

The Emergency Skills Course includes two 2-hour sessions teaching skills like emergency braking and skid control (students need a car for this portion) held on a private parking lot. The behind-the-wheel portion of the program includes state-approved private behind-the-wheel lessons (we provide free pick up and drop off). Students need to be at least 14 ½ to start and between 15 and 15 ½ is recommended. (Older students are also welcome.)
