7. Resource Brochure (see handout: Shoreview Brochure, “It’s Not Easy to Talk About Hoarding”) – The bulk of the meeting was spent on discussion of the resource brochure and how to make more resources available to the metro area first and then to outstate MN. Categories were discussed based on the current brochure created for City of Shoreview and the City of Minneapolis guide created by Brittani Schmidt. We divided research responsibilities among the present group who will report at the December 3 meeting. Those resources will be added to the existing brochure and we will discuss more categories and resources which can be added to the brochure. This guide will be a dynamic resource, provided online to cities and counties.
