

SECTION A: LINKING ACCOUNTS

COSL

As a Piper Jaffray account holder, you can use one client ID and password to view all of your householded accounts (those that are combined for statement viewing or mailings) online.

In addition, other Piper Jaffray account holders may agree to link their account(s) to your online client ID, so that you can also view or view/trade in their account(s) as necessary. Linked accounts are typically used by family members or advisors who are given the authority to monitor someone else's account(s) for them. Written permission is required.

To obtain linked-account access, please have the account holder(s) of the account(s) that will be linked to yours fill out the information below and sign where indicated. (For joint accounts, signatures are required from all account holders.)
