Union President George Dawson CMD delivers a speech at last year's Annual Meeting

Stage set for Blackpool 2015

This month's Annual Meeting will once again draw CIU members from all over the country to Blackpool, as the assembled delegates engage in debate as they help shape the future of the Union.

The National Executive Committee has tabled 10 notices of motion regarding changes to the Union's Constitution (the full agenda and list of motions is on page 15).

Blackpool 2015 encompasses several other events for Union members, not least the 24th Beer & Trades Exhibition which starts at 1pm on Friday, April 10, the day before the Annual Meeting.

The newly expanded show, to be staged in the Norbreck Castle Hotel's Norcalymphia suite, will give Union members the chance to network with other clubs as well as with the Union's National Accounts and club suppliers.

The full list of exhibitors is: AON, Aventure, Blackpool AV, BOC, Booker Wholesale, CAMRA, Carlsberg UK, Chemisphere, Club Control, Club Journal, Co-op Bank, Dransfields, Dunlop Heywood, Heineken UK, Redtooth, Sky Sports and Smart Energy Projects.

There will be some famous faces on the Sky Sports stand with former professional darts players Wayne Mardle and Peter Manley inviting club members to come up on stage and throw three darts against them. Anyone who beats either of them will win themselves a bottle of champagne!

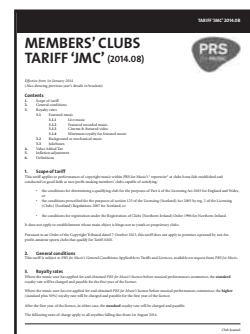

The weekend's activities will conclude with the Dransfields CIU National Quiz Final taking place at 1pm on Saturday, April 11, in the Norbreck Castle Hotel's Boston Suite.

"A huge amount of effort has been put into ensuring Union members have a really worthwhile experience at Blackpool 2015," said Union President George Dawson CMD.

"The Beer & Trades Exhibition, Annual Meeting and Dransfields CIU National Quiz are all part of a key weekend for the Union."

PRS Tariff sent out with Club Journal

In order to help clubs ensure that they are paying the correct fees to the Performing Right Society (PRS) for the use of music, the full tariff for non-profit-making members' clubs has been included as a supplement in copies of this month's Club Journal.

The PRS Tariff is also available to download from the official CIU website:

EDITOR'S LETTER

Welcome to the April edition of Club Journal as clubs the length and breadth of the country prepare to come together under one roof for this month's Annual Meeting in Blackpool on Saturday, April 11.

Conference time is always special and the advance indications are that there will be a significant increase in numbers attending the Annual Meeting and related events we have planned this year at our new venue, the Norbreck Castle Hotel.

The 24th Beer & Trades Exhibition, taking place on Friday, April 10 in the Norcalympia, certainly looks set to be a big draw for CIU members, offering as it does a unique trade show that is specifically tailored to the needs of our clubs.

With a host of the Union's National Accounts and club suppliers exhibiting, I hope that attendees leave the show positively brimful of business-boosting ideas that they can take back to their clubs and put in action.

And, of course, alongside the networking and business opportunities there will also be the chance to take part in some fun activities, including getting on the oche to test your darts skills against two former professional players in the form of Peter 'One Dart' Manley and Wayne 'Hawaii 501' Mardle. I'm told that both players are expecting some major challenges from CIU members!

To round off the weekend, the Dransfields CIU National Quiz Final will be staged in the Boston Suite of the Norbreck Castle Hotel on Saturday, April 11 immediately following the Conference.

With the victorious team winning £500 for their clubs, plus several other prizes available to the competing teams, I'm certain the event will be as competitive and entertaining as ever – even for spectators!

You'll see the full Conference Agenda on page 15 and I hope to meet as many of you as possible on the Club Journal stand at the Beer & Trades Exhibition on the Friday.

To come back to this month's magazine, our latest 'Club of the Month' on pages 12-13 features Old Woking & District Recreational Club in the South East Met Branch.

We have also included a Performing Right Society (PRS) Tariff supplement with issues of Club Journal this month.

And don't forget that the CIU Racing Club continues to grow in the number of fixtures and racecourses offering discounted tickets to Union members. A sample of the racedays available are listed on page 23.

Enjoy this edition!

OBITUARIES

Barry Smith

The South East Midlands Branch regrets to announce the passing of one of its long-serving members, Barry Smith.

Barry served on the Executive for 18 years. A man of few words, but those said were always wise and welcome, he was totally committed to his Club (Kettering Argyll) as Secretary/Treasurer, as well as to the Branch.

Just a fortnight ahead of his end, he was taking subs at his Club whilst in unimaginable pain.

Our thoughts go to his wife Gill, his family and friends. He will be greatly missed.

Bob Savage

Bob Savage was a well-known character around the Working Men's Clubs in Burnley and Pendle, particularly the Nelson Old Brass Band Club and the Nelson Carters' & Motormen's WMC.

Bob served on the Burnley & Pendle CIU Branch Committee from 1974 to 1983 and then again from September 1997 to November 2013.

Branch Secretary Michael Woodvine CMD said: "I had the pleasure of working with Bob from June 2011 to his last meeting in November 2013 and found him a very knowledgeable and experienced Clubman. His experiences in clubland proved invaluable at the meetings he attended.

"Towards the end of his Branch Executive Committee service I used to collect him for the meetings and take him home after which led to interesting chat about his younger days and travels.

"Bob will not be forgotten as long as there is a Burnley & Pendle Branch of the CIU."

TRADE NEWSHeineken UK set to roll out Strongbow Cloudy Apple

Heineken UK is releasing a new premium cloudy apple variant of its Strongbow cider brand. The 4.5% ABV cider is made using Herefordshire apples and will be rolled out in May.

Heineken's on-trade Managing Director Lawson Mountstevens said: "You only have to look at Strongbow dark fruit, which has added thousands of new consumers and millions of pounds to the category, to see the huge potential for our new premium addition.

"It has already proved to be one of the top draught concepts we have ever tested with consumers, highlighting the refreshing change from normal cider."

Diageo introduces Guinness Golden Ale to its portfolio

Diageo is adding a Golden Ale to its Guinness range. The new beer has an ABV of 4.5% and is brewed using the same yeast and Irish barley hops as traditional Guinness stout, but with the addition of an amber malt which lends its distinctive colour to the ale.

Nick Curtis-Davis, Head of Innovation at Guinness, said: "Guinness Golden Ale gives beer lovers the chance to try something new from a much-loved brand; a flavourful golden ale with all the character and quality that Guinness is famous for."

Redesign for Greene King IPA

Greene King has refreshed the branding of its flagship beer IPA with a brand-new font featuring angled, copper-coloured letters on a wood-effect background.

Chris Houlton, Managing Director, Brewing and Brands at Greene King, said: "Creating a new brand identity has been a team effort. It is an outstanding piece of design and one that I believe will stand the brand in good stead as the British beer market continues to flourish."

UNION PRESIDENT HELPS GARFORTH WMC CELEBRATE ITS CENTENARY

Stephen marks 40 years of service

Ken Green CMD, Union General Secretary and South Yorkshire Branch Secretary, recently visited Staincross Working Men's Club in Barnsley to present a Distinguished Service Award to committee member Stephen May.

Stephen has completed 40 years of service to his club and the milestone was marked with the special presentation at the club, which is renowned throughout South Yorkshire for its thriving live entertainment offering.

Forest Hall WSC stages spectacular fundraiser

Forest Hall Workmen's Social Club in Newcastle-upon-Tyne held a spectacular fundraiser in aid of a local youth football team in February with over 320 members packing into the club's concert hall to enjoy music from the Royal Fusiliers Marching Band and the Lorraine Crosby Band.

Club Steward Claire Pattie said: "It was a brilliant club night and our Concert Room was totally full with members enjoying a pretty diverse musical offering.

"We raised over £800 for Forest Hall Young People's Football Club – which the social club has strong links to – as well as doing a separate collection in aid of fallen Fusiliers which raised £310.

"The club would also like to thank Heineken for their support for the event which saw them donate a keg of John Smith's for the night."

24TH BEER & TRADES EXHIBITION

This year's Beer & Trades Exhibition in Blackpool will give CIU members the chance to meet key suppliers, as well as network with clubs from all over the country during this unique event

Taking place on April 10, the day before the 2015 Annual Meeting, the 24th Beer & Trades Exhibition provides a great opportunity for club delegates to attend a free trade show which is specifically targeted at the needs of clubs.

With the change to a bigger venue – the Norbreck Castle Hotel's Norcalympia room – the organisers have been able to plan a bigger, better event with an expanded programme of activities laid on by the exhibitors as they aim to show clubs how they can help raise revenues and save money on running costs.

Representatives from many of the Union's Preferred Suppliers will be on hand to answer any questions that delegates may have about their products and services, as well as give business-boosting advice, making this a valuable occasion for club officials.

So, whether it's information on boosting bar profits, the latest cellar management and bar technology, having a go on the latest gaming machines, trying new products, getting financial and insurance advice, discussing ways of cutting your energy expenditure, or even just having a chat with the Club Journal editorial team or a catch-up with friends and colleagues over a drink, there will be something of interest for everyone at the Exhibition.

Preferred Supplier Dransfields will be showcasing their latest machines and products

Old Woking & District Recreational Club carried out a major interior refurbishment in 2013

ALL MOD CONS FOR OLD WOKING

The recently refurbished Old Woking & District Recreational Club is one of the jewels in the crown of the South East Met Branch with superb facilities, a welcoming atmosphere and a family-friendly ethos

When a club counts musical legend Paul ‘The Modfather’ Weller amongst its membership, you expect a certain level of sophistication and style about the place – and Old Woking & District Recreational Club certainly doesn’t disappoint.

Walk through the front door into the Members’ Bar and you’re greeted with a very smart, contemporary – yet comfortable – design, the club having benefited from a full refurbishment carried out by Thames Contracts at the tail-end of 2013.

Club Secretary Johnnie Barker explains: “We used to have a full-length bowls green at the side of the club but decided to sell off a portion of that for housing in order to fund a refurb.

“It obviously took a lot of hard work on the part of the committee to get the planning permission and see the plan come to fruition, but it has been a real success with the members absolutely delighted with the facilities they can now enjoy.

“We’ve continued to keep the bar prices down as low as possible – Foster’s lager is £2.50 a pint, Guinness is £2.70 and a Jack Daniels & Coke is £2.10, to give a few examples.”

A large screen TV for showing the latest live events on BT Sport and Sky Sports enjoys a prime position in the centre of the bar, while just off it is a separate games area featuring two pool tables and a dartboard.

“The refurbishment has been a real success with the members delighted with the great facilities we now enjoy”

“It’s great to have this separate games area as the darts and pool teams are a flourishing part of the club,” says Johnnie.

“Live sport is also a very important part of the mix, particularly the Barclays Premier League matches on a Sunday which always draw a good crowd.”

At the opposite end of the bar is another separate area containing a splendid full-size vintage snooker table.

Meanwhile, upstairs, is the equally impressive main Function Room – also transformed in 2013 – which can accommodate up to 150 guests and features its own fully stocked bar, disabled access via a lift, a dual level recessed ceiling with LED perimeter lighting plus a raised stage.

“It’s a tremendous space for any sort of function – wedding reception, birthday party, etc – and the demand is high with private functions on here most Saturday nights,” says Johnnie.

“We also hold plenty of our own events in here, including regular darts tournaments and it’s ideal for that because there’s space for four boards at a time with overhead spot lighting above each one and a stage for handing out the trophy at the end.”

At the moment the club has four bar staff, headed up by Bar Manager Nathan Buckley, but there are imminent plans to recruit two more staff to the roster to keep up with the demands of both the Members' Bar and the Function Room.

Even with a portion of its land disposed of, the club remains blessed with plenty of outside space with a sizeable car park at the front of the premises plus the remaining portion of the former bowls green transformed into a garden which is particularly popular with families during the warmer months.

"We get a really good mix of ages in here and position ourselves as a really family-friendly club. Out of our 355 members, around 100 of them are women so we have a good gender mix too.

"We're holding a Family Fun Day in May with a bouncy castle, live music and barbecue in the garden and that should be a great event."

Another memorable and significant occasion took place in December 2014 as the club held a celebration to mark the 100th birthday of one of their life members, Ernie 'Nippy' Munn.

The Mayor of Woking unveiled a plaque at the club to announce Ernie as the first Old Woking Rec member to reach the age of 100, while delegates from the Naval Association mingled with many of Ernie's friends and family to pay tribute to the former Royal Navy man who survived being sunk twice while serving as a submariner in the early stages of World War 2 and subsequently spent four years in a Japanese prisoner of war camp.

"It was a very special event for a very remarkable man who served his country with distinction," says Johnny.

Another notable recent event saw 25 members of the club raising funds for Macmillan Cancer Support by completing the arduous challenge of completing a one-mile charity walk. The twist is that they completed the challenge while wearing women's high heeled shoes.

The club recently celebrated the 100th birthday of World War 2 hero Ernie Munn, a Life Member.

"It got very competitive," says Johnny, who was one of the club members to rise to the challenge. "So much so that we all ended up not just wearing high heels but dressed in full drag as we walked the mile collecting money in buckets as we went.

"The ladies who organised the event even handed out a prize for the best costume. It was great fun and most importantly raised over £1,400 for Macmillan."

Despite the relatively recent refurbishment, the club's committee continues to look at ways of improving the club.

"We've recently installed a fob entry system and the members absolutely love it. They say it's now like going into their second living room with all their friends here," says Johnny.

"It took a bit of time to set up – club Vice-President Graham Taylor and I spent a few hours programming each individual fob for all 355 members – but having the fob system just gives you that extra level of security of knowing that only your members and their guests can enter.

"And subject to getting the finances in place, we also want to upgrade the kitchen facilities upstairs and add some children's play equipment to the garden."

And what about their celebrity member, the founder of The Jam and The Style Council? "Paul Weller is a local boy and one of his best mates is a member here so he was only too pleased to join," says Johnny.

"We're aiming to get a signed photo of him up on the wall soon as not every club is lucky enough to have a genuine legend as a fully fledged member.

"All in all, we have a good mix of ages at the club with plenty of young people coming through to enjoy the great facilities and low bar prices.

"We're very lucky to have a very dedicated and hard-working committee who have put the club in a great position."

Sky Sports invites delegates to take on top darts professionals

Sky Sports will be giving visitors to the Beer & Trades Exhibition the chance to test their darts skills against Peter 'One Dart' Manley and Wayne 'Hawaii 501' Mardle

Sky Sports is among the exhibitors at the 24th Beer & Trades Exhibition taking place in Blackpool on April 10 and is offering delegates the opportunity to play against two former pros turned Sky Sports darts pundits Wayne 'Hawaii 501' Mardle (pictured, right) and Peter 'One Dart' Manley.

The pair will be taking on Union all-comers on the oche under the expert eye of Sky Sports darts commentator Paul Wilson.

The two former players need little introduction as far as darts fans are concerned, having enjoyed glittering careers with both the Professional Darts Corporation (PDC) and British Darts Organisation (BDO).

Mardle rose up through the ranks of the British Darts Organisation before joining the PDC in 2002 and reached the semi-finals of the PDC World Championship on four occasions.

Manley also enjoyed huge success with the BDO and PDC and was runner-up in the PDC World Championship no less than three times – in 1999, 2002 and 2006.

- The Sky Sports stand will be open throughout the duration of the 24th Beer & Trades Exhibition in the Norcalympia from 1-5pm on Friday, April 10.

UNION PRESIDENT WELCOMES CHANCELLOR'S BEER DUTY CUT

The recent announcement by Chancellor George Osborne that he is cutting the price of beer duty by 1p alongside the dual 2% cuts to cider duty and spirits duty has been warmly welcomed by Union President George Dawson CMD.

"This third successive cut in Beer Duty is great news for our clubs as is the reduction of duty on cider and spirits," he said.

"We as a Union have added our considerable weight to the successful campaign to persuade the Chancellor to deliver these successive much-needed cuts over the past three years and scrap the beer escalator which had caused many clubs to struggle.

"This is a major boost for clubs and the Union will continue to make its voice heard at the highest levels of Government on this and other issues that affect our clubs."

ANY QUESTIONS?

Club Journal's panel of experts is ready to answer any of your queries regarding running your club

Q Employment law and health and safety are complicated subjects and I struggle to get my head around employment issues. Can you give me some pointers?

We asked employment law and health and safety specialist Avensure to give an overview of problems which could potentially crop up in CIU clubs:

Running a club is hard work. It requires a hands-on approach and there is never enough time in the day. You have to thrive under pressure, think quickly and constantly search for new ways to keep your members happy.

Understandably, club officials are often too busy to keep up with constantly changing rules and regulations, not to mention keeping up with employee demands.

Yet they must ensure that they are managing their workforce effectively in order to ensure that their members are enjoying first class service whenever they come into the club.

So how can Avensure help?

We are here to help you manage your HR, legal and health and safety obligations. We will provide you with a skilled and friendly team, including senior HR advisors, barrister-trained experts and Health & Safety specialists.

Your team will help create employment contracts and staff handbooks bespoke to your club. They will also offer you face-to-face visits, as well as unlimited telephone and email support, 24/7.

On top of this, all our advice is insurance-backed, meaning we will cover your costs should you ever find yourself in a tribunal court.

Key issues for clubs

In terms of club-specific employment headaches, the following issues are likely to be of major interest to your club:

Contracts and handbooks:

Many clubs allow for flexible and unregulated employment conditions and lack clear policies and procedures for employees to follow.

Not only does this make it difficult for you to manage employee behaviour and expectations, it also puts you in a potentially hazardous situation should you ever need to justify your actions at a disciplinary hearing or when dismissing staff.

Flexible hours:

Your staff work flexible hours, sometimes at short notice. You rely on trust to ensure this arrangement works.

Yet it is not foolproof and staff often let you down by missing shifts or being absent from work, sometimes for long periods. Rather than letting this problem persist, you should think about how you can implement a secure shift-based system in your club without losing any more members of staff.

Theft:

Imagine you've caught your employees stealing from you on a number of occasions. Unfortunately this is not uncommon in the hospitality industry and you should really consider a more regulated code of conduct, including a set disciplinary procedure.

If your club requires help on any aspect of employment law or health and safety, please get in contact with Avensure on 0330 100 8706 or visit us at the Beer & Trades Exhibition on April 10.

Informative articles which affect our life

by Dione Mobley

A GOOD REASON TO VOTE

Our freedoms and the right to vote should never be trivialised or taken for granted.

When you register to take part in this process, you will be showing your own solidarity with those who in the past have given their life for this freedom. Proving the public right to vote is still an important and essential part of our British way of life here in the United Kingdom.

In South Africa, it was not until the end of Apartheid Rule in 1994 before the black African people themselves were free to have a voice and cast votes for the first time. Sadly even today there are still many people all over the world who live within a dictatorship regime, denied their basic civil rights and have virtually no say in how their country or governments are run.

Here in the Western part of the world civilization, we all tend to forget it is not less than 100 years ago in England people were killed during the Suffragette's struggles to get the vote for woman. Even today in Saudi Arabia this will only be the First Year a woman can legally vote in this male dominated country after the King gave his permission to change the law.

Our General Election will be officially held on Thursday May 7th 2015 however, the electoral system has changed so while you may think you are already registered, there is no guarantee your name is still on the list.

Make sure you are still registered, because the old data system has been replaced. Anyone who is 18 or over on polling day and who is a British Citizen must apply to the Electoral Registration office in the district where they live or have a residence.

The general election is very important. As a nation we have all faced austerity in some form or another due to the harsh economic times over the last few years. There also remain big decisions and world issues to be faced by our government leaders regarding Britain's relationship within the European Union and the safety of our country in an increasingly volatile world of uncertainty.

It is extremely important to remember every vote counts. Our next ruling party to be elected to the Houses of Parliament will be decided by the general public who have turned out to support the party of their choice.

Everything from our Roads, Recycling, the NHS, Employment, Education, Immigration, Climate Change and much more, can be issues you may feel strongly about. To be heard remember your 'Vote' is important and should reflect a statement of your own thoughts and principles.
