

Pan American Airways Route 2.
The New York to Lisbon service in May 1942.

The flights from New York to Lisbon via Bermuda and Horta, returning by the southern flight path via Bolama, Brazil and the West Indies designated as Route 4 in January 1942 came to an end in May 1942 with flight 4523/4524, because weather conditions allowed resumption of the direct East-West path from Lisbon to Horta and Bermuda. Pan American designated this "straight across" path as Route 2, with the first flight carrying on the sequence from (4)524 as (2)525/ (2)526. However, because of the establishing of the "LATI substitute" routes 7 and 8, flying both clockwise and anti-clockwise paths around the Atlantic, any mail to and from Lisbon could be carried on these services and Route 2 was therefore terminated with the next flight 2527/2528. These two flights were the only ones actually flown on Route 2.

2526 left Lisbon on the 8th of May, arriving back in New York on the 10th.

2527 left New York on the 13th of May 1942, arriving in Lisbon on the 14th.

The Route 7 anti-clockwise flights began with 7001 leaving New York on the 8th of May 1942, and Route 8 clockwise began with 8001 leaving New York on the 11th of May 1942. See Routes 7 and 8.
