PROBATION REPORT GENERATOR

GENERAL OVERVIEW

The Probation Report Generator allows Circuit users to access various unique collections of data in a report form to assist with requests made by organizations including the State Court Administrative Office. This will aid in the ability of the courts to answer statistical analysis and questionnaires.

HOW THE GENERATOR WORKS

To use the Report Generator, decide what criteria is desired for the report being requested. Criteria can be set up in three different ways. These ways can be used together to create more flexible reporting. 1) "S" = SELECT, 2) "P" = PRINT, 3) "1-9" = SORT SEQUENCE.

If a field needs to be considered by the report but not printed, then select the "S" option. Selecting a field simply tells the generator that the data in this field is important for weeding unwanted cases from the report.

If a field also needs to show on the report, then select the "P" option to print it. Printing tells the generator that the data in this field not only weeds out unwanted cases, but also contains information that the user needs to see.

If it is desirable to have items on the report print out in a particular order, then the use of a number from 1 - 9 is required to place each item in that order.

The criteria can be mixed and matched for each field uniquely (see Report Generation Menu section). The generator interprets all criteria as entered and produces a report (see Using the Report Generator).

PROBATION REPORT GENERATOR

Accessing the Screen

The Report Generation Menu (Figure 170) appears when you select the REPORT GENERATOR MENU by pressing F7 from the Circuit Probation Report Menu (Page 2). This menu lists all fields available for use as criteria for any report requested, and their associated criteria specification fields.

CIRCUIT PROBATION CASE REVIEW

Overview

The Probation Case Review List (Figures 174 - 174b) is used to help probation agents manage probationer follow-up and scheduling. Probationers on this list may require action by the agent of record. Categories listed are "No Next Action", "No Show", and "Review Requested" (tickler).

When this report is executed, the program also removes calendar entries that have now passed. This keeps the calendar file cleaned-up.

Printing the Report

Select the Probation Case Review by pressing [F10] from the Circuit Probation Report Menu (Page 2). Enter the date the system should use for calculating the calendar purge date. The calendar file will be purged for cases that had past activity more than 30 days prior to the specified date. If no date is entered, the current date is used. Run the report for just one agent by keying the agent number, also.

Report Information

The heading of the Probation Case Review identifies the name and address of the Probation Department, and the date the report was run. This report is organized by Agent#.

The Probation Case Review includes the categories below with their respective criteria:

PROBATION WORKLOAD AUDIT REPORT

The Probation Workload Audit Report (Figure 178) can be used to prepare the Michigan Department of Correction's required Workload Report. The Workload Audit report lists supervision activity for a selected to/from date. The report can be selected for all agents or 1 agent. The report is based on Probation Event entries using event action codes (see Probation code table 1, Appendix P) used with the supervision class codes (Probation code table 2, Appendix P) and supervision level codes (Probation code table 3, Appendix P). These entries track movement of supervision for a probationer throughout his/her probation period. The report lists these events sorted by agent, supervision class, and probationer name. Supervision class totals, agent totals, and final totals are printed.

Requesting the Report

Probation Workload Audit Report screen (Figure 177) may be accessed by pressing [F12] from the Probation Report Menu or the Next Transaction Line of another Probation Case Management screen, using the procedures described in Figure 159.
