Effective Data Use for Pupil Progress

Ensure all school staff engage meaningfully with data to set accurate targets & consistently drive pupil progress

With the recent removal of levels, setting accurate targets and meaningfully monitoring pupil progress has never been more challenging. In light of these significant changes, do you know how to continue to track progress consistently and set targets accurately? Are you confident that your colleagues are engaging effectively with data to identify areas for improvement, implement interventions and drive pupil progress?

Optimus Education's Effective Data Use for Pupil Progress conference is your unique opportunity to gain the latest expert advice to ensure staff use data in a meaningful way to identify underachievement, inform interventions and drive pupil progress.

Hear the latest update on the timescales for change to school data, including the impact of the removal of national levels. Ensure you know what is expected of your school data now and over the coming year. Plus, take away an in-depth insight into Ofsted's latest expectations from data in your school, to ensure you know how to prepare effectively for inspection. The Government has now removed levels, leaving secondary schools with the difficult task of finding new ways to track progress. Jason Tudor, Deputy Headteacher, Archway School will share his successful framework for tracking progress effectively at KS3 in the absence of national levels.

Gain the practical solutions you need at this event, including:

- Practical tips for training colleagues to make effective use of data, spot areas for improvement and implement timely interventions
- How to tell your data story at inspection and demonstrate outstanding pupil progress to Ofsted
- Make data accessible with top tips on how to format and present data in a user-friendly manner to ensure clarity
- Set accurate targets with limited KS2 baseline data through effective use of transition matrices

Plus, don't fall prey to data misuse! As part of our data surgery, experienced practitioners will outline the pitfalls to avoid in order to ensure effective ensure effective data use. Plus they will deal with your specific data-related issues.

After the event, you will be given access to download speakers' presentations after the conference to lead whole-school training in your organisation. Please take a moment to look through the programme on the opposite page and use the booking form on the back to secure your place, or register online using the link below.
