August 30, 2010

Dear Sirs/Madam,

You are cordially invited to participate in the Global Peace Leadership Conference being convened as part of the Global Peace Festival Asia Pacific 2010 on October 16th-18th 2010 at the Gran Meliá Jakarta Hotel in Jakarta, Indonesia. This unique interfaith summit is bringing together leading voices from around the world, including faith leaders, cutting-edge social entrepreneurs, and government, business, and NGO representatives to discuss the theme "One Family Under God: New Interfaith Paradigm for the 21st Century."

Globalization and significant cultural, ethnic, and religious differences on every continent make it imperative to seek successful models of social cohesion. While some consider religions to be divisive, there is growing recognition that faith traditions can play a central role in reconciling differences and building consensus around shared values.

This Global Peace Leadership Conference (GPLC) will consider an innovative perspective on interfaith partnerships that can greatly enhance multi-religious action on issues of common concern. Building upon ongoing efforts by various stakeholders to promote interfaith cooperation, this Summit is being organized in partnership by Nahdlatul Ulama and the Global Peace Festival Foundation, with the support of the Indonesian Conference for Religion and Peace.

Jakarta is a fitting site for this timely conference. Indonesia, the most populous predominantly Muslim nation in the world, is increasingly seen as a model as it makes significant advances toward fulfilling its national motto of "unity in diversity." The GPLC Interfaith Summit will examine ways to motivate multi-faith collaborative action in addressing fundamental challenges that affect us all. We invite your participation in this meaningful discussion, which with other distinguished leaders will certainly contribute to significant outcomes of this Summit.

The Global Peace Festivals, launched only 3 years ago, have drawn millions of people from different faiths and backgrounds to celebrate peace. While the Global Peace Festivals have been inspiring celebrations of cooperation and understanding, more importantly, they have initiated ongoing education, peace-building and service initiatives in regions facing serious challenges.

Thank you for your leadership in our common effort to build a global culture of peace and service. To confirm your attendance or for additional information, please contact Ms. Fennieka at asia@globalpeacefestival.org. We are looking forward to seeing you on October 16.

Sincerely,

Dr. Hyun Jin Moon
Chairman
Global Peace Festival Foundation

Prof. Dr. KH. Said Agiel Siradj
Organizing Chairperson

Challenges raised by immediate and personal experiences of significant cultural, ethnic and religious differences make it imperative to clarify the principles and values that can form the basis of social cohesion. One Family Under God anchors a new interfaith paradigm that speaks to the essence of our common identity – that all people are spiritual beings who share a common origin. This approach has significant implications for addressing the roots of identity-based conflict as well as tapping the creative energy and drive of vibrant interfaith partnerships.

10.30 AM	Session II: “Universal Principles at the Basis of National Cohesion” Most nations today are comprised of populations that are radically, ethnically, and religiously diverse. What can be the basis for forging societal cohesion and national identity in a pluralistic society? This session will examine the focus on essential principles as the basis for “unity in diversity”. Two cases studies will be considered – USA with its focus on “self-evident truths” and its motto of “e pluribus unum” (out of many, one); and Indonesia, which has pursued a national motto of “unity in diversity” while basing its national philosophy on Pancasila, five principles intended to serve as the basis of cohesion in a diverse nation.
