Marilyn Wine from Quilt 4 U

You all are so amazing! We need a Brag Board! Our members are impacting our community, the state, the world, outer space or cyber space or some place. Rebecca is teaching a class for continuing education at the career center. One of Jean's quilts was exhibited in the Bingham Gallery at the MU Fine Arts building. Velma gave a program for the Rolla guild. Dawn has written not one but two books this year. Bettina crossed the pond again to lecture. Marilyn R. S. has a great blog which in turn has a link to Dawn's blog. Let me know what you've been doing so I can brag on you, too. (Whew! I do well just to get to the meetings.)

I heard many good comments about Connie Gresham's program. It was interesting to see the same pattern made in different styles of fabric. What a difference! Connie arranged for our Oct. 1 program with Marilyn Wine.

Quilt 4 U, owned by Marilyn Wine, opened its doors on June 30th. Marilyn will be attending our Oct. 1 meeting with a True-Cut products, transporting your a new kit being shown at the Quilt Market in Kansas be attending our Oct. 1 showing of quilts, the the Tutto luggage for sewing machines, and shown at the Quilt City.

Marilyn has followed in her sister's footsteps and is a supporter of Missouri Girl's Town. Their 59th Annual Open House is scheduled for Saturday, October 6th. This year Q4U is sponsoring a quilt parade (seating provided with the quilts paraded thru the room) showing a few quilts from the store with the main focus on Quilts made by Bernice Oliver (mother of Marilyn and Pam Oliver). A campus tour of the girls' homes will be available that morning upon request. The parade begins at 10:30 a.m. There is no charge but any donations are given to the Missouri Girl's Town facility.

Two items from the Big Board:

1. Don't park on the grass! Come on Oct. 1 and I'll tell you a funny story about someone who did park on the grass. Another board member has volunteered to ticket cars parked on the grass.
2. Read the newsletter! Someone suggested that I should give a test on the newsletter articles.

Be sure to go to the Marshall quilt show Sept. 29-30.

See you all at Day Chapter October 1.

Nellie Mueller with Unique Patterns

Years of quilting success will be shared with us at the October Starlight meeting with Nellie Mueller. She has been teaching at guilds and quilts shops in the Midwest since 1988. Over the years she has honed her techniques and skills involving the use of the rotary cutter and machine piecing. Nellie's newest foray into quilting and pattern making involves purse making. She will share tips on how to piece together a handsome purse you will have time to make for a special family member or friend this upcoming holiday season.

Sewing Basket is business. She has several patterns she Nellie's home-based also published several will share with us.

Nellie enjoys appearing as Grandma Ima Quilter as she shares the humorous side of quilt making. We all need a bit of humor in those moments when we scratch our head and say, 'I can't believe I selected this quilt pattern with these unusual and complicated designed fabrics!'

The Missouri State Quilters Guild, the Quilt Club of St. Clair, and the Bits 'n' Pieces Guild in Ballwin provide a rich opportunity for her to experience the members' latest creations and up to date quilting methods.

Nellie and her husband have three adult children and two extra special grandchildren.

This will be a special event for each of us and we will get to laugh at ourselves as we hear about all the wonderful misadventures we share as we quilt.

Judi

Information and ideas needed: A future program will deal with the issue that almost all quilters face —room to store all our fabric, projects and sewing supplies. Do you have a dedicated room for sewing or do you sew out of a closet? Tell me how you find a way to handle this issue. Better yet, take a picture and send it to me at jikirk@yahoo.com, 3532 N. Creasy Springs Road Columbia, MO 65202 or bring it to a meeting. Deadline is the November 2012 meeting.

Thanks, Judi Kirkpatrick

September Starlight Piecemakers Block Exchange Winner—Robin Heider

I won the Starlight Block Exchange this month. I feel like I was in the newsletter not too long ago as I won in the day chapter less than a year ago. I will be busy looking through old magazines and books to get an idea for this block. I am reading the new book about the Civil War from our library, Homefront and Battlefield, so it will likely have something to do with the Civil War era. The Block Exchange committee will keep me on my toes to select a pattern and fabric to share with you for my second in a year exchange block.

Starlight Piecemakers News

I was pleased to see September's evening chapter meeting was well attended. This is the chapter that might not have existed by now. Many people enjoy and benefit from the chapter; a few people have volunteered their time to keep it going.

Everyone needs to work together, to attend meetings, and help when possible. We can read and watch Youtube to learn methods of quilting but only by participating in a guild do you experience friendship, personal advice and an exchange of ideas.

Many wonderful programs are planned for the coming year. We hope to see everyone enjoying the chapter meetings. Feel free to attend our board meetings, make suggestions, volunteer, or do what makes you feel part of the chapter.

Boo! Kula

Candy Hargrove shared her intricate quilt designs and quilts at the September Starlight Piecemakers meeting.

Jackie Berry and Patti Cantu Artlandish Booth

Jackie and Patti are selling dyed scarves, their photography, books, tiled frames and art quilts at Artlandish located at 1019 E. Walnut in Columbia. They would enjoy sharing with you their latest accomplishments.

For more information contact Jackie at jackie@jackiequilts.com

The October Starlight Piecemakers Chapter will host a reception following our program. Everyone enjoys sharing good treats and pleasant friendships. Please plan to enjoy both at the October meeting.
