WHAT THIS IS ABOUT

TDOT requires all local governments complete a half-day workshop on the Local Government Guidelines and a half-day workshop on Right-of-Way procedures every three years to be eligible for any federally and state funded transportation project. The workshop is divided into two sessions.

Session I: The Local Government Guidelines workshop will provide a detailed overview of the process required to manage federally and state funded transportation projects. Failure to follow procedures included in this workshop can jeopardize the receipt of federally and state funding for your eligible transportation projects.

Session II: The Right-of-Way workshop will address the activities involved with but is not limited to land acquisition, relocation assistance, and utility relocations. The Right-of-Way process is quite specific and detailed. Deviations from the process can easily jeopardize funding for all phases of project development. Attendance in this workshop is mandatory for individual(s) who will oversee and approve the right-of-way process and/or the utility process. Local agencies that have not completed this class will not be allowed to oversee federal and state funded projects that require land acquisition, relocation assistance or utility relocation.

INSTRUCTORS

The instructors for this workshop will be personnel from the various departments within the Tennessee Department of Transportation (TDOT).
