The Northern Kentucky School of Music of Immanuel is committed to providing a "safe sanctuary" for children and persons of all ages to experience music education. We have established policies that provide this environment. We commit to compliance on our part and expect it from those who entrust their children to us.

Below you will be asked to confirm you have read these policies and that you will do your part in compliance.

Northern Kentucky School of Music of Immanuel Specifics

- All students under the age of 18 years must be accompanied by an adult (other than the instructor) over the age of 18, who will remain in the immediate vicinity with a visual contact of the student and instructor during the private lesson.
- All classes and lessons will be taught in rooms with windows or doors. Since the Chapel door does not have a window the door is to remain open during lessons.
- All School of Music instructors will have yearly background checks and will comply with the guidelines for "Screening and Hiring of Paid Staff" as specified in our policy. If you would like to have a full copy of our policy please contact Toni Sheffer at tsheffer@immanuelumc.org.
