

Many couples plan for their wedding, but isn't it time that you plan for your marriage? Marriage is a difficult relationship, and it can also be the most rewarding. Every new couple wants their marriage to be a long and fulfilling relationship. "Growing Toward Marriage" is designed for newlywed couples, engaged couples, or couples looking at the possibility of marriage. Preparing for marriage can help a couple have the quality relationship they desire for a lifetime. The areas of marriage to be addressed are: Communication in marriage, your family of origin, problem solving, love languages, sexuality, and relationship building. The primary materials used are from PREP, Inc. and PREPARE/ENRICH. These materials are based on many years of research and relationship education.
