▶ Just a Note to Say...

February is moving quickly along. This week the students read Beyond Yonder Mountain: A Cherokee Legend and worked on subject/verb agreement. The children also continued the geometry unit in math, and they completed another science unit. The science test will take place later next week.

Please check your child's Home Links nightly!

There has been a decline in scores the past few weeks. Remember, Home Links are an opportunity for your child to review the skills covered in class and get immediate feedback from you. Please sign the planner and check over your child's homework nightly. Thanks for your support!
