

CNGA Field Day at Hedgerow Farms

21905 County Road 88, Winters, CA 95694

Friday, April 17th, 2009 | 8 a.m.–4:30 p.m.

This is an exciting opportunity for practical, hands-on learning about native grasses and grassland restoration. The event is set at Hedgerow Farms, a renowned Northern California native grassland seed production farm and home of numerous restoration sites. This full-day event will feature:

- Field identification of dozens of native grassland species and an overview of their characteristics and applications;
- Tours of restoration sites, including grasslands, roadsides, hedgerows, orchards, canal banks, tailwater ponds, wetlands, and riparian forests;
- Field presentations of several grassland experimental trials and academic studies;
- Field presentation on soils and site preparation;
- Field demonstrations of grassland establishment and management tools and techniques;
- An overview of the seed production process.

DPR and SRM continuing education credits have been requested and are pending approval.

Sponsored by the California Native Grasslands Association. Hedgerow Farms is generously co-sponsoring this event, providing the venue and box lunches from Cody's Deli in Winters for all attendees. Continental breakfast also included.

Instructors will include John Anderson, Hedgerow Farms staff, and CNGA instructors TBA

Registration fees: Students: $30; CNGA members: $40; Nonmembers: $50.
