✓ Course Overview/Educational Methods

As many as 1 out of every 10 patients in primary care and gyn practices experience chronic pelvic pain. Understanding the approach to the diagnosis and care for these women is important. Stressing the multi-disciplinary approach should decrease the numbers of unnecessary referrals and overall number of patient visits.

This course will examine the scope of the problem, from epidemiology and physiology to psychological and anatomical considerations. Common culprits will be discussed, including endometriosis, interstitial cystitis, irritable bowel syndrome, vulvodynia and vestibulitis. The interdisciplinary faculty panel will explore management through musculoskeletal evaluation, physical therapy and pain anesthesia. Medical and surgical treatment options will be presented. Participants are encouraged to bring their “tough cases” to discuss with the faculty at the conclusion of the conference. Attendees of this CME activity will gain a better insight of the various modalities available for managing patients with chronic pelvic pain.

✓ Target Audience

This CME activity has been designed for physicians in Gynecology, Urology, Family Practice and other health care providers with an interest in chronic pelvic pain and women’s health.

✓ Educational Objectives

Upon completion of this educational activity, each participant should be able to...

- Differentiate the basic physiologic, psychologic and neurologic causes of chronic pelvic pain. This should improve patient care by allowing a more focused approach to obtaining a diagnosis.
- Identify patients with endometriosis, interstitial cystitis, irritable bowel syndrome, vulvodynia and vestibulitis, which should improve patient outcomes by permitting targeted testing and treatments.
- Integrate a musculoskeletal evaluation into their patient workup, which should improve patient outcomes by treating the myofascial components of the conditions which cause chronic pelvic pain.

Note: Successful completion of this educational activity is not recognized as certifying competence for performance of these procedures by most credentialing bodies. Privileges and ascertaining skill level are the responsibility of your local hospital and/or licensing authority.

✓ Accreditation Statement and Designation of Credits

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas & Elements of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the sponsorship of Innovations in Medical Education & Training (IMET). IMET is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians. IMET designates this educational activity for a maximum of 14.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should only claim credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

This activity, A Practical Approach to the Multidisciplinary Management of Chronic Pelvic Pain, with a beginning date of November 4, 2010, has been reviewed and is acceptable for up to 14.00 Prescribed credits by the American Academy of Family Physicians.

Cognates have been applied for from the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists for this educational activity.

✓ Commercial Support

This activity may be supported by unrestricted educational grants from commercial sources. Any grants received will be disclosed to the participants according to the ACCME Standards for Commercial Support. All grants are provided with the understanding that the supporter will not exert any influence on the content or educational development of this activity as a condition of the gift; nor will they take, or have taken any role in the selection of topics, speakers, or audience for this activity. This activity is for educational purposes and not for the purpose of promoting any product. Promotional activities will not be allowed in the meeting room and this activity will be presented with objectivity and balance.

Commercial supporters may have representatives on hand to answer questions you may have related to their therapies, products, and/or technology. We encourage you to talk with these representatives during the scheduled break sessions to obtain information that can be a valuable resource to your practice.

Faculty Disclosure

IMET has a policy that requires course faculty to disclose any financial interests, arrangements or affiliations with manufacturers of commercial products and/or services, which may be discussed at this activity. It is not assumed that these financial interests or affiliations will have an adverse impact on faculty presentations; they are simply provided to fully inform participants. Faculty financial disclosures are on file at IMET and full disclosure of faculty relationships will be made at the conference.

IMET makes every effort to resolve any potential conflicts of interest for all individuals involved in the planning and implementation of this CME activity. The content of this CME activity was planned to be balanced, objective, and scientifically rigorous. Occasionally, faculty may express opinions that represent their own viewpoint. Conclusions drawn by participants should be derived from objective analysis of scientific data. IMET has informed all faculty that if any presentations include discussion of off-label or investigational use of a commercial product, therapy or medical device, full disclosure must be made to the course participants.

Welcome to Paradise — Like You've Never Imagined!

Just off the coast of Florida, and stretching as far south as Cuba, the Bahamas consists of over 700 mostly uninhabited islands. Nassau, the capital city of the Bahamas, resides on New Providence Island, neighbor to Paradise Island. This island pair maintains a distinct blend of international glamour and tropical ease, giving travelers freedom to do everything or nothing at all. Nassau/Paradise Island offers experiences to suit all tastes and ages, including duty-free shopping, dazzling casinos, exciting attractions, historical landmarks and water sports of every kind.

Amidst the world's largest marine habitat second only to Mother Nature, is Atlantis, Paradise Island, the finest resort hotel in the Bahamas. Larger than life and as dramatically fanciful as it is magnificent in scope and concept, Atlantis, Paradise Island is a glorious and wonderfully playful celebration of the legends of the lost city of Atlantis.

Chances are you'll never want to leave Atlantis! From its breathtaking beauty to its wealth of entertainment, Atlantis offers a wide array of unforgettable adventures that you can't begin to experience in just one trip. Whether you've come to just relax or to "dive in," miles of the world's most beautiful white sand beaches are just outside your door. A wide variety of water attractions including beautiful pools, waterfalls, and swimming lagoons offer relaxation while water slides, SCUBA diving, and snorkeling provide adventure.

Atlantis provides a myriad of activities for kids of all ages. Enjoy various programs for children ages 3 to 17, including Aquatots, Kids Club and Club Rush. Other relaxing options include complimentary movies at the Atlantis Theatre. Babysitting services are available.

Be sure not to miss the heart and soul of Atlantis in The Dig. Explore an elaborate maze of rooms and corridors that take you back 11,000 years to the ancient city streets of Atlantis, including the Jewel Fish, Crystal Machining and Submarine Rooms.

Finally, after a long day spent in the water or exploring the island, relax at the Mandara Spa where the unique qualities of Asian service and exotic spa treatments are blended with the respect for natural beauty and a serene ambiance.

Come explore the mystery and grandeur of this ancient civilization that has risen from the sea to provide inspiration and adventure. Larger than life, the magic of Atlantis will spark your imagination, invigorate your body and soothe your soul.
