SRDAV/SR/2015-16/41

Dated: July 7, 2015

Dear Parents,

It gives me immense pleasure to share with you that Einstein's Play House Activity has gained popularity among the students. In its consecutive fifth year of existence, it continues to provide a platform to hone their scientific temperament, skills, innovation & creativity in the subject. An experimental multidisciplinary design & technology lab has been set up for the students to provide opportunities for hands-on experiments on making working models to ignite their inquisitiveness. This endeavor has enhanced the interest of pupils and has encouraged multiple intelligence.

Students are taught to verify the concepts of science by making simple models like pull back car, airboat, motor car, trebuchet, water pumps etc. The workshops conducted for students also develop their ability to apply scientific concepts in real life. Pupils are encouraged to ask why, what, where, when and how about every invention or discovery that has taken place.

The annual exhibition Technorama provides a platform for students to apply their thought in order to bring in scientific concepts to work. Our models like All Terrain Vehicle, Vacuum Cleaner, Farm Reaper, Caterpillar Tracks & many more are a proof of development of lateral thinking in our students.

Achievements

- The students won first prize for designing a bridge using popsicle sticks(ice-cream sticks) in the year 2014
- 2 teams of 4 students each was selected for National final of Iken Scientifica 2013 (round 3) these teams were declared as the 1st runner up & 2nd runner up.
- 65 teams were selected for second round of Iken exam.
