GRAFITTI GAINING POPULARITY

There is a multitude of ways in expressing yourself – feelings, wishes, concerns and even anger. Artists from ancient times, even in prehistory, have indulged in some form of art, on walls in caves, burial places and in temples. In England we find the famous The White Horse of Uffington, considered to be one of the oldest and most famous hill figures on the Berkshire Downs in Oxfordshire in England. It measures 110m long and 40m high.

This must have been 'graffiti' of former times. Today we exhibit modern-day graffiti. What comes to mind are the one at Fgura Centre behind the Bus Shelter and the one on the San Gwann bypass.

The one shown above is the initiative of some Young Lasallian. Very impressive indeed, don't you think? Artistic and in good taste.

SCAMPRIA, NAPOLI

Casa Arcobaleno is a project started by Brother Enrico Muller (photo: standing 3rd from right) and two other De La Salle Brothers in one of the poorest quarters of Naples. Since then two nuns have joined the effort looking after small children in the area.

It is common knowledge that parts of the poor sections of Naples in particular Scampia are vulnerable to drugs and other illicit activities that assail the young and defenseless.

With this in mind the Brothers have opened this shelter or club, call it what you want, to welcome children and young people in the evenings and on holidays to socialize in a healthy and safe environment.

The Brothers are giving a helping hand to those parents who because of the condition that they find themselves in are unable to develop in their children those human values that would help them live a decent life.

What the LASALLIAN SCHOOL stands for...

The Lasallian School is open to all, irrespective of ethnic, social or religious origins . This can pose a real challenge which is enthusiastically taken up by adopting three practices:

- * RESPECT the freedom of everyone's conscience
- * ACCEPT each one's differences & celebrate initiative, creativity & originality,
- * COMMIT everyone - young and adult - to the growth & maturity of the each individual person.

“Honour the Most Blessed Virgin today as the purest of all creatures and the only one on earth who has been exempt from sin. Tell her that she is all-beautiful and that in her soul there is no stain of sin, not even the sin that is common to all the human race. Beg her to obtain for you from God to be a good exemplary person.”
