

NOEL and the Halifax Choral Society

presents

Choral Workshop for Adult Singers

with Paul Feehan

Wednesday 3rd April 2013

10am - 5pm

Queen Ethelburga's College, York

£27.50 PER PERSON (includes lunch)

Message from John- Pryce Jones

MD of Halifax Choral Society

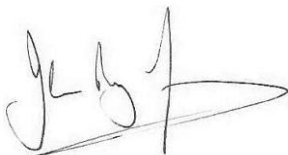

"As a choral society or group, I dare say you experience the same difficulties that I do i.e. the widely varying degrees of the member's music reading skills. There is rarely time to work specifically on this problem.

NOEL in conjunction with the Halifax Choral Society, runs a number of different educational workshops and singing groups for all ages, often using Kodály methodology. One of our flagships is the Yorkshire Youth Choir and, following the success of previous day workshops for adult singers, we are planning a further workshop for singers from choral societies / choral groups who are keen to improve their sight reading and general musical skills.

The day will be led by acclaimed and experienced choral leader, Paul Feehan, who has been the Musical Director for Wakefield Festival Chorus and is Director of Music at Bootham School. Paul has performed throughout the country and abroad as a soloist, accompanist, conductor and concerto soloist and has appeared on local and national TV and radio. He also works as an adjudicator for the British Federation of Music Festivals and has been accompanist and assistant conductor for the YYC for a number of years.

Please do encourage your singers to enrol; I am very confident that they will find the day educational, encouraging and enjoyable. Please find a booking form enclosed."

Yours sincerely,

John Pryce-Jones
Artistic Director
