

Monroe Training Program Continues To Educate Technicians Across North America!

Technicians participating in a Technology Tour event will be able to compare the steering, stopping and stability characteristics of popular import and domestic vehicles featuring OE ride control and identical models equipped with premium Monroe replacement products.

Participants will learn how to:

- Better communicate the need for ride control to vehicle owners.
- Experience behind-the-wheel hands on driving.
- Learn how to communicate the benefits of shock and strut replacement.
- Obtain in-depth diagnostic and sales training.
- Understand the advantage of premium ride control technology for domestic and import vehicles
