RFID Inventory Management System

LogiTag's StockBox is a generously adaptable healthcare supplies inventory management product that can be integrated with Spacesaver's FrameWRX®.

Using either Kanban, or a PAR Level approach to replenishment, RFID restocking cards communicate with the central supply room to replenish specific items used by the department.

StockBox & FrameWRX System Features:

- Incorporates Lean principles
- Reduced time to monitor inventory levels
- Item-Restock Monitoring - record usage for items requiring this level of control
- Detailed Management Reports - allows supply managers to adjust inventory levels
- Streamline Restocking - allows the central store room or warehouse to provide area-specific totes to streamline the restocking process
- Recorded confirmation of replenished items

How It Works:

1. Supply room bins are stocked with medical supply items of a certain quantity and an RFID StockTag is represented for each item. When the item reaches a designated re-stocking point, the tag is removed from the bin and dropped into the StockBox.
2. The StockBox reads the RFID StockTag and automatically sends a message to the Server indicating that the item needs to be restocked.
3. The replenishment room and/or distributor receives the restocking request for the StockBox and fills totes with the items requested.
4. The replenishment items are delivered to the supply room and the person restocking unlocks the StockBox, removes the RFID StockTags and replenishes the items. The RFID StockTag is placed back in the bin and the restocking process is complete.

"Implementing the FrameWRX solution with StockBox, turned what was a 5-step process into a 2-step process for inventory management." - Director of Materials Management
