Topic

The O-1 visa category is reserved for persons with sustained national or international acclaim in the sciences, arts, education, business, or athletics; or persons with a demonstrated record of extraordinary achievement in motion picture and or television productions. This seminar will focus on the niche sub-categories of arts and athletics, covering basic requirements, tips for client/time management, pointers on preparing a successful filing (including reference letters and documentation, itinerary and agency requirements), as well as the current trends in adjudications at USCIS service centers. This seminar is aimed at practicing immigration lawyers wanting more exposure to the arts sub-category of O-1s, entertainment and sports lawyers seeking information on immigration issues faced by their clients, as well as lawyers who need more background on requirements, limitations, and benefits of O-1 visas for their foreign national clients. Please review the regulations at 8 C.F.R. §214.2(o)(3)(iii) – (v) prior to attending
