Dr. Hegstrom has earned a Ph.D. in Pastoral Marriage & Family Therapy; an M.S. in Marriage & Family Therapy and a B.S. in Pastoral Counseling, Evangelical Theological Seminary. He holds an Honorary Doctorate of Humane Letters, Evangelical Theological Seminary. He is a member AACC (American Assn. of Christian Counselors). Members CAPS (Christian Assn. of Psychological Studies), NAFC (National Assn. of Forensic Counselors) & an internationally recognized authority in attitude and behavioral changes.

Dr. Paul Hegstrom, the founder of Life Skills International and author of the books, "Angry Men and the Women Who Love Them" (1999) and "Broken Children/Grown Up Pain" (2001) was an abusive husband and father. His pattern of abusive and reactive behavior drove him to divorce his wife, abandon his children and nearly lose his life. He has since made a complete recovery, remarried his wife and restored his family.

Life Skills International is a non-profit organization, founded in 1985. Paul's background experience, study, and research has been put into curriculum form and is being taught internationally in group settings (see www.lifeskillsintl.org).

Paul's story of abuse and recovery was aired in 1996 in an Emmy-nominated CBS Television movie entitled "Unforgivable" starring John Ritter. Paul has been featured on many radio and television programs including: "Focus on the Family" (Dr. James Dobson); "Marriage on the Rocks" (TBN); "Sally Jesse Raphael"; "USA Today"; "700 Club"; "Family Life Today" Daystar Television, and many more.
