The History of Thanksgiving and Traditional Foods

Presented By: Dina Lawson, Registered Dietitian, Chenango County Area Agency on Agency
November & December 2013

In 1621, the Plymouth settlers and Wampanoag Indians celebrated an autumn harvest feast together. It is considered one of the first Thanksgiving celebrations. The harvest meal became a symbol of cooperation and companionship between the settlers and the Native Indians. And, it has a long tradition of festivals and ceremonies of giving thanks for bountiful crops. The legacy of giving thanks and celebrating with a feast has been around for centuries as people in the US gather with friends and family for a yearly Thanksgiving feast.

The Pilgrims' Menu included a wide variety of foods, many of them that we don't associate with the traditional Thanksgiving meal. Here is a condensed version of the pilgrims' menu; Source: Kathleen Curtin, Food Historian @ Plymouth Plantation.

Foods that may have been on the menu:

Wild Turkey, Goose, Duck, Eagles, Venison, Cod, Clams and Lobster.
Wheat flour, Indian corn, pumpkin, peas, beans, carrots and lettuce.
Plums, grapes, walnuts, chestnuts and acorns.
Leeks, parsnips, radishes, and dried currents.

Foods that may not have been on the menu:

Ham, Sweet potatoes/potatoes, Corn on the cob, Cranberry sauce,
Pumpkin Pie: the recipe did not exist at that time.
Milk: No cows were aboard the Mayflower, although the pilgrims might have used goat milk to make cheese. Source: The History Channel

Now Let's Look at the Health Benefits of Pumpkins!

IT'S PUMPKIN SEASON! DID YOU KNOW PUMPKINS ARE A HEALTHY FOOD? Pumpkin is a very nutrient rich vegetable with important vitamins and antioxidants!

The pumpkin plant is considered a vine because it creeps along the ground. It is a member of the 'cucurbitaceae' family that also includes cucumber, squash and cantaloupe.

Pumpkin is one of the most popular vegetables that are grown as a commercial field crop in the United States and all over the world. (Source: <http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cucurbitaceae>)

Here are some of the health benefits of pumpkins:

- Pumpkins are low in calories. One cup of mashed pumpkin is about 49 calories.
- Pumpkins contain many anti-oxidant vitamins such as vitamin A, vitamin C and vitamin E.
- They are also an excellent source of many non-vitamin antioxidants called flavonoids. Some of these include lutein, and zeaxanthin.
- Pumpkin is rich in B vitamins such as folate, niacin, B-6, thiamin and pantothenic acid.
- They are also rich in minerals such as copper, calcium, potassium and phosphorus.
- Pumpkin seeds are a great source of dietary fiber and mono-unsaturated fat, which are good for a healthy heart. And the seeds also provide a good amount of protein and iron in addition to selenium and zinc.

- Battery-operated radio and extra batteries

"Winter Warnings"

As the winter weather season approaches, do you know what the various weather warnings and advisories mean?

WINTER STORM WATCH indicates that winter weather may affect your area.

WINTER STORM WARNING indicates that severe winter weather conditions are definitely on the way.

BLIZZARD WARNING indicates that snow and strong winds of at least 35 miles per hour combined will produce blinding snow, near-zero visibility, deep drifts and life-threatening wind chill.

WINTER WEATHER ADVISORY indicates winter weather conditions, with snowfall of between 3 to 6 inches, are expected to cause significant inconveniences and may be hazardous, especially to motorists.

Knowing what these terms mean will help you better protect yourself and loved ones.

"Winterize Your Home"

Take the time now to get your home ready for the winter season by following these tips:

Make sure your home is properly insulated. If necessary, insulate walls and attic. This will help you to conserve energy and reduce your home's power demands for heat.

Caulk and weather-strip doors and windowsills to keep cold air out.

Install storm windows or cover windows with plastic from the inside. This will provide an extra layer of insulation, keeping more cold air out.

Inspect and flush your water heater.

Clean gutters. Leaves and other debris will hamper drainage.

Replace batteries of smoke, heat, and carbon monoxide detectors. If you didn't do it when you set the clocks back, do it now.

To keep pipes from freezing:

- Wrap pipes in insulation or layers of old newspapers
 - Cover the newspapers with plastic to keep out moisture
 - Let faucets drip a little to avoid freezing
- Know how to shut off water valves
