Shoot for the Heart

One Patient's Lasting Gift

In 1999, just one month after Keith Wilson was transferred to Nashville for work, he became a patient at Saint Thomas Hospital and learned that he would need open heart surgery. After a successful surgery and intensive rehabilitation, Keith returned to work and normal daily activities.

Having to undergo major cardiac surgery is an extremely difficult experience, but for Keith, it was also a defining one. He wanted to express his gratitude to Saint Thomas's dedicated staff in a way that would allow other heart patients to receive the same expert care he did. An avid sporting clays enthusiast, Keith organized and led a sporting clays tournament in April 2001, inviting the support of his local sporting clays teams, friends and coworkers.

The tournament, called Shoot for the Heart, was highly successful and became an annual event. Countless cardiac patients have been served through the generosity of its sponsors and participants. For the second consecutive year, the event will also assist Northwest Mississippi Community College School of Nursing as it prepares more health care leaders.

Nursing at Northwest

Tournament organizers have found a college in the region that is increasing the number and quality of nurses to care for cardiac and other patients more effectively. Northwest Mississippi Community College's Division of Nursing moved into a top-notch new facility in April 2011 that will enable it to prepare dramatically more nurses to serve the growing health needs of this region. With a degree from this college, graduates are prepared to become Registered Nurses. Fundraising events like Shoot for the Heart provide the kind of equipment and instruction needed to prepare these nurses for health care leadership in Northwest Mississippi.
