CHFV Conference 2011

Etihad Stadium — Victory Room
Tuesday, 19 July 2011

In the professional delivery of more than 5,000 community homes within four years fuelled by $1B in investment, institutional investors should have every confidence that the community housing sector is ready for a significant new wave of private investment into the industry.

But to earn that confidence, the community housing sector must have the structures in place to make its product an asset that can be invested in. Further, the investment community must understand how they can deliver shareholder returns while creating successful social outcomes for the community. This is the focus of CHFV's inaugural Conference in this must-attend one day event.

See over for full details →

This unique event will represent a significant moment in the history of community housing in Victoria, and will attract the keen attention of the sector's major stakeholders including the Australian Investment Community, Federal, State and Local Governments, the Housing Industry including the country's largest developers and builders, and the Community Housing sector in Victoria and nationally.

With a national focus on this ground-breaking conference, companies looking to build their brand and business within the community housing sector have a significant promotional and commercial opportunity to participate as an Exhibitor in From Acorn to Oak: Creating the blueprint for the growth of community housing in Victoria.

As a thought-leading event attracting all the key stakeholders in the Victorian community housing sector, no other conference in 2011 will capture all these players at one time and in the new and progressive frame of mind that these sessions will engender.
