We're excited to announce the arrival of Creative Work's Studio's 2015 Weekly Planner and Art Calendar!

Our full colour, journal format planner and calendar features art work from our members who bring diverse artistic styles and perspectives to its pages. We've been creating these calendars for 15 years and have been improving with each one – this year we're introducing a fun layout and an elastic band over the cover so you can keep everything packed in tight.

It's a great gift for the art enthusiast in your life, or that loved one who could use help in remembering important dates. The planner is also a great way to show appreciation to colleagues and teams in the workplace, while offering a practical tool for organization. This is also an excellent gift for anyone you know who cares deeply about mental health issues.

All proceeds from these planners go right back into programming at Creative Works Studio. The Studio is an arts-based occupational therapy program and community initiative of St. Michael's Hospital's Inner City Health Program, in partnership with Good Shepherd Non-profit Homes Inc. We serve people who deal with severe and persistent mental health and addictions issues by offering a safe and accepting environment where they can heal and cope through the power of artistic expression.

The next few pages in this package offer a preview of the contents of the newly released 2015 planner. We offer discounts for bulk orders, detailed on the last page of this package. Please review and feel free to contact us with any questions!
