

LETTER TO WIFE OR HUSBAND

Date:

Dear _____:

Your husband/wife has come seeking counseling. We have discussed problem areas of the marriage and of his/her life. I want to assure you that you have not been the subject of our sessions; our sessions have focused on his/her responsibilities. _____ indicates that he/she failed you in many ways. He/She desires you to help him/her work on the most troublesome areas as you see them.

Therefore, would you please rate him/her on the following forms and return them to me so that he/she may work on changing those areas where he/she is deficient? All information received will be held in strict confidence.

Thank you,

Sincerely,

Counselor
