Wives and Girlfriends of construction workers

FREE Safety Awareness Evening

This FREE evening event is the first partnership event run by the construction industry for the families of construction workers, by the Lancashire WWT group, as part of the UK-wide Working Well Together (WWT) campaign.

Every year construction workers die; suffer life changing injuries or long term health problems, as a result of their work.

This event will provide you with information on some of the safety and health risks which your husband, partner or son etc. may be exposed to during the course of their working day. It will highlight some of the most important issues and give practical examples of how they can be prevented.

BOOK NOW! As places are limited.
