MARCH 2015

“Building upon God's Grace through Love, Obedience and Compassion”

"This is the kind of life you've been invited into, the kind of life Christ lived. He suffered everything that came his way so you would know that it could be done, and also know how to do it, step-by-step. He never did one thing wrong, Not once said anything amiss. They called him every name in the book and he said nothing back. He suffered in silence, content to let God set things right. He used his servant body to carry our sins to the Cross so we could be rid of sin, free to live the right way. His wounds became your healing. You were lost sheep with no idea who you were or where you were going. Now you're named and kept for good by the Shepherd of your souls."
1 Peter 2: 21-25 (The Message)

The crucifixion of Jesus remains the central most significant event for Christians. It is the reconciliation of a broken world to a perfect God. It is God's great gift of grace providing salvation for all. It is an amazing thought that Jesus would leave His heavenly throne and go through all the suffering that comes in the form of crucifixion. It is even more amazing when we consider that He did that all while doing nothing wrong. Fundamental to the faith of Christians for over two-thousand years now is the realization that Christ's death on the cross effectively removed our faults and failures and affords us the ability to enter into heaven. Peter certainly reiterates this in his letter - after all, Peter was there to witness the awful events and Peter certainly knew his own faults at the time.

So what does that mean for us? First, we need to recognize our own faults and struggles. If we had none, then we have no need for Christ to die. Instead, especially during the season of Lent, we are called to think about ourselves with sober judgment (Romans 12: 3). In addition, Jesus reminds us to look at the plank in our own eye before we look for the splinter in someone else's eye (Matthew 7: 1-5). This is an important step. After all, how can we be healed, redeemed or rescued from those things that we do not even acknowledge? As we prepare to remember the beauty of the resurrection, let us begin by recognizing the ugliness of our own sins. In the midst of this recognition let us seek God's presence so that we can learn to live without sin. Let us seek His presence so that His healing work could take place in our hurting lives.

Next, let us remember that as God has given us grace for our faults, so we must give that grace to those who harm us. This is why Peter starts by reminding people that Christ suffered for us so that we would know how to live. Jesus himself says that we need to forgive others just as we have been forgiven (Matthew 6: 14). Probably his most aggressive parable is the one of the unforgiving servant (Matthew 18: 21-35). At the end of the parable, Jesus warns that God will not forgive those who withhold forgiveness from those who seek mercy. Upon realizing that we have faults that demand grace, we need to then extend that grace to all around us. This is easy to say, but hard to do. This lent let us think about people who have hurt us. Let us then make sure that we have truly forgiven them. If possible, let us go to those people and inform them of this grace. Just as we have been forgiven, we must forgive.

Finally, let's look forward to what is to come! Paul reminds us that in this world we will know suffering. However, the world that is to come is so much more that we cannot compare the two (Romans 8. 18). In other words, no matter what this life brings we know it is temporary while the life that is to come is eternal. Let us approach Easter with the reminder that death leads to greater life! With the confidence of children of God we need to proclaim to all that grace has an amazing ending - eternal life with our Heavenly Father. Let us strive to draw ever closer to Him. Let us trust that His grace can heal. Let us trust that His love can free. Let us give God our all, for God has given us His all! Amen!

Thank You

Thank you for your support of Operation Christmas Child in 2014 by packing and providing the bags to pack the extra shoeboxes to make 157 shoeboxes!

God did so much in our region, as well as throughout the US! Through your support, over one million shoebox gifts were collected in the Mid-Atlantic Region (this is a first!), and over 479,500 shoebox gifts were collected in Pennsylvania (another record!).

We cannot wait to see how God uses all these shoeboxes to share His love with the children of the world.

Here is one example from Panama- A New Life:

"My name is Kenira. A teacher from church invited me to an activity in the church and asked me if I wanted to meet somebody who loves me. I didn't want to, but then I said yes. Later on, some people talked about Jesus, and I opened my heart and accepted Him as my friend. Then they told us they had a gift for us and when I saw the surprise, I ran to show my mom and younger brother what I received. I didn't know that Jesus loved me so much that He prepared a gift for me. I want to know Him more and grow with Jesus in my heart. From that moment on, everything is different in my house and life. Now I have a new life with Jesus in my heart."

We look forward to your participation this year!
