Virtual Economics

➤ For Teachers of
Grades 3-12

An interactive workshop that will provide access to over 1,400 lesson plans that connect economic principles to social studies, literature, math, science, and business principles.

Visit us at www.sceconomics.org

Workshop Information

"All money is a matter of belief."

-Adam Smith (father of modern economics)

Participants will spend the morning focusing on concepts that will assist students in making smarter financial decisions throughout their lifetimes. During the afternoon, participants will cruise through the new Virtual Economics CD with more than 1,400 activity-based lessons that can be sorted by grade level, concept, or publication. And, the lessons have been correlated to the National and State Standards.

Virtual Economics is interactive, so bring your laptop!

Would you like to have Financial Wisdom?

During this 5-hour workshop we will provide K-12 teachers a high quality professional development program and hands-on, active-learning experience with Virtual Economics. Students and teachers alike will increase their knowledge in economics and personal finance.

Benefits for teachers:

- Receive a Virtual Economics CD (a $100 value)
- Earn 5 credit renewal points
- $50 substitute reimbursement

Lessons correlated to State Standards

Each lesson in Virtual Economics is aligned to national standards and to South Carolina Social Studies Academic Standards.

"This was the best Economics workshop that I have ever attended. The presenter and his knowledge of economics was great. The session was very in-depth and valuable as I can add these resources to my repertoire of Economics lessons and activities for my students."
