Class 8A Homework Newsletter – Wednesday 6th November 2013

Dear Parents,

I hope you had a good half-term break, if you were fortunate enough to have one. Many thanks for supporting your child with his/her Guy Fawkes homework, before the break.

This week's homework is linked to an important date in the calendar, of 11th November. I would like the children to conduct some research into Remembrance Day and explain the significance of the day and how it is observed in this country and around the world. This work can be hand-written or word processed and can include pictures or illustrations to help explain the text. As ever, please do not allow your child to copy text from the internet. Websites that may assist with this work include: <http://projectbritain.com/Remembrance.html>, <http://www.bbc.co.uk/schools/events/remembranceday/>, http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Remembrance_Day and <http://www.britishlegion.org.uk/remembrance>.

The deadline for handing in this homework is Wednesday 13th November 2013. There will also be a Spelling Test on this day of '-ic' and '-al' words.
