

Video Lectures

These easily comprehensible lectures are modeled after those made by Khan Academy®; they teach and review the material to deepen learning and comprehension. Written and recorded by subject experts, current coaches, and former Decathletes, these videos incorporate information from beyond the official materials to increase understanding. Available in all objective events.

Curriculum Guides

A detailed, bulleted overview of the material that emphasizes “big ideas,” themes, and outside research. These guides present the material with diagrams, tables, and pictures, and include short “Quick Quizzes” for on-the-spot review. Available for Art, Music, Lang/Lit, Social Science, and Music.

Guided Practice Books

Guided, hands-on practice for the more applied subjects (Science, Economics, Mathematics, Music Theory). These books will take students through the material step-by-step and explain tips and tricks on how to solve sample problems. The Math GPB is structured as an exercise booklet for exam prep.

QuickNotes

Perfect for the night (or hour) before testing, these four-page power reviews are available for all objective subjects and cover all important facts, concepts, and themes. Modeled after SparkCharts, these booklets are available in PDF (digital) format as well as laminated hardcopies.

Macro Tests/Essay Prompts

Ten competition-style exams per subject, modeled after actual USAD® exams in both style and nuance; they serve as an excellent indicator of how well students will perform on competition day. All tests come with answer keys and explanations; music listening selections and art slideshows are also included. Each set of exams also comes with essay prompts with complete grading guides and answer keys.

Macro Relays

Ten full-length (30- or 36-question) relays, modeled after official competition relays. All relays come in both Powerpoint and PDF formats and are available for any state format, by request.

Micro Anki Flashcards

A package of over 5,000 recall questions, designed for learning and reviewing throughout the year. The questions are written for Anki 2® software (available for all major operating systems), which uses a research-driven spaced-repetition model to maximize recall. The software will automatically sync across all devices and create a daily study regimen. Students can also select specific subjects, sections, and priority levels for focused review. All questions come with answer explanations and references to the official material. NEW this year: printable flashcards will also be available for studying.

Micro Section Exams

Perfect for testing students as they read the material for the first time, these full-length exams split the material into 15+ sections per subject. Each test includes 15 multiple-choice questions as well as an extended response meant to promote higher-level thinking, provide example essay topics in various subjects, and stimulate in-class discussions. All questions include full explanations as well as references to the official material.

About Us

Decademy was founded by two former Arizona Decathletes, Nick Synodis and Stephen Bergauer, who oversee all material production. You can reach them at:

Nick: nick@decademy.org, 480.262.7727; Stephen: contact@decademy.org, 480.200.5506

Learn more about us and see sample materials and more at our website: www.decademy.org.

Follow us on Facebook! Students can connect with other Decathletes, learn Facts of the Day, and participate in periodic contests and quizzes for various prizes. facebook.com/decademy.

We are looking for qualified, talented Decathletes to work as writers this upcoming summer! See our website and Facebook page for more info.

Decademy is a sole-source vendor. Digital products include a license to download and print by members of each individual school only. USAD, Khan Academy, and Anki are owned by their respective companies. Decademy is not affiliated with any of these entities.
