INTRODUCTION

Astrolocality Maps are a method for quickly assessing certain features of your horoscope if you are considering a visit or move to anywhere in the world other than your birthplace. Because your horoscope changes when you change residence, certain planets will be in higher focus than others in different parts of the world. "Focus" in a horoscope is determined in this instance by planets conjuncting (or forming other aspects to) the four angles (Ascendant, Midheaven, Descendant and IC) of the horoscope.

Each of these angles is associated with certain general areas in your life. Following are some key words for the four angles.

Ascendant: self-expression, identity, appearance, personal action, natural drive, sense of self, physical energy and assertion.

Midheaven: career, status, drive for power, worldly ambitions, contribution to society, public life, authority figures and reputation.

Descendant: partners, other people, close associates, qualities you face in relationships, desire for balance and harmony, aesthetic instincts.

IC: home, family, nurturing figures, dependency needs, domestic environment, caretaking instincts, compassion, emotional base.

If you ordered the "work" interpretation, this report will interpret planets aspecting your Midheaven in Astrolocality. If you ordered the "self" interpretation, this report will analyze the planets aspecting your ASCENDANT in Astrolocality. If you ordered the "home" interpretation, this report will discuss planets aspecting your IC in Astrolocality, while "relationship" interpretations look at planets aspecting the DESCENDANT.

In addition, this report lists any major cities which are near a line of planetary focus. (A planetary focus can be seen as radiating out from that planet's line on the Astrolocality Map. Thus, it is not limited to only one city, but will encompass an area running around 75 miles on each side of the planetary line.)

Your natal chart is very important. If you put a planet in high focus which has many tension aspects in your natal horoscope, you are likely to face challenges and have to work to integrate the themes and issues of that planet (but may build strong mental, emotional and spiritual muscles in that regard). If, on the other hand, you put a planet in high focus which has many harmony aspects in your horoscope, you are likely to find matters flowing more smoothly (but could sometimes overdo or be excessive). Thus, this report will also note if any of the planets connected to your focus area of choice are VERY harmoniously or VERY challengingly configured in your natal (birth) horoscope.

Remember that there is no such thing as a "perfect" or "ideal" horoscope. Every horoscope has a mixture of positive and negative (or easy and challenging) patterns. And, tension is a part of life. If we had no friction, we wouldn't grow and develop! So, in questions of relocation, you are dealing with issues of priority. You must decide what is most important to you. (You have done so in this report by ordering a focus on love, work, self, or home.) And, you must decide where you want more harmony, and where you are willing to work with some challenges. (The planetary aspects will help reveal that.)

An Astrolocality Map is used primarily for an overview, however, to gain a sense of areas which might be of interest to you. If you are seriously considering a move, you should look at your actual Relocation Chart (your whole horoscope) for the city to which you are considering relocating. It will give you more detail about the strengths and weaknesses of your horoscope in that location.

The Sun is square the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Rochester, NY; Altoona, PA; Lynchburg, VA.

Authorities may challenge your need to shine, or may clash with you in regard to recognition, attention or issues of control. Perhaps your status is at odds with your self-esteem or inner pride.

Your power drive might compete with your inner child. Work may clash with play. Your pride or need to be a star may challenge career aspirations. Love needs may compete with your ambitions. Your reality quotient could vie with your speculative side and you might feel torn between safety and risk-taking instincts.

It may seem difficult to meet both your creative needs and career ambitions. Perhaps vocational success seems "dull" and you find it difficult to direct your life force toward realism. You could experience a "forced choice" between excitement and career drives.

Your reality quotient may feel incompatible with your inner child (your desire to laugh, to play, to take chances and be spontaneous). It might seem difficult to satisfy your pride and your practicality. It may be challenging to satisfy both your desire for lasting, tangible results and your risk-taking instincts. It may take effort to satisfy both your love needs and your work drives.

The Sun is sextile the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Chihuahua, Mexico; El Paso, TX; Albuquerque, NM.

Power feeds your self-esteem here. You feel most energized when in charge. Leaders or authority figures may assist you in career advancement. Your willingness to risk can help you to gain status. Your creativity augments your authority. Your dynamism, star quality and pride can reinforce your power drive and add to your success.

Your inner child harmonizes with your vocational aspirations. Your worldly aspirations harmonize with your fun-loving spirit; you know when to work and when to play. Your drive for excitement may enhance your vocational accomplishments. Loved ones can assist your career development.

Your status may be fed by your need to shine. Your reality quotient harmonizes with your speculative side and risk-taking. You can meld competence and confidence here.

The Moon is square the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Kelowna, BC, Canada; Santa Barbara, CA; Fresno, CA; Reno, NV; Yakima, WA.

Your authority needs may conflict with your drive to nurture. Your drive for power could compete with your vulnerabilities. You may feel torn between gentle compassion and forceful pragmatism. Authority figures might clash with nurturing figures in your life. Emotions might war with practicality, or moods clash with your drive for power and control. Anxieties could affect your work performance; build security for yourself.

Your emotional needs may compete with your career aspirations. Your professional duties may compete with your desire for a home and family. Women, family or emotional issues could clash with your professional needs. Your nesting urges may compete with your achievement drives. Your work may seem to take you away from your family (and vice versa). You may feel torn between dominance and dependency, or compassion and pragmatism. It may seem difficult to combine nurturing and authority roles, or home and career. You need a synthesis of domesticity and outer-world attainments.

The Moon is sextile the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Eau Claire, WI; Cedar Rapids, IA; Monroe, LA; Duluth, MN; Jefferson City, MO; Little Rock, AR; Rochester, MN.

Your habit patterns may assist your career here. Your need for security could support your quest for authority. Your emotions may help you to handle your responsibilities. Your receptivity may enhance your authority.

You can comfortably combine compassion and pragmatism. You can be caring as well as capable, integrating strength and gentleness. Your caretaking instincts may aid your career, or nurturing figures could contribute to your status.

Family and professional matters may enhance each other. You can harmonize emotional needs and realism, keeping family and career mutually supportive. Women, emotions, family or your home could contribute to your career. Your drive to nurture could harmonize with your vocational aspirations.

Your career ambitions may amplify your security needs. You may seek safety through power. You can be compassionate as well as competent and your caring instincts could enhance your contribution to society. Women, emotional matters, food, shelter, clothing, or basic commodities could contribute to your material success. Your emotional warmth may be a factor in your achievements.

Mercury is square the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: San Luis Potosi, Mexico; Amarillo, TX.

Authorities may clash with your thinking and/or communicating. Your perceptiveness or awareness may bother authorities. Media clashes or power plays around information may affect your work. Logic may not offer your best route to success. Youthful attitudes may clash with older, experienced approaches. Maintaining objectivity regarding your own authority (or toward authority figures) may be a challenge.

Your practical/serious side may compete with your lighthearted side. Your career aspirations may clash with your social needs or desire for variety. Your capacity to be flippant may not blend with your ambitions. Vocational aspirations may seem at odds with informal learning and exploration. You may feel torn between adaptability and flexibility versus structure. Casual curiosity may seem incompatible with your serious, dedicated desire for success, as knowledge-seeking could pull you away from professional demands. Mental restlessness could challenge your drive to accomplish something tangible. (You may get bored easily with your duties.) Learning through observation may seem to clash with learning through experience; both are essential.

Your critical/realistic side might inhibit your urge to communicate. Your need to control could compete with your adaptability and flexibility. Relatives might clash with your career drives or status needs. You or a relative might choose to pursue power rather than using logic or rationality.

Power issues may affect commercial transactions. Transportation snafus could affect your career. Paperwork may seem an impediment to your professional aspirations. You are learning to integrate lighthearted detachment and serious pragmatism, to achieve while continuing to expand your base of knowledge.

Mercury is trine the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Quebec, QU, Canada; Providence, RI; Manchester, NH; Concord, NH; Montpelier, VT.

Social contacts could contribute to your professional success. Your career aspirations can be aided by your communication skills. Your information-gathering skills will aid your ability to take charge. Your adaptability and flexibility can enhance your career. Relatives might assist your career ambitions. Your willingness to learn aids and abets your vocational advances.

You can be objective about power issues. Dexterity/listening/talking may enhance your status. Your vocational ambitions can be furthered through logical reasoning. The media, business or finger dexterity could enhance your career. You can learn from experience as well as vicariously. Authority figures may assist your learning. Your status can be enhanced through objectivity, openness and learning.

Your mind can make a contribution to society here. Your capacity to learn may augment your authority. Your drive for power may reinforce your perceptiveness, encouraging your use of logic and mental skills. Your skill at comparing and contrasting may enhance your dealings with authority. Your thinking and mental skills can raise your status.

Venus is square the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: San Jose, CA; Everett, WA; Seattle, WA; San Francisco, CA; Tacoma, WA; Eugene, OR.

Having authority yourself or your relationships with authority figures may compete with your drive for pleasure, comfort, or ease. Perhaps hard work is at odds with relaxation. You may feel your ambitions do not leave time for pleasure-seeking, or be too comfortable and laid-back to drive for the top.

Reality demands may conflict with your need for tangible beauty, or with your financial prospects, or with your desire for pleasure. Status needs could clash with being sweet and affectionate. Women may challenge you vocationally. Practical matters may compete with sensual indulgences. Your partner (or desire for love) may compete with your ambitions.

Authorities may clash with your beauty needs. Your power drives may seem incompatible with courtesy, affection or relationships. Power and pleasure may seem incompatible. Duties may clash with pleasures. Reality may seem at odds with kindness and gentleness. Financial strains and adjustments may be necessary in your career. You are learning to integrate love and work, ease and effort, acceptance and achievement.

Venus is trine the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Shreveport, LA; Mankato, MN; Beaumont, TX; St Cloud, MN; Ft Smith, AR; Kenora, ON, Canada.

Your desire for pleasure may contribute to your achievement of ambitions. Beauty skills may assist your vocational aspirations. Women could contribute to your career efforts or status. Your sensuality or pleasure-seeking might further your career. Material goods and resources may support your career efforts. Authorities may assist you financially. Sweetness can enhance your authority or increase your status.

Your career aspirations may contribute to your comfort or ease. You can be realistic in regard to pleasure-seeking, but are apt to seek tangible measurements of success (material goodies). You can be practical about money. Your desire for comfort could contribute to your realism, although you may sometimes prefer being laid-back to laboring.

Authority or authority figures could feed your drive for pleasure. Your desire for stability/predictability may strengthen your drive for power. You may enjoy high status or seek the "good things" of life. Talent for tangible beauty could raise your status. Good financial prospects are possible in your career. Partners might assist your career or contribute to your position in society.

Mars is square the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Altoona, PA; Raleigh, NC; Buffalo, NY; Lynchburg, VA; Toronto, ON, Canada.

You may clash with authority figures. Limits may incite your anger. Your authority instincts could compete with your loner instincts. Your immediate impulses might conflict with the need for careful planning; you may need to strive for patience. Your desires may be at odds with power needs. Your career aspirations may conflict with independence. Assertive drives can compete with a desire for status. Reality demands might compete with personal assertion. What you want may clash with the rules/regulations of society.

You probably feel restless in terms of your work, unsure you want to settle down. Your independent side may put you at odds with authority (authorities). You could feel ambivalent about going your own way versus taking charge. Males may challenge your career aspirations. Spontaneity may vie with disciplined control in your life. Assertion issues will affect your career. Status issues may arouse your anger. Your personal will may feel at odds with reality demands. You may be pulled between speed and caution.

You are learning to be as independent and self-expressive as possible within the practical limitations of the world, especially in regard to career and status. This means neither giving up too soon (afraid to try) nor pushing too hard (against the stone wall of reality). You need to establish what truly is possible for yourself and DO it.

Mars is trine the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following city: Albuquerque, NM.

Having authority or your relationships with authority figures may feed your self-assertion and expression. Your spontaneous instincts incline toward power and authority. Assertion may further your career, and independence could a vocational asset. Your immediate impulses may enhance your status. Men may contribute to your career. Your courage and pioneering spirit can make a contribution to the world.

You can blend spontaneity and control. You can balance speed and caution. You can get along with authority figures and the rules of the game. You know how to balance immediate impulses and planned responsibilities. You know how to get what you want within the rules of the game (of life).

You will be most satisfied when putting something of yourself into your work. You can be highly motivated to achieve if you are able to do your own thing vocationally.

Jupiter is sextile the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Harrisburg, PA; Richmond, VA; Rochester, NY; Altoona, PA.

Authorities may support your ideals and goals. You may agree with power figures in regard to morality, beliefs and principles. Authorities may support your world view. You may experience "lucky breaks" by instinctively taking advantages of opportunities.

Your beliefs and values may further your career. Your quest for the truth could be a professional asset. Your philosophy, religion, or education could contribute to your vocation. Faith and optimism may enhance your career aspirations. Your searching and seeking can contribute to your professional accomplishments. You may expect a lot from your job, yourself as a worker or the concept of achievement.

Your faith and optimism may contribute to your status. Your enlarged perspective may enhance your societal position. A willingness to risk could raise your status, although you may sometimes overreach--seeking more than is possible. Seeking the best and the highest can contribute to your reputation and place in the world. Optimism and a willingness to explore may raise your status.

A drive for power may fuel your seeking, exploring side. Your sense of power and/or competence may be fed by your ideals, goals and faith. You can blend optimism and pessimism. Your ideals and goals are likely to be in harmony with reality. Your aspirations tend to harmonize with the demands of the real world. You can be idealistic and realistic, envisioning and also manifesting. Your practicality feeds your faith (and vice versa). In its highest form, you can make dreams into reality.

Saturn is square the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Lynchburg, VA; Toronto, ON, Canada; Hamilton, ON, Canada; Roanoke, VA; Pittsburgh, PA; Miami, FL.

You may clash with authorities over issues of control or discipline here. Disagreements about responsibilities could affect your career. Power figures may seem to block or frustrate you, until you achieve a sense of your own strength and abilities. Doubting or self-critical instincts could affect your vocational life. The wisdom of experience is not always appropriate in your work; sometimes you need to go in a different direction. You need to work at being practical about career demands--neither taking on more than your fair share, nor giving up and not trying. You could feel ambivalent about your level of commitment in your work.

Over or underdoing sensible limits could affect your status ambitions. Too much or too little effort may threaten your worldly attainments. Your desire for safety and solidity may be at odds with your vocational needs. Your status ambitions may be challenged by practical demands and duties.

You could feel ambivalent about status needs or power drives. You may be unsure how much you want to seek safety, solidity, power, control or authority. You are learning to do what you can, avoiding the extremes of overdrive (carrying the world on your back) and self-blocking (afraid to try, convinced you'll be blocked or fail anyway). Tangible results feed your sense of success and capacity to do more.

Saturn is sextile the Midheaven.

No major cities are close to the line of this aspect.

Your sense of responsibility can contribute to your career. Your practicality can be a vocational asset. Your willingness to learn through doing may assist your career. Your executive instincts may further your work accomplishments. Your discipline and willingness to work assist your career development. Your ability to understand essential limits can contribute to your work. Authorities may assist your vocational ambitions. You can plan well to work your way to the top.

Your pragmatism may help you in your status ambitions. Your sense of responsibility can help you gain power and control in the world. Your power drive can contribute to your worldly attainments. You have a good sense of when to consolidate your gains. You learn well through apprenticeship and experience. You appreciate tangible results and focus on accomplishment. You are more sensible, grounded, dedicated and dutiful in this area. You work well in systems, structures and orderly situations.

Uranus is trine the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Biloxi, MS; Gulfport, MS; Thunder Bay, ON, Canada;

Hattiesburg, MS; Madison, WI; Peoria, IL; Merida, Mexico; Springfield, IL; Memphis, TN.

Your individuality may assist your work. The future and "cutting edge" could contribute to you professionally. Your inventiveness could be a career asset. An open mind facilitates your practical achievements. The unexpected, technology, groups, astrology, or the unusual could contribute to your professional accomplishments. Your objectivity and detachment can further you vocationally. Your work might contribute to humanitarian or new age causes and/or principles. Your feel for the future may enhance your vocational opportunities.

Your need for freedom can fuel your status ambitions. Your willingness to be different may help you deal with duties and responsibilities. Humanitarian instincts might enhance your worldly accomplishments.

Authorities may reinforce your originality and new perspectives. Your inventiveness may aid relationships with authorities. You can be objective and detached about your career and status. You can bring together the old and the new for best results. You can blend conventionality and unconventionality, knowing when to follow the rules and when to break them. You can integrate openness and structure, stability and change.

Neptune is opposite the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Richmond, VA; Rochester, NY; Altoona, PA.

You have an intense connection to the world of the sublime in this area. You may have strong talent for beauty, aesthetics, healing or anything compassionate and inspired. You are apt to be quite sensitive, and may pick up feelings (even illnesses) from others. You need to practice "psychic self-protection" by knowing when to close the invisible door between yourself and others. (Illness is also possible if you deny your dependency needs--an unconscious route to getting some tender, loving care.) You naturally flow into an empathic connection with all of humanity, but need to be sure any "savior" tendencies are not carried to the extreme of martyrdom. Your spirit is fed through art, and through assisting others, but you must also take time alone to process your feelings, and be sure that you choose people who will give you support as well as receiving yours.

You may bounce between too much idealism and too much realism, between excessive compassion and too much pragmatism. Your magical, mystical, visualizing capacity may not seem to fit into the "real world" yet you need to combine intuition and reality-testing (material proofs). Your imagination can contribute to your vocation and your visualizing skills can be an asset for you on the job.

Authorities may be at odds with your dreamy, imaginative side and you could feel torn between taking control and letting life happen on faith. You are learning to balance your merging, unifying side with an awareness of material limits and boundaries. You are learning when to dream and when to work.

Pluto is trine the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Augusta, GA; Havana, Cuba; Tampa, FL; St Petersburg, FL.

Your intensity may assist your career ambitions. Your organizational skills could aid your professional development. You could have excellent abilities in the business world and in research. Mates or partners may further your work in the world. Your self-discipline and self-control can be vocational assets. You may have an instinct for nuances, shades of meaning, and nonverbal cues. You could be a skilled negotiator and bargainer (perhaps even to the point of manipulation or emotional blackmail). You may have talent for working with money and investments.

Your probing instincts could enhance your authority and power. Authorities may feed your confrontational skills, although you are likely to have a natural desire for power. Mentors may encourage you to dig beneath the surface. Your intuitive grasp of people's motives could help you to achieve a position of power, authority or competence.

You want to build things to LAST here. You tend to have good endurance and followthrough, coping well in difficult situations. You can be more thorough, purposeful, organized and loyal here. Your practicality can enhance your dealing with shared resources and pleasures in this region.

Chiron is sextile the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Dayton, OH; Tallahassee, FL; Atlanta, GA; Lexington, KY; Cincinnati, OH; Lansing, MI; Columbus, GA; Ft Wayne, IN; Chattanooga, TN.

Your willingness to take risks can enlarge your career success here. An attraction to far horizons could enrich your work. You may sometimes want more than is possible from your job, yourself as a worker or the work ethic. Your urge to know more may expand your power base in this region. Your quest for truth and meaning may augment your sense of authority. Your intellectual openness could enhance your status.

Mentors may assist your ability to seek spiritual, metaphysical, religious answers. Further training and/or education is likely to add to your success in this area. Your high standards and quest for the best can increase your achievements. You have the capacity to blend idealism and realism; visions and pragmatism.

Ceres is trine the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Harrisburg, PA; Washington, DC; Richmond, VA; Rochester, NY.

Your willingness to work hard can be a vocational asset. Your family might assist your career. A feelings for plants, protection, nurturance or sustenance could contribute to your work. You can be of service through your work. Your concern for accuracy can enhance your accomplishments. Your good craftsmanship and determination to do things RIGHT are vocational aids. You probably have skills at organization. You are likely to be responsible and a good worker. You can be sensible about vocational planning in this area.

A mentoring figure might enhance your career. You can get along well with colleagues. You are probably practical and realistic, yet have a good balance between caring and common sense.

Pallas is square the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following city: Las Vegas, NV.

Love needs may conflict with work demands. Equalitarian instincts may be at odds with the desire for control. Duty may vie with relaxation. Authorities may seem at odds with fair play/justice. Worldly demands may compete with your desire for balance. You may feel torn between doing and observing. You may feel uncomfortable at trying to keep up appearances. You may compare and contrast too much, putting off decisive action.

You may feel torn between having a career and a relationship. Worldly ambitions might pull you away from artistic interests (and vice versa). A partner may seem to separate you from your work (or vice versa). A partner or partnership may pull you from a parent or parenting duties (and vice versa). Effort may vie with ease. Aesthetic interests may not seem compatible with practical necessities until you make a place in life for both. You may feel torn between firm, solid answers and weighing alternatives; sometimes one is more appropriate than the other. You are learning to blend firm control and authority with equalitarian, accepting attitudes.

Pallas is sextile the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: South Bend, IN; Montgomery, AL; Huntsville, AL; Birmingham, AL; Evansville, IN.

Your sense of fair play may assist your career. Your aesthetic ability could aid your vocational aspirations. Your competitive spirit might further your success. Your capacity to compare and contrast could enhance your work in this area.

Your reality quotient might assist your artistic endeavors here. Your practicality might enhance your relationships. Your ability to understand the limits might support your quest for balance. You may feel comfortable keeping up appearances. Authorities may assist your social contacts.

Your relationships may support your career. You know when to be an equal and when to take charge. A partner may contribute to your success. Authorities may help you to share.

You can be artistic as well as practical. You know when to think/observe and when to act/accomplish. You can balance work duties and love needs. Your sense of fair play can help you deal sensibly with the world.

Juno is opposite the Midheaven.

The aspect is close to exact for the following city: Eureka, CA.

Emotional commitments may represent security to you and the drive for partnership is highlighted here (forming one or deepening an existing one). You may be very attached to family. You are learning to balance equalitarian instincts and parental drives, along with compromising between emotions and common sense.

You may be very artistic in your home environment, but could feel that aesthetic involvements pull you from worldly success. Competitive interactions or power struggles may affect your domestic life. Perhaps your desire for authority or the power needs of others seem incompatible with sharing resources fairly. Joint finances could affect your career aspirations. A mate or spouse may influence your ambitions. You might feel that emotional commitments pull you away from career demands (or vice versa). You are learning to balance your needs for love and work.

Juno is trine the Midheaven.

No major cities are close to the line of this aspect.

Your emotional intensity may assist your career. Your aesthetic ability could aid your vocational aspirations. Your relationship(s) might contribute to your success. Your competitive spirit might further your achievements. Your ability to look beneath the surface could enhance your work.

Your reality quotient might assist your artistic endeavors. Your practicality might enhance your relationships. Your ability to understand the limits might support your quest for intimacy. You may be motivated to keep up appearances (look good). Authorities might further your social contacts.

Neptune is conjunct the IC.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Richmond, VA; Rochester, NY; Altoona, PA.

You have an intense connection to the world of the sublime in this area. You may have strong talent for beauty, aesthetics, healing or anything compassionate and inspired. You are apt to be quite sensitive, and may pick up feelings (even illnesses) from others. You need to practice "psychic self-protection" by knowing when to close the invisible door between yourself and others. (Illness is also possible if you deny your dependency needs--an unconscious route to getting some tender, loving care.) You naturally flow into an empathic connection with all of humanity.

You may bounce back to feelings from your early environment about beauty and ideals. Parental images (idealistic, religious, helping, healing or artistic OR escapist, martyred, weak, passive) could affect your current faith in life. Your ability to tune into a dream of infinite love and beauty will be affected by your early nurturing experiences.

You may idealize mothering, motherhood, the home, the homeland, or the nurturing role. There is no such thing as a cosmic womb. No one can be everything to another person. That road leads to self-sacrifice and martyrdom. Your spirit is fed through art, and through assisting others, but you must also take time alone to process your feelings, and be sure that you choose people who will give you support as well as receiving yours.

You may bounce between too much idealism and too much realism, between excessive compassion and too much pragmatism. Your magical, mystical, visualizing capacity may not seem to fit into the "real world" yet you need to combine intuition and reality-testing (material proofs). Your imagination can contribute to your vocation.

Authorities may be at odds with your dreamy, imaginative side and you could feel torn between taking control and letting life happen on faith. You are learning to balance your merging, unifying side with an awareness of material limits and boundaries.

Vesta is conjunct the IC.

The aspect is close to exact for the following city:
Yakima, WA.

This region highlights efficiency issues in your home. One person may be doing all the work, feeling burdened, frustrated and alienated. Perhaps someone is compulsively neat, picky, or unconsciously running to illness to escape working. Others might then work harder to pick up the slack. In such cases, the work attitude (critical, flaw-finding) can easily slip into close emotional attachments. Know when to accept people and situations as they are, and when (and how) to seek improvements.

A focus on health or healing may be significant in your life. Your work might involve basic security, food, shelter, clothing, land. You might work out of your home, make your home into a job, feel pulled between domestic and vocational demands, or work in a family business. You can be quite organized and precise in your home environment and might do too much for others (especially if you do not trust other people to be as thorough, dedicated or correct as you can be). Criticism or nitpicking might be an issue with those you love (from you to them or from them toward you). Your fix-it orientation could be constructively directed toward repairs in the home or a practical approach to family matters which does not diminish warmth and caring.

The Sun is opposite the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Kenora, ON, Canada; Duluth, MN; Madison, WI; Rockford, IL; Milwaukee, WI; Chicago, IL; Indianapolis, IN; Louisville, KY; Chattanooga, TN; Atlanta, GA; Columbus, GA; Macon, GA; Tampa, FL; St Petersburg, FL.

You are dealing with issues of ego, self-esteem, creativity and self-expression within your close, one-to-one relationships in this region. You may attract partners who are self-centered, egotistical, charming, dynamic, magnetic, exciting and larger than life. You could play the groupie role to someone else's Star (or vice versa). One danger would be denying your own charisma, experiencing excitement and thrills only through other people. Another danger is letting ego needs overwhelm relationships.

The goal is to be able to share the limelight with close partners. If each of you finds the other exciting, stimulating, and worthy of applause, the relationship works well. You spur each other on to higher, larger and greater efforts. Your love bond can be intense, passionate, eager and enthusiastic. You can become each other's best fans, constantly urging one another to believe, to try, to risk and applauding one another's successes. Discover and strengthen your charisma through interactions with others.

The Moon is conjunct the Ascendant.

No major cities are close to the line of this aspect.

Your emotional nature is in focus here, but you may sometimes feel torn between spontaneous expression, versus holding back until you feel safe. You could come across as moody if you swing between letting it all hang out and protecting your vulnerabilities.

You are also working on the balance between independence and closeness. You are likely to identify with nurturing, caretaking, security or protection. Home and family will probably be important to you here. However, you may choose to nurture only in your own way, on your own terms. This might mean sometimes you are alone in your parenting role. Another option is dependency, where you directly look for others to care for you. Generally, you will seek situations where you can be independent as well as emotionally involved.

You need a sense of security (emotional and physical) and may respond more to habit patterns and homing instincts. You can be receptive, gentle, caring and supportive while still maintaining your individuality.

The Moon is sextile the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Chicoutimi, QU, Canada; Bangor, ME.

You want very much to act in harmony with the needs of your family and people who depend upon you. You are instinctively seeking balance between self-assertion, dependency and nurturance. You probably appreciate your need for security and look for ways to further your attachments without sacrificing your independence.

You may be naturally receptive, concerned with issues of vulnerability, caretaking and emotional support in this region. You may seem moody as you can be cautious and inward, as well as direct and spontaneous. Many of your actions could be based on habit patterns; be sure you have built in positive habits. You are likely to feel strongly about protecting yourself and others.

Mercury is opposite the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Victoria, BC, Canada; Seattle, WA; Tacoma, WA; Portland, OR; Las Vegas, NV; Phoenix, AZ; Hermosillo, Mexico.

This area highlights your mind and ability to think and communicate through your peer relationships. You are apt to be attracted to people initially for their mental prowess, communication skills, agility, flexibility, objectivity or detachment. If you unconsciously expect your partner or other people to express this part of life for you, you may even believe that those people around you are "smarter" or better at communicating. Your partner might be too lighthearted, too casual, too flippant. An associate could be too cool, detached or rationalizing.

By sharing these themes in your close associations, you can have good communication and get involved with people who are mentally stimulating. You can always be learning from and teaching one another. You may enjoy repartee, puns, jokes, trivia or other mind games. You can laugh together, share a youthful attitude and be able to discuss almost anything. You need to exercise your mind and tongue in this region.

Venus is trine the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Montpelier, VT; Concord, NH; Manchester, NH; Boston, MA; Worcester, MA; Providence, RI.

Your immediate impulses tend toward pleasure-seeking in this region. You may be more sensual and attracted to material gratification. You probably appreciate stability and predictability, looking for a smooth, easy flow in life. You could be a bit indulgent (of self and/or others).

You might express yourself through tangible forms of beauty, making money, or collecting possessions. Your instincts flow toward physical resources and pleasures. You might beautify your personal appearance.

You can be charming, diplomatic and sweet. You are able to put people at ease and tend to focus on the positive in interactions. With peacemaking capacities highlighted, you could be easygoing and prefer to avoid any unpleasantness. You might compromise too much on occasion, but will be oriented toward creating harmony and balance.

Mars is conjunct the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Kenora, ON, Canada; Duluth, MN; St Paul, MN; Minneapolis, MN; Eau Claire, WI; Rochester, MN; Dubuque, IA; Davenport, IA; Cedar Rapids, IA; Rockford, IL; Madison, WI; Peoria, IL; Springfield, IL; Milwaukee, WI; Evansville, IN; Louisville, KY; Nashville, TN; Huntsville, AL; Birmingham, AL; Chattanooga, TN; Columbus, GA; Montgomery, AL; Atlanta, GA.

You need to express yourself. Spontaneity is more accentuated here, and you are likely to be assertive.

Your desire nature is in focus; you probably prefer immediate gratification. You may be impatient, or subject to irritation and anger. Regular physical activity (sports, working out, etc.) is advisable to release any pent-up energy. You will detest being confined or held in. You can be quite independent and are likely to have a strong sense of personal rights.

You need to feel you can do your own thing in this area, and have direct power and control. You may tend to operate as a loner, but probably have high energy. You are apt to direct, forthright, and courageous.

Jupiter is trine the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Eureka, CA; San Francisco, CA; San Jose, CA; Santa Barbara, CA.

This region accentuates your desire to act in support of your ideals and goals. Your personal action may further a philosophy, religion or spiritual quest. Your ideals affect what you do and how you see yourself. Moral probity and a high standard of ethics are probably important to you here. You may expect a lot of yourself, wanting to measure up to a high standard (but sometimes afraid your standard is TOO high). You truly want to be THE BEST, to do your best.

You are likely to be optimistic, confident and outgoing. Because you trust in the future, you are willing to take risks in seeking truth, wisdom and broadened horizons. You may view the world as an arena for growth and larger than life experiences. You can be quite generous, cheerful and possess a wide range of knowledge. You may instinctively make the most of your opportunities in this area.

Saturn is opposite the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Kenora, ON, Canada; Duluth, MN; St Paul, MN; Minneapolis, MN; Rochester, MN; Eau Claire, WI; Dubuque, IA; Davenport, IA; Peoria, IL; Springfield, IL;

Evansville, IN; Huntsville, AL; Nashville, TN; Birmingham, AL; Montgomery, AL; Columbus, GA; Tallahassee, FL; St Petersburg, FL; Havana, Cuba.

This area emphasizes issues of authority, power, limits, anxiety, control, fear, time, responsibility and competence in relationships. One option is avoiding relationships for fear of being controlled, hurt, put-down or rejected. Another choice is to attract a "father figure"--someone who seems strong, responsible, stable, dependable and usually ends up dominating, dictatorial and demanding. Or, you may unconsciously adopt the "father" role and attract people who want to lay all their burdens on your shoulder and hand the responsibility for their lives over to you.

The key issue is SHARED responsibility and competence. You may work with people--either a people-oriented profession (e.g., counseling, consulting, personnel, etc.) or literally sharing a job or tasks with a partner. This helps to channel the judgmental, flaw-finding focus into the physical tasks, rather than into picking one another apart as people. You may also work AT your relationships, seeking to constantly improve, strengthen and lengthen your commitments. As long as both people are motivated in this direction, it works well. You can be quite willing to be practical and realistic about relationship issues, facing facts squarely and willing to work at making things better. This area highlights your sense of responsibility within interpersonal exchanges.

Uranus is conjunct the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Fredericton, NB, Canada; St John, NB, Canada; Moncton, NB, Canada.

You are likely to be an individualist, with freedom drives accented in this area. You can be quite original, inventive or eccentric and are apt to resist being tied down, pinned down or hemmed in. You are willing to take risks, especially to go "where no one has gone before" in terms of your thinking. You are drawn by the future, by limitless possibilities.

Humanitarian instincts may come naturally to you now. With a broad perspective, you appreciate equality, rights, and issues of justice, but can be detached in terms of one-on-one encounters.

You may become personally active in astrology, electronics, new age activities, groups, social causes, or anything unique or on the cutting edge of change and technology.

Uranus is sextile the Ascendant.

No major cities are close to the line of this aspect.

This region highlights freedom, individuality, and inventiveness. You may encourage that in others as well as yourself. With an innovative bent accented, you can bring fresh perspectives to stale problems or situations. You may contact a wide variety of people, perhaps through groups, networking social causes, or a circle of very different friends.

You will be attracted by the future, with an optimistic tendency to believe that the best is yet to come. You appreciate novelty and variety more and are likely to seek much stimulation and excitement in this region. The new has more appeal than the old; you thrive on growth and change.

Neptune is square the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Duluth, MN; Madison, WI; Milwaukee, WI; Rockford, IL; Chicago, IL; Indianapolis, IN; Louisville, KY; Chattanooga, TN; Atlanta, GA; Macon, GA; Tampa, FL; St Petersburg, FL; Orlando, FL; Miami, FL.

This region highlights the balance between self-assertion and self-sacrifice. Your personal needs may conflict with a desire to rescue, to save and to succor. You may not be sure when to look after yourself and when to take care of the universe. You probably give too much to others on occasion, and expect too much from them at other times.

You may be physically sensitive, and should be cautious with drugs (including prescription) and alcohol. You might act impulsively against your intuition, but with practice can tune into your inner wisdom and be "led" to do the right thing.

You need to become personally active in a quest for infinite love and beauty. This could include involvement with philanthropy or compassionate activities. It could include artistic endeavors, especially grace in motion (e.g., dancing, skating, gymnastics, etc.). It would include idealistic pursuits which strive to improve the world. You need to be personally inspired and inspiring.

Neptune is trine the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Eureka, CA; San Francisco, CA; San Jose, CA.

This area highlights acting on behalf of your visions, imagination, idealism or aesthetic creativity. You may literally move with beauty or strive to be compassionate, empathic, or gentle in your self-expression.

Your faith or capacity to merge with something Higher in life nourishes your sense of identity and willingness to be who you are. You can appreciate Union, while retaining personal individuality. Your yearning for infinite love and beauty may tempt you toward escapism if the "real world" seems imperfect or ugly. Or, you might fall into savior/victim (rescuer/enabler) scripts, seeking to be everything to someone, or expecting another to bring you "heaven on earth."

You can be quite sensitive, intuitive, and graceful here. Music, art, nature, and spiritual activities increase your physical vitality and nourish your ability to take direct, expressive action.

Pluto is sextile the Ascendant.

No major cities are close to the line of this aspect.

Your emotions are apt to be more intense in this region. Self-mastery probably appeals to you, but you may experience extremes (feast versus famine) in your handling of food, alcohol, money, and pleasures. Sexual and sensual drives are likely to be marked, yet you wish control as well as indulgence.

You will be drawn toward an intimate connection with a mate, and have the ability to share well. By acknowledging your independence and need for control as well as your mate's, you can work out reasonable compromises and opportunities to take turns taking charge.

You will want your personal actions to probe, to dig out secrets, to uncover what is hidden, to get to the bottom of things. This region highlights investigative urges, so you may wish to illuminate, clarify and transform your own inner motives as well as those of other people.

Chiron is trine the Ascendant.

No major cities are close to the line of this aspect.

This region accentuates your desire to seek the truth, and an urge to expand your horizons. Whether drawn toward religion, education, travel or other adventurous, exploratory activities, you will thrive in an atmosphere of intellectual stimulation and going beyond traditional limits.

You need to act on behalf of high ideals and may be seeking perfection (perhaps demanding too much from yourself, other people or life in general). You can enjoy experimenting and taking risks; you are eager to increase freedom on many levels.

Ceres is sextile the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Eureka, CA; San Francisco, CA; San Jose, CA; Santa Barbara, CA.

You may personally support nurturing, caretaking activities in this region. You could express through a "mother earth" role, or receive assistance and support from family members. A mothering figure might help you get what you want in life.

Your energy goes toward productivity and getting the job done. You may become active in supporting health, improvement, efficiency and competence. Your immediate impulses probably sway toward being practical and helpful. You may be more skilled at analysis or handling details and could increase your talent for nutrition, healing or craftsmanship.

Pallas is conjunct the Ascendant.

No major cities are close to the line of this aspect.

Your drive for equality is in high focus here. You may be willing to fight for fair play, for justice, and for balance and even-handedness. This could include a competitive streak that is best directed to sports, games, business or fighting for causes. (It is not advisable to compete in relationships intended to be cooperative.)

You may get very personally involved with aesthetic or artistic endeavors. You could develop a talent for art or for creating beauty. You may be more sensitive to line, form, balance and harmony--particularly visual or graphic arts such as photography, design, decorating, architecture, painting, etc. You may increase your physical grace or attractiveness.

You are apt to identify with relationships, to learn about yourself through interactions with others. Having a partner is more important to you here; you make it a priority. You are working on the balance between personal and interpersonal needs. The challenge is to share the power equally with someone else, neither demanding everything on your terms, nor giving in totally to someone else's preferences. Taking turns will help to keep a balance.

Pallas is sextile the Ascendant.

No major cities are close to the line of this aspect.

You are likely to act on behalf of balance, justice, harmony or beauty. You could become more physically graceful or involved in active forms of aesthetics. You might fight for fair play or equal opportunity in this area.

You can relate well to people, having an instinctive appreciation of other people's viewpoints. You enjoy the give-and-take in relationships. Cooperation as well as competition offer forums for you to express yourself and interact with others. You can be quite just, equalitarian and objective in this region.

Juno is sextile the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Kelowna, BC, Canada; Spokane, WA; Lewiston, ID; Twin Falls, ID; Ogden, UT; Provo, UT; Salt Lake City, UT; El Paso, TX; Chihuahua, Mexico; Torreon, Mexico; San Luis Potosi, Mexico.

You are likely to seek interactions with others, and harmony with a partner (e.g., spouse) is quite possible. Your instinctive grasp of the ebb-and-flow in relationships is highlighted; you understand the need for compromise and taking turns with each other. You have a knack for maintaining independence within the context of a deep, emotional tie. Intimacy nourishes you.

Your energy flows easily into aesthetic activities (especially on the visual level). Your eye for line, form, color or balance may become increasingly skilled. Grace and charm are accentuated here.

Vesta is sextile the Ascendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Calgary, AB, Canada; Great Falls, MT; Helena, MT; Bozeman, MT; Denver, CO; Boulder, CO; Pueblo, CO; Colorado Springs, CO; Lubbock, TX.

Your personal action flows into efficient functioning--on the body and in the job. You are motivated to do things well, to achieve tangible results in the world. You can be dedicated, hardworking, sensible and painstaking in this region.

You may be drawn to regimes which improve your health, or could be active in fields of nutrition, healing, crafts, repairs, etc. Your instinct for finding flaws is accented and may help you to decide what will enhance the situation. You can act with thoroughness and planning.

The Sun is conjunct the Descendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Kenora, ON, Canada; Duluth, MN; Madison, WI; Rockford, IL; Milwaukee, WI; Chicago, IL; Indianapolis, IN; Louisville, KY; Chattanooga, TN; Atlanta, GA; Columbus, GA; Macon, GA; Tampa, FL; St Petersburg, FL.

You are dealing with issues of ego, self-esteem, creativity and self-expression within your close, one-to-one relationships in this region. You may attract partners who are self-centered, egotistical, charming, dynamic, magnetic, exciting and larger than life. You could play the groupie role to someone else's Star (or vice versa). One danger would be denying your own charisma, experiencing excitement and thrills only through other people. Another danger is letting ego needs overwhelm relationships.

The goal is to be able to share the limelight with close partners. If each of you finds the other exciting, stimulating, and worthy of applause, the relationship works well. You spur each other on to higher, larger and greater efforts. Your love bond can be intense, passionate, eager and enthusiastic. You can become each other's best fans, constantly urging one another to believe, to try, to risk and applauding one another's successes.

The Moon is opposite the Descendant.

No major cities are close to the line of this aspect.

Your emotional nature is in focus here, but you may sometimes feel torn between spontaneous expression, versus holding back until you feel safe. You could come across as moody if you swing between letting it all hang out and protecting your vulnerabilities.

You are also working on the balance between independence and closeness. You are likely to identify with nurturing, caretaking, security or protection. Home and family may be more important in this area, or simply the desire for an emotional attachment. You may feel torn between dependency versus nurturing in relationships; a bit of both is advisable. Generally, you need associations in which you can be independent as well as emotionally involved.

You need a sense of security (emotional and physical) and may respond more to habit patterns and homing instincts. Your relationships should feed your receptive, gentle, caring and supportive side, while still affirming your individuality.

The Moon is trine the Descendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Chicoutimi, QU, Canada; Bangor, ME.

Partners may feed your emotions. Others appreciate/ further your security needs. Your caretaking instincts assist your relationship choices. Your relationships feed your dependency needs. You can nurture and be nurtured by a partner. You can balance assertion and assistance in relationships. Your associates may compensate for your vulnerabilities. Others appreciate your homing instincts. Your relationships support your receptivity. Mercury is conjunct the Descendant.

The aspect is close to exact for the following cities: Victoria, BC, Canada; Seattle, WA; Tacoma, WA; Portland, OR; Las Vegas, NV; Phoenix, AZ; Hermosillo, Mexico.

This area highlights your mind and ability to think and communicate through your peer relationships. You are apt to be attracted to people initially for their mental prowess, communication skills, agility, flexibility, objectivity or detachment. If you unconsciously expect your partner or other people to express this part of life for you, you may even believe that those people around you are "smarter" or better at communicating. Your partner might be too lighthearted, too casual, too flippant. A partner could be too cool, detached or rationalizing.

By sharing these themes in your close associations, you can have good communication and get involved with people who are mentally stimulating. You can always be learning from and teaching one another. You may enjoy repartee, puns, jokes, trivia or other mind games. You can laugh together, share a youthful attitude and be able to discuss almost anything.
