University of California, Riverside

Welcome from
Timothy P. White

On behalf of all of us at the University of California, Riverside, I welcome you to our University, which has a long tradition of hosting international students and scholars. From its beginning, the University of California, Riverside has actively participated in international exchanges, projects and programs. International students at the University of California, Riverside have enriched our programs and enhanced scholarship and research.

I strongly believe that in this increasingly global society, it is important for all students to increase their international knowledge and intercultural competence in order to become prepared to actively participate in an international environment. Having international students at UCR broadens and enriches the educational experience for all of our students.

We hope you have a wonderful experience at the University of California, Riverside, and we hope that you will also find many opportunities to meet and participate in academic and cultural activities with our diverse population of domestic students.

Sincerely,

Timothy P. White
Chancellor, UC Riverside

We welcome you the University of California, Riverside Extension Center, which delivers English Language, Certificate and Diploma programs to over 3000 international students each year. UCR Extension is a great way for students to receive a University of California certificate or diploma, which is recognized around the world. Your international experience at the University of California, Riverside, will change your life and how you think about the world. You will meet and study with students from all over the world with whom you will form lifetime friendships. You can even choose to study with American students or have an American conversation partner. Whether you study in an English Language program or enroll in one of our Certificate or Post Graduate Diplomas, the skills you learn and the experiences you have at UCR Extension will help you achieve your personal and career goals.

Sincerely,

Sharon Duffy
Dean, UCR Extension

Bronwyn Jenkins-Deas

Come and join me in sunny Southern California and experience the California dream!!!

I know you'll choose Riverside for the same reasons I chose to move here from Canada. The sun is always shining, the people are very friendly and internationally minded, the cost of living is much lower than the bigger cities and Riverside is the best central location in Southern California to visit all the famous sites I know you are going to want to visit – Disneyland, Hollywood, San Diego, the beautiful California beaches, Palm Springs, Las Vegas and others.

The University of California, Riverside (UCR), has one of the largest and most successful international programs in the U.S.A. Each year we welcome over 3000 international students from over 40 countries. UCR has been offering high quality programs since 1975, including a multiple-level ESL program, business and TESOL programs. We also offer unique programs like the University Credit Program (UCP), which allows qualified students to take credit courses at the University of California, Riverside, or our new Postgraduate Diploma in Hospitality Management where students who graduate will also earn a diploma from the American Hotel and Lodging Educational Institute, an international credential recognized globally.

So come and experience the California dream with me at the University of California, Riverside – your place to shine!

Sincerely,

Ms. Bronwyn Jenkins-Deas

Do you want to...

- Improve your English to communicate effectively in the business world?
- Perfect your English to help you get a good job in any business field?
- Learn additional skills to help you succeed in your career?
- Make American business connections?

English is the language of international business. International professionals who seek a successful career in today's complex global business environment must be able to function at a high level of competence in English. Whether you are thinking about pursuing a business career or you are a business professional wanting to improve your English skills to be able to communicate better with international clients and partners, the English for International Business program (EIB) will give you the knowledge, the skills and the confidence you need to communicate effectively in any business setting.

Designed for advanced-level students of English, the EIB program is offered in 4- and 10-week sessions, four times a year, and focuses on improving specific skills for business communication, including:

- North American business concepts, practices and principles
- Business writing and computing, including letters, proposals, reports and resumes
- Business meetings, presentations, negotiations and case studies
- Business reading and business culture
- Business idioms and functions

Students who do not provide an approved English assessment test score are tested upon arrival and may be advised to attend the Intensive English Program (pages 8 and 9) instead.

Visits to local businesses

As part of the EIB program, site visits to local businesses are arranged to familiarize students with a range of business environments. The program also includes guest lecturers with expertise in a variety of business fields.

Program Highlights

- 4-week and 10-week intensive sessions
- 24-32 hours of business English each week
- Offered winter, spring, summer and fall
- Advanced-level English required (minimum TOEFL 450 PBT, 45 iBT; IELTS 4.0; TOEIC 500; or IEP levels 500 or 600)
- Option to take university classes
- Small classes (average 15 students per class)
- Students from different countries
- Minimum age: 17

Do you want to...

- Improve your English listening and speaking skills to be able to communicate effectively?
- Feel confident speaking English with native speakers?
- Feel comfortable making oral presentations?
- Improve your pronunciation?
- Perfect your English to help you get a good job in which you can use your English?

Most students learn English at school with a focus on reading and writing skills. For many students, there are not enough opportunities to engage in English conversation in their own country, and they don't have the confidence to practice spoken English. Whether you have to use English in your work and want to improve your oral English, you are an English teacher in another country and want to enhance your teaching or practice your oral skills to have general conversations or conduct business in English, Improving Oral Fluency (IOF) gives you the oral skills and practice you need to communicate successfully.

Designed for advanced-level students, the IOF program is offered in 4-, 6- and 10-week sessions, four times a year, and focuses on improving specific oral skills including:

- Pronunciation
- Grammar for Oral Fluency
- Oral Skills Development

Students who do not provide an approved English assessment test score are tested upon arrival and may be advised to attend the Intensive English Program (pages 8 and 9) instead.

Electives

If you are an IOF student enrolled in a 10-week session, you have the opportunity to increase your oral English skills by joining an elective course as part of your weekly program. You may choose from a range of specialized courses in English that focus on a particular interest area. Choices may include:

- Advanced Vocabulary
- American Idioms
- Business English
- English Through Drama
- English Through Film
- English Through Music
- Global Issues
- GRE/GMAT Preparation
- Listening
- Public Speaking

Program Highlights

- 4-, 6- and 10-week intensive sessions
- 24 hours of oral skills development each week
- Offered winter, spring, summer and fall
- Advanced-level English required (minimum TOEFL 450 PBT, 45 iBT; IELTS 4.0; TOEIC 500; or IEP levels 500 or 600)
- Option to take university classes
- Small classes (average 15 students per class)
- Students from many different countries
- Minimum age: 15

Dear brother
I've continued my education taking the IOF program at UCR Extension. I strongly believe that being a student in this program has provided me lots of benefits. I've met lots of people from different countries and I've learned about their cultures. I've been to many marvelous cities near Riverside. This program also made me feel more confident in speaking English. I'm very pleased to study at UCR.

Academic, Professional and Postgraduate Programs

International Education Programs offers a range of academic, professional and postgraduate programs that have flexible admission requirements and allow students to earn a highly valued University of California Certificate or Diploma without having to meet the strict admission requirements for undergraduate and graduate study.

The academic, professional and postgraduate programs are designed for advanced speakers of English who wish to study a specialized area to enhance their skills and expand their educational or professional experience.

Academic Programs

The University Admission Preparation Program (UAPP)

is an advanced academic preparation program developed to help participants become successful undergraduate or graduate students in a North American university. Students can explore a wide variety of academic courses and get a solid foundation for academic study (page 16).

University Credit Program (UCP)

Study with American students. If you are enrolled in an academic program, you have the opportunity to study with American students by taking University of California, Riverside, Extension classes or University of California, Riverside, undergraduate or graduate classes (page 17). (Subject to availability. Selection can not be guaranteed. You must meet any prerequisite requirements. MBA classes require additional fees.)

Professional and Postgraduate Programs

Teaching English to Speakers of Other Languages Certificate Program (TESOL)

is a comprehensive teacher development program that allows current teachers or prospective teachers planning to teach abroad to understand the most up-to-date North American teaching trends and methods and earn an internationally recognized teaching certificate (page 18).

Academic-year Certificate Programs (AYCP)

are designed for high school graduates and business professionals and include 9 months full-time study in an evening format in a wide variety of professional areas, leading to a University of California, Riverside, Extension certificate (page 19).

Postgraduate Diplomas in Hospitality and Business Management (PGDHM and PGDM)

are postgraduate-level programs that are recognized alternatives to an MBA or graduate program and offer comprehensive postgraduate-level study that prepare students to work anywhere in the world and include an opportunity for one year of optional practical training in the US (pages 22-25).

Global Nursing Review Program (GNRP)

assists international nursing professionals to develop a clear understanding of the philosophy and practice of nursing in the US, provides experience working in a US hospital or clinic, prepares participants for the NCLEX-RN examination and improves international employment possibilities (pages 26 and 27).

Your pathway to success

Optional Practical Training (OPT)

Students who study a minimum of one full-time academic year (9 months) at the University of California, Riverside, in a professional or postgraduate program may apply for permission to work for up to 12 months in their field of study. This allows students an opportunity to apply the knowledge acquired in the classroom to a practical work experience off campus. This work experience is called Optional Practical Training (OPT).

The University of California, Riverside, IEP will assist students with their OPT application; however, students are responsible for finding their own job opportunity.

Internship Program

Participants who successfully complete the 10-week Postgraduate Certificate in Management (PGCM) program may enter a 10-week Internship Program which provides unpaid job placement in an American company.

Admission Requirements

Academic, Professional and Postgraduate Programs require an advanced level of English (see individual program description for language requirements). Students who can not show official scores will be tested upon arrival. Students who do not meet the English language requirement will be referred to the University of California, Riverside, English language program. Postgraduate programs normally require a bachelor's degree (or equivalent combination of education and management experience).

The California Postsecondary Education System

The California postsecondary education system consists of a full range of public and private schools.

The University of California System (UC)

The top State research university is the University of California, which consists of 10 campuses including Berkeley, Davis, Irvine, Los Angeles, Merced, Riverside, San Diego, San Francisco, Santa Barbara and Santa Cruz, and is considered the world's finest public university system. The UC system offers access to students from the top 12.5% of California high school graduates and provides most graduate studies and research.

The California State System (CSU)

The CSU is the largest university system in the US and is intended for the top one-third of California high school students. The CSU system consists of 23 campuses. The universities within CSU are primarily for undergraduate education, although many of the larger campuses offer master's-level degrees and since 2007, the CSU is authorized to award doctoral-level degrees in Education (Ed.D.).

The California Community College System

The California Community College System has 109 campuses and provides first- and second-year courses only, leading to Associate of Arts or Associate of Science Degrees. Students can then transfer to the CSU or UC system to complete their third and fourth years and receive their bachelor's degree.

Private Education

California has hundreds of other private colleges and universities, including many religious and special-purpose institutions

Accreditation

Accreditation is a certification of the academic quality of an institution of higher learning. The Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) is responsible for the accreditation of public and private universities and colleges in California.

Applying for Undergraduate Admission

It is difficult for international students to enter the University of California, Riverside, as first-year undergraduate students. Students must have exceptional high school grades, meet the language requirement and have successfully completed the SAT exams before graduating from their home country. Most undergraduate students attend a California community college for the first two years and then transfer to the UC, CSU systems or to another college or university for degree completion. There are many advantages of studying in the community college system for the first two years. The programs and courses are of high quality. The entrance requirements are lower and students are not required to take the SAT exams. Courses can easily be transferred to the CSU or UC system or to any university in the US. Courses are also cheaper in the community colleges than at a CSU or UC.

Applying for Graduate Programs

Admission to graduate programs at the University of California, Riverside, is highly competitive. Students must meet strict admission requirements and since the number of qualified applicants may exceed the number of places available, many well-qualified candidates may not be accommodated.

Conditional Admission

The University of California, Riverside, International Education Programs wants to help students successfully enter undergraduate and graduate programs in the U.S. and has partnered with several community colleges and universities to provide greater access to their programs. These colleges and universities have agreed to offer conditional admission to students who have completed level 600 of the Intensive English Program (IEP) or the University Admission Preparation Program (UAPP) at the University of California, Riverside. Students must meet all academic requirements for the intended program. (Please visit our web site for a complete list of partner colleges.)

University and College Counseling Services

The University of California, Riverside, International Education Programs provides information and counseling services to IEP students wishing to pursue undergraduate or graduate study at any institution in the US. There is no additional charge for these services. IEP also organizes a university and college fair each session where local and pathway partner institutions are invited to talk about their academic programs.

Do you want...

- A comprehensive postgraduate business program from a world-class university?
- A one-year postgraduate program that will prepare you for work in business anywhere in the world?
- Paid training in a business field?
- No GMAT requirement?
- No management experience requirement?

For students who hold a bachelor's degree in any area, the PGDM is a comprehensive exploration of the issues of management in a global business environment that gives students the opportunity to combine academic study, intensive practical experience and paid on-the-job work experience.

The program is structured into three 10-week sessions, concentrating on the latest management practices and strategies. Study is full-time, combining lectures and interactive discussion, case studies and site visits to Southern California corporations and other places of professional interest. Participants have the opportunity to network with professionals from around the world and are provided maximum exposure to American business practices.

Your best option for a successful career in Hospitality Management

Do you want...

- A program that will help you prepare for the National Council Licensure Examination-Registered Nurse (NCLEX-RN)?
- A better understanding of Western medical theory and practice?
- An option for one-year paid practical training in the US?
- An edge in the international job market?
- To become a qualified nurse in the US?
- To develop strong international contacts?

Nurses are skilled practitioners who save lives and improve patient outcomes every day in a wide variety of settings. Most nurses practice in their home countries, but as globalization increases, there is a need for skilled nurses who can be successful in other countries as well, who can communicate fully in English and who are familiar with increasingly complex health care and care technology. The GNRP is a comprehensive program for international nursing professionals who want to become global nurses. The program helps participants develop a clear understanding of the philosophy and practice of nursing in the US, provides experience working in a US hospital or clinic with ongoing feedback from a mentor, prepares participants for the NCLEX-RN examination and improves international employment possibilities.

First Quarter

- Diagnosis, Intervention and Documentation Strategies
- NCLEX-RN Exam Preparation, Part I
- Nursing Culture in the US
- Medical Terminology and Pronunciation, Part I
- Computer-assisted Practice in Nursing Applications (CAPNA)

Second Quarter

- Fundamentals of Nursing Through Virtual Clinical Excursions
- Intervention and Documentation Strategies, Part II
- NCLEX-RN Exam Preparation, Part II
- Medical Terminology and Pronunciation, Part II
- Computer-assisted Practice in Nursing Applications (CAPNA)
- Nursing Simulation Lab, Part I
- Internship in a Healthcare Setting, Part I

Third Quarter

- Introduction to the US Healthcare System
- Communication for Health Care Professionals
- NCLEX-RN Exam Preparation, Part III
- Nursing Simulation Lab, Part II
- Internship in a Healthcare Setting, Part II

Upon completion of the 3-session course requirements, students will take the NCLEX-RN examination and should receive results within two to four weeks.

Optional Practical Training (OPT)

Students who successfully complete the full academic requirements for the Global Nursing Review Program and pass the NCLEX-RN exam will be eligible for up to 12 months of temporary employment in the United States. Salaries will be equivalent to salaries paid to US employees with similar education and experience.

Experienced Instructors

Courses are taught by nursing professionals, giving insight into the most current global nursing practices.

Program Highlights

- Three 10-week intensive academic sessions
- Offered four quarters a year
- One-year paid Optional Practical Training (OPT)
- Advanced level of English required (minimum of TOEFL 533 PBT, 72 iBT; IELTS 6.0; TOEIC 700)

A group from Mokpo and Chonnam National Universities (Korea) attended a customized program combining English and site visits to internationally recognized IT companies in Southern California. The picture shows the group with Riverside Mayor Ron Loveridge.

Group English Language Programs

The University of California, Riverside, International Education Programs designs short-term programs throughout the year for individual high schools, universities and colleges. These courses are custom-designed for a minimum of 10 students. Courses combine formal classroom instruction with a variety of social and cultural activities. The minimum age for students in a group program is 10 years old.

Institutions may send students into regularly scheduled classes with participants from other countries. Extra services can be arranged at the request of the institution.

Institutions also have the option of sending a special group of students separate from the regular sessions, for programs of any length and for dates that suit their date preferences. Tuition and service fees are determined on an individual program basis.

Students from a group program from the Josai Business and Journalism Department enjoying the attractions of downtown Riverside.

Dear International Universities and Colleges,
Josai University and Josai International University have had a successful partnership with UCR since 1986. Our students have had many opportunities to practice and gain confidence in English, which will provide better opportunities for work in Japan when they graduate. We feel it is important to be able to offer this opportunity to our JU and JIU students. We highly recommend your students to UCR.
Minoru Ohashi, Professor
(Josai University)

Riverside is the BEST location in Southern California to visit famous attractions. We are right in the center, which means you can get to most places in less than two hours. Outdoor activities are the way of life here and you can enjoy many beautiful beaches and parks. You can hike, bike, swim, surf, boogie board and skate – you can even ski and snowboard in the winter, with the mountains only an hour away. Imagine skiing in the morning and sun tanning in the afternoon. Southern California is one of the few places in the world where you can do it all.

Tours

The University of California, Riverside, International Education Programs has an Office of Social and Cultural Activities whose job it is to organize a wide range of optional student tours including:

- Disneyland
- Knott's Berry Farm
- Universal Studios
- San Diego
- Beaches
- Shopping Centers
- Los Angeles
- Palm Springs
- Grand Canyon
- Magic Mountain
- Water Theme Parks
- Sea World
- San Diego Zoo
- Baseball Games
- Hollywood
- Santa Barbara
- Las Vegas
- San Francisco

The tours require a fee to cover transportation, escort and entrance fees but all tours are offered at very special low student rates.

Activities

In addition to your study, we want you to have a great time and meet new friends from around the world. The office of Social and Cultural Activities plans many events each quarter that are open to all our students. Several parties are organized that celebrate different cultures and US holidays.

American Conversation Partner Program

As a University of California, Riverside, IEP student in a 10-week program, you can enroll in the American Conversation Partner Program, which matches you with selected American students or community members for weekly conversation. The American students and community members who sign up for this program are internationally minded and interested in learning about other cultures. The American Conversation Partner Program is a great way to meet new friends, learn about American culture and practice English.

12 months and up (per month)	$920 (studio), $900 (single), $485 (double)

Dear Grandparents,

I've had good experiences in Riverside. People such as host mother and teachers have warm hearts. If I have a problem, they help me. In addition, I made many friends from other countries. When I meet these people, it widens my horizons. If I had stayed in Japan, I couldn't have had these experiences.

Kazuyuki Yamamoto (Japan)

Off-Campus Housing

Homestay

Homestay is the best opportunity for students to experience American life and customs and to improve their English. It is also the most economical housing option. Students who choose homestay stay with an American family. All rooms are furnished, double-occupancy. All meals are provided. The family also provides transportation to and from school daily.

Fees (per person)

Placement Fee	$150
Short-term (1-9 weeks)	$200 per week, $29 per extra day
Long-term (10+ weeks)	$800 per month, $27 per extra day

Additional Student Services

At the University of California, Riverside, students are very important to us. The IEP program staff are selected for their dedication to students. Many of our staff are our former students. We offer a full range of student services to support your stay in America. Assistance is available in over 10 languages.

Immigration Assistance

Whether you want to transfer to or from another school, extend your stay, leave the country for a vacation, or apply for practical training, we will assist you throughout the process.

Airport Transfer

We provide transportation between Los Angeles International Airport or Ontario International Airport and University of California, Riverside. The current fees are LAX $100 one way and Ontario $50 one way.

University and College Counseling

If you want to continue your studies at an American university or college, we will help you find a school that meets your needs and qualifications and assist you with the application process. You should bring official English translations of transcripts showing all high school and university work completed.

Letter of Conditional Admission

Conditional acceptance to certain colleges and universities for undergraduate or graduate studies is possible for qualified applicants before they come to the U.S. Students who have met all the academic requirements may be admitted subject to successful completion of their English language study at the University of California, Riverside.

TOEFL and TOEIC Exams

The Institutional TOEFL and the TOEIC exams are offered at the Extension Center twice every 10-week session. Students interested in taking the new internet-based TOEFL test can get assistance to make a reservation at an authorized testing site from the College Counseling Office.

Additional Services

- Sports Facilities
- Computer Labs
- Internet Access
- Student Identification Card

General Information

Visas

Students accepted for study in any program with 18 hours of instruction or more need an I-20 form (Certificate of Student Eligibility) so that they may obtain a student visa (F-1) at the nearest United States Consulate.

Students enrolled in a program with fewer than 18 hours of instruction per week are not required to have an F-1 visa.

Medical Insurance

All students are required to purchase health and accident insurance through IEP. Our insurance provides coverage of U.S. $250,000 per accident or illness. Health insurance is approximately $30 per week.

Application Deadlines

English Language Programs: Applications are accepted until the program is full.

Professional and Postgraduate Programs: The deadline for application is 45 days before the starting date of the program or individual module.

It can take several weeks to receive an I-20, so please send your application early. We recommend you send application materials at least 60 days prior to the start of the program. Students who apply for an I-20 within 30 days of the program will be sent their documents by express mail service and will be required to pay the $50 express mailing fee.

Tuition Payment

All program fees must be paid on or before Registration Day. Fees can be paid with cashier's check/money order made payable to "UC Regents", cash, travelers' checks or with VISA or MasterCard.

Refund Policy

Full tuition can only be refunded upon receipt of the following BEFORE classes begin: a written request for withdrawal from the program and the original I-20 issued by University of California, Riverside, Extension, if applicable.

Refund requests received on the first day of the program after the first class has started will be entitled to a 50 percent refund of the program's tuition.

No refunds will be granted AFTER the first day of classes in any program.

Classes may be cancelled due to insufficient enrollment. In this case, all fees are refundable.

Refund requests take six to eight weeks to be processed. Program application fees and housing placement fees are non-refundable.

There is a $50 processing fee for each refund request.
