

17th Annual "Fore Our Schools" Golf Tournament

Friday, September 23, 2016

Villas of Grand Cypress Golf Resort
One North Jacaranda Street, Orlando, FL 32836
7 am - Registration / Breakfast ♦ 8 am - Shotgun Start

The "Fore Our Schools" Golf Tournament provides an opportunity for the community to partner with the Foundation and fund programs to support Orange County Public School students and teachers. Since the first tournament in 1999, it has netted nearly $2 million.

The tournament uses two award-winning Jack Nicklaus designed courses at Grand Cypress. There are contests for hole-in-one, longest drive, closest to the pin and putting ... along with a premier raffle/silent auction and giveaways. This tournament provides a great opportunity to meet and network with Orange County School Board members, district leadership and other community businessmen/women while investing in the education of our future leaders.

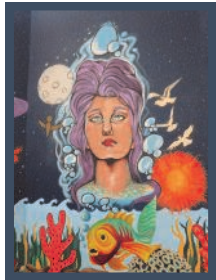

All players receive a round of golf, breakfast, lunch, swag bag, a day of fun and more!

2014-15 Impact Snapshot

The Foundation serves as the districts' philanthropic arm. Sharing the district's goal of accelerating student success, the Foundation responsibly raises, manages and distributes donors' gifts. Some of those gifts funded the following programs:

Read2Succeed - provided individualized reading instruction to 395 first grade and 523 second grade students at 55 elementary schools in Orange County.

Teacher Grants - awarded more than $194,000 in classroom grants for STEM, civics, fine arts, non-fiction classroom libraries, technology and professional development to 181 teachers for equipment and materials that directly impact classroom learning.

STEM Teachers Professional Development - Physical Science: 38 teachers from 27 middle schools participated in 3 all-day chemistry trainings at Jackson Middle in Orlando. Trainings provided teachers with Flinn Scientific chemistry kits and student-led activities (labs and design challenges) to use in the classroom, taught them how to deconstruct standards and gave teachers a better understanding of how to use them, and encouraged collaboration and sharing among peers. A lesson in safety precautions for chemistry labs was also included as part of these workshops.

- All participating teachers received classroom materials needed for the labs learned.
- 27 of the 38 participating teachers reported changes in their teaching methods as a result of these workshops.

Grant Spotlight - Freedom Middle Michaela Danhoff, earth science teacher

Conserving Energy

Students used energy conversion kits and thermal energy cameras to learn about how energy can be converted from one form to another. The energy conversion kits allowed students to learn different, environmentally friendly methods for generating electricity. Thermal energy cameras let student see subtle changes in the thermal energy of a material that would otherwise remain invisible to them (e.g., seeing the heat from their handprints after touching a table). Seventy-seven percent of participating 7th & 8th graders showed growth from the pre- to the post-test.

Testimonials

I became more confident overall, not only in book club but also in my everyday life. I never used to speak my mind very often in school. I was one to keep quiet and just accept whatever came to me. Now I am more confident in my schoolwork and communicating with others. My vocabulary also greatly expanded.

- Parker, Legacy Middle

I saw my students grow from shy students who were reluctant to participate in discussions into more mature and outspoken young adults toward the end of the year. Our book club became a very close-knit group and my students formed new friendships that I hope will continue on in high school.

- Ms. Rachel Parejko, Apopka Middle

One of my students in the program started this year on a Kindergarten level. He had difficulty decoding words, Now he is reading on a second grade level
INDEPENDENTLY.

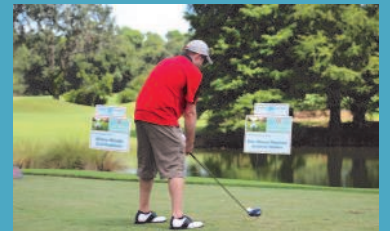

- Ms. DePaolo,
Lawton Chiles Elementary
