Chesapeake College Emerging Scholars Program

Emerging Scholars is a special program designed for 2008 high school graduates who would like to get a jump start on college during the Summer of 2008. The program is 8 weeks in length and offers students an opportunity to complete developmental courses and be college-ready by the Fall 2008 semester. Students must be registered by June 5, 2008 in order to participate in the program. Enrollment is limited to a maximum of 40 students. Completion of the application does not guarantee acceptance into the Program.

Student eligibility requirements:

- Be a 2008 high school graduate
- Reside in Caroline, Dorchester, Kent, Queen Anne's, or Talbot county
- Test into one or both of the following developmental courses: ENG 082 (Intermediate Reading & Writing) and/or MAT 031 (Algebra I)
- Interest in enrolling in ENG 082 and/or MAT 031 and FSC 101 (Freshman Seminar) during the SU08 semester

Advantages:

- Half-price Summer 2008 tuition for Emerging Scholars courses only
- Small classes
- Full access to academic support services
- Up to a $500 scholarship for the Fall 2008 semester (pending successful completion of Summer 2008 courses)

Steps to becoming an Emerging Scholar:

1. Complete and submit a Chesapeake College admissions application.
2. Take the ASA (Academic Skills Assessment).
3. Seek academic advisement. If you test into a developmental English (ENG 082) and/or math (MAT 031) course and would like to enroll in one or both courses during the Summer 2008 session, let the academic advisor know.
4. Complete an Emerging Scholars application at the time you review your test scores with the academic advisor, or mail it to: Kathy Petrichenko, Dean for Recruitment Services, Chesapeake College, P.O. Box 8, Wye Mills, MD 21679. The application (other side of this form) must be submitted prior to registration.
5. You will receive notification of your application status at the time you register for classes or within one business day of receipt.
6. If approved for the Program, register for the following Emerging Scholars Summer 2008 classes: ENG 082 and/or MAT 031 and FSC 101.
7. Pay 50% of the in-county tuition & fees.
8. Attend the Emerging Scholars Orientation session on Monday, June 16, 2008 from 5:30-7 p.m. in the Economic Development Center, Room EDC-27, at Chesapeake College's Wye Mills Campus.
9. Purchase textbooks and other needed supplies.
10. Go to class.

Semester Length: 8 weeks (Classes meet Monday/Wednesday or Tuesday/Thursday)

Start Date: Tuesday, June 17, 2008

End Date: Thursday, August 7, 2008
