In today's Gospel from Matthew, the Pharisees

take counsel with one another to trap and discredit Jesus, and enlist the help of the Herodians. Determination to destroy Jesus unites these two groups as they seize on the issue of the collection of a "head" tax as their common cause.

The "head" tax was one denarius, equal to the day's wage of a laborer, imposed on every man, woman and slave between 12-65 years old. It was the "price" for living in and enjoying the dubious rights of a subject of the Roman Empire. This tax was bitterly resented by the poor and nationalist Zealots, tolerated by those like the Herodians who wished to ingratiate themselves with the powerful, and resented by the Pharisees because of their opposition to the occupation of the "Land" by the Roman Gentiles.

But now integrity is eroded by expediency. Disciples of the Pharisees and the Herodians join forces and go to Jesus to spring their trap, well-oiled with insincere flattery. When Jesus is tackled about the tax issue, if he speaks out against it he can be charged with sedition (treason) and arrested; if he speaks for the tax, he will discredit himself as a prophet in the eyes of the oppressed.

Ironically, what they say to him is true: Jesus does sincerely, truthfully teach the ways of God; he has no regard for social status. But these insincere words are a lure into their trap as they ask him whether he considers it lawful or not to pay taxes to the emperor Caesar. Jesus reads the malice of their hearts, lets them know that he is not deceived by their collusion which makes it so obvious that it is not really the tax issue that is at stake, and calls them hypocrites to their faces.

Then Jesus springs his own trap. He asks them to show him the coin for the "head" tax, which bore the image of Caesar on one side and an inscription calling him "High Priest" on the other. Such accordance to the emperor of both political honor and divine status should have been abhorrent to the Jews. And in one swift move, Jesus has changed the whole issue from that of paying the tax to one of accepting images, a highly sensitive issue in Judaism.

In Jesus' hand, the coin becomes a kind of parable. Like the Pharisees, Jesus probably is not opposed to paying taxes if this is necessary for peaceful coexistence (See Matt 17:24-27), but such an obligation is worthless when compared to the ultimate loyalty that is owed to GOD!

Jesus' response, in a word, to give to the emperor what is his and give to God the things that are God's, is not to be read as an explanation for the contemporary separation of church and state. Jesus does not "compartmentalize" life, and such a dualistic interpretation would have been completely contrary to his worldview. Real wisdom recognizes the legitimate function of human authority in relation to God's authority. What is demanded is that we engage in the difficult discernment of how to live in history and society and also, above all, be aware of our commitment to the reign of God. This Gospel is for all times and places.

Such an ethical task demands the action that Jesus exemplified: truthfulness rather than hypocrisy, honesty rather than flattery, justice rather than opportunism. This is still a challenge to leadership – both political and ecclesial – as well as to every Christian disciple. We might ask where is God's impression in the "coinage" of our daily life? The answer is: on everything that God has made, and especially on other women and men!

— Verna N. Holyhead

SAINT JOHN PAUL THE GREAT

Karol Józef Wojtyła was born in the Polish town of Wadowice, a small city outside of Krakow, on May 18, 1920. He was the youngest child of Karol Wojtyła and Emilia Kaczorowska. His mother died in 1929. His eldest brother Edmund, a doctor, died in 1932 and his father, a non-commissioned army officer died in 1941. A sister, Olga, had died before he was born.

He was baptized on June 20, 1920 in the parish church of Wadowice. Upon graduation from high school he enrolled in Krakow's Jagiellonian University in 1938 and in a school for drama. But the Nazi occupation forces closed the university in 1939 and young Karol had to work in a quarry and then in the Solvay chemical factory to earn a living.

In 1942, he began courses in the clandestine seminary of Krakow. At the same time, Karol Wojtyła was one of the pioneers of the "Rhapsodic Theatre," also clandestine.

He was ordained to the priesthood on November 1, 1946. He was elected Pope at the Conclave of October 16, 1978, and he took the name of John Paul II. On October 22, he solemnly inaugurated his Petrine ministry as the 263rd successor to the Apostle. His pontificate, one of the longest in the history of the Church, lasted nearly 27 years.

He made 104 pastoral visits outside Italy and 146 within Italy. As bishop of Rome he visited 317 of the city's 333 parishes. He had more meetings than any of his predecessors with the People of God and the leaders of Nations. More than 17,600,000 pilgrims participated in the General Audiences held on Wednesdays (more than 1160).

His love for young people brought him to establish the World Youth Days. The 19 WYDs celebrated during his pontificate brought together millions of young people from all over the world. At the same time his care for the family was expressed in the World Meetings of Families, which he initiated in 1994.

His most important Documents include 14 Encyclicals, 15 Apostolic Exhortations, 11 Apostolic Constitutions, 45 Apostolic Letters. He also published five books of his own. He added the "Luminous Mysteries" to the Rosary (mysteries that focus on the life and ministry of Christ as found in the Scriptures. He made Thérèse of the Child Jesus a Doctor of the Church; and not only canonized Saint Faustina Kowalska of Krakow, but instituted that the devotion associated with her--the Divine Mercy--be officially and especially recognized in the Church on the Sunday following Easter Sunday.

He died on April 2, 2005, at 9.37 p.m., while Saturday was drawing to a close and the Lord's Day was already beginning, the Octave of Easter and Divine Mercy Sunday. He was declared a saint on April 27th of this year-- also on Divine Mercy Sunday!

ISIS threatens to conquer the Vatican, 'break the crosses of the infidels'

Islamic State is eyeing Rome as the latest installment to its self-declared caliphate, which now covers large chunks of territory in northern Iraq and Syria.

The new issue of Islamic State's English-language magazine Dabiq is out and features the Vatican on its front cover, a black flag with white Arab lettering atop the Egyptian obelisk at St. Peter's Square.

The cover story dubbed "The Failed Crusade" envisions the ancient Italian city under the rule of a Caliph and a hardline Sharia regime.

The lengthy article, which glosses the pages of the online propaganda magazine, calls on aspiring jihadists to target the Catholic Church and followers of the Christian faith.

The Islamist organization claims it will one day conquer Rome, threatening to "break [the] crosses" of infidels and sell and trade their women.

Would-be jihadist fighters and Dabiq's growing reader base are encouraged to go after every possible Crusader, their term for Westerners who oppose their advance.

Islamic State has killed and driven out large numbers of Christians and other religious groups in areas they've seized – including Shi'ite Muslims – who do not abide by their strict version of Sunni Islam.

Pope Francis, realizing the ballooning threat IS poses, has been an ardent critic of the organization, voicing his concern on multiple occasions about their prominence in the Middle East. He has called for international action to stop the group and backed the US-led coalition which has been striking Islamic State targets in recent weeks.

The newly-released fourth issue of the magazine also reiterates previous calls to attack Westerners, wherever they may be found.

*They were stolen from their homes, locked in chains, and taken across an ocean. And for more than 200 years, their blood and sweat would help to build the richest and most powerful nation the world has ever known. But when slavery ended, their welcome was over. America's wealthy elite had decided it was time for them to disappear and they were not particular about how it might be done. The plan set in motion 150 years ago is still being carried out today. ## I WILL BUILD MY CHURCH!

Your ongoing support of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith is vital to the missionaries serving in 1,150 dioceses throughout Asia, Africa, parts of Latin America and Europe, and on the Islands of the Pacific. Your generosity makes it possible for local priests, religious, and catechists to reach out to communities, families and children in desperate need, bringing the light of Christ to the darkest of circumstances.

For this year's World Mission Sunday celebration, The Society for the Propagation of the Faith is focusing on the words from St. Matthew's Gospel, "I Will Build My Church" (Matthew 16:18), highlighting the outreach of local churches through priests, religious and laity among the poor and marginalized half a world away. The specific example we have chosen is of Bishop Wenceslao (Wens) Padilla, the first Bishop of Mongolia, and his fellow missionary priests from the Congregation of the Immaculate Heart of Mary and their work among families and children in need, sharing God's love and mercy, His hope and peace, while offering practical help – changing lives every day! Similar help is provided to mission churches in territories covering more than half the globe.

Your prayers and generous support offered to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith on World Mission Sunday (THIS SUNDAY) directly benefit the mission church – places like Mongolia where the young church is growing, filled with zeal for the faith, but lacking resources for its outreach to families and those in need. Such support is a concrete way to "build our Church" – to deepen your relationship with Jesus by helping Bishop Wens and so many other missionaries around the world.

Celebrating
HERITAGE

On Sunday, October 26th, there will be a special celebration commemorating the Catholic unity of all Spanish-speaking countries with food and dance! It is a wonderful occasion, and all are welcome to participate and enjoy in the festivities! It all begins at 11:00 am and goes on through the afternoon. Todos son bienvenidos a la fiesta!

OUR ALL SOULS NOVENA BEGINS OCTOBER 24th. PLEASE BRING IN YOUR ENVELOPES WITH THE NAMES OF YOUR DECEASED LOVED ONES TO BE REMEMBERED AND PUT THEM IN WITH THE COLLECTION. WE WILL PLACE THEM IN THE BASKET ON THE ALTAR. Please note: ALL SOULS DAY FALLS ON A SUNDAY THIS YEAR, (NOV. 2nd).

OLGC Religious Education Spiritual Adoption Program

Everyone loves the beauty and innocence of a baby. Remember your own children or a younger brother or sister when they were first brought home? As an expression of that love, the Religious Education Program will, once again, begin a spiritual adoption program on October 12, 2014.

OLGC's Religious Education Program will be "spiritually" adopting one child, per class, who is newly conceived this month. All newly conceived babies should be allowed to be born and, we are going to pray for a child whose family might be in a form of "crisis". This crisis may be financial (not enough money), fear (afraid they won't be a good parent), or a single parent who is alone and scared.

We won't personally know the family or the child who we are adopting, but God will know them and make sure our prayers get to those in need.

Each class will name their child, for whom they will be praying, thereby giving that baby the humanity he or she deserves.

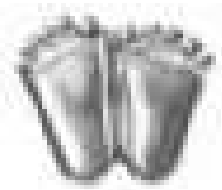

We are asking the Parishioners to join us in these prayers. Below is the "adoption" form that each class completes for his or her child. We ask that you take this form home and complete it as well to join your prayers with those of the OLGC classes for the next 9 months.

In addition, over the next several weeks, the child names selected by each of the classes will be posted along with the prayer that the class is saying so that you may join your prayers with the OLGC children's and raise our love and support for these unborn children to heaven.

Then, on the last day of classes for the religious education program (in May 2015), a table where parishioners may donate baby items to be given to the Sisters of Life will be set up in the Parish Hall.

We, the _____ class will pray daily:

My dear Jesus, together with Mary your Mother, who took care of you so lovingly, and of St. Joseph, strong man of faith, who protected you both, we pray to you for the health of the unborn child, whom we have spiritually adopted.

Please give the parents of this child whatever help they need to keep their baby strong and healthy.

Amen.
