A risk-based approach to management

Implement accepted risks within the quality and leading systems

Webinar «A risk-based approach to management»

Tuesday, August 27, 2013, 08:00 am

Tuesday, August 27, 2013, 05:00 pm

Risk-based leadership goes beyond mere operative and generic risk analysis. It is a management tool designed to systematically secure the achievement of objectives. It includes all the organisational methods and measures applied by the responsible company management to assure the appropriate execution of business procedures. The corporate culture plays an important role. Executives and employees shape their environment with their integrity, ethical values and exemplary behaviour.

The key words of the webinar are: Important experiences with ICS within the private sector, explanation of the risk-based approach to management, steps to the risk-based management system, previous experiences.
