Dear XXXX,

The Nebraska Wind Symphony (NWS), founded in 1977, is an adult community band of approximately seventy-five adults from a wide variety of vocational backgrounds. The NWS strives to provide high quality band concert performances of a variety of music programming that appeal to music enthusiasts and many segments of the community. Each year, the wind symphony performs three formal concerts as well as other concerts in a variety of venues, including two free summer outdoor concerts. The NWS' impact on the community may be observed through the history of partnerships developed in other Omaha community organizations. Some examples include the annual Making Spirits Bright Concert at the Holland Performing Arts Center which is a part of the Omaha Holiday Lights Festival, The University of Nebraska Medical Center graduation ceremony, concerts with students from Music in Catholic Schools, and performances within assisted living communities.

The NWS strives to make music accessible, especially to those that may be traditionally underserved in the Omaha area. For example, we are able to engage the senior community through our concert promotions (e.g. contacts with assisted living facilities and senior organizations) and by offering half priced admission for seniors (aged 55 and up). The NWS also seeks to make concerts affordable to students and families by offering half price admission for students and children under 12 are free.

The NWS is currently seeking corporate sponsors for its 2013-2014 concert season. As with any arts organization, the band would not be able to maintain its presence in the community without the support of the Omaha community. Your tax-deductible gift makes it possible for the band to acquire new music, rent rehearsal space, procure and maintain large instruments, and transport equipment to and from performances. Please see the enclosure for sponsorship opportunities, or contact me to learn more about how you can support the NWS in its 37th season.

Sincerely,

Dr. Courtney Snyder
Music Director
