

2016 Summer Meat CSA

What is a CSA?

Community Supported Agriculture (CSA) is a farming model in which community members pledge support to the farm at the beginning of the season. In return, they receive a share of the harvest every month. The growers and members provide mutual support in their food production, and both partners share in the risks and rewards of small-scale farming (e.g. weather, disease, pests and fresh, nutritious food, knowing your farmer). CSA restores the lost connection between people and agriculture by providing an opportunity for members to be directly connected to how their food is raised.
