

CHBR Fellow Application

The mission of the Center for Health Behavior Research is to advance the development, testing and use of health behavior measures and theories through interdisciplinary collaborations and trainings.

--	--

The following are among the benefits we hope you will enjoy as a Fellow:

1. Networking and Match-Making: CHBR will help to build interdisciplinary collaborations in health behavior research across UPenn and across the Philadelphia community by providing forums to facilitate interactions and collaborations (including joint research proposals).
2. Educational Opportunities: Along with a Symposium Series, the Center will hold workshops on measurement and health behavior theory.
3. Research & Training Grant collaborations
4. Outcomes Measurement and Methods Core: Consultation in the selection and development of measurement tools for research projects.
5. Center Mailing List: Updates on CHBR activities, information about relevant resources, and disseminate health behavior research across the University (planned for 2011) cross referencing efforts of other centers and institutes at UPenn
6. Your faculty profile linked from the CHBR website: <http://www.med.upenn.edu/chbr>

Your Information

Name:
Degrees:
Faculty Appointment:
Secondary Appointment:
Admin. Titles (if app.):
Campus Address:
City, State:
Zip/Postal Code:
Email:
Phone:
Fax:
Primary Faculty Profile url:

Levels of Appointment (check one)

Senior Fellow

- Standing or Associated Faculty of the University of Pennsylvania
- Significant portion of your academic work is in areas central to the mission of the Center
 - Current or recent PI of an externally funded health behavior-related research grant or training grant
 - Peer reviewed publications in health behavior research
- Collaborate significantly with other Center Faculty and Fellows in research and scholarship
- On Internal Advisory Panel (IAP) within the past three years (applicable to current IAP members only)

Associate Fellow

- Standing or Associated Faculty of the University of Pennsylvania
- Contributor to health behavior research but it is not central to your scholarly work
- Do not meet the criteria for Senior Fellow but may do so in the future
- Participates in some Center activities such as seminar series, trainings, and retreat

Affiliate Fellow

- No primary appointment at the University of Pennsylvania
- CHBR community collaborator/partner in health behavior research

Please describe your current (or recent) health behavior-related research:

Submit your application by either clicking the submit button on the front page of this application or by printing and emailing to the email address below.

Be sure to attach an updated CV with your application. Application and CV submissions can be emailed to chbrinfo@upenn.edu.