Make the commitment to learn Spanish and then stick with your plan. Both the beginning and the advance classes use a variety of techniques including the Rosetta Stone Language Program for Classroom use. Both classes are practical in design and geared to make certain you will learn to speak, read, and write Spanish. The simple fact is that Spanish is a necessary second language in today's world and now is the time to learn Spanish. Even native speakers may use this class to learn proper vocabulary, sentence use, proper sentence structure, technical writing skills. This starting class is for the person who knows very little Spanish or has never attempted to learn the language. The most important thing is that you make a commitment to learn Spanish and then allow time to fulfill that desire. Textbooks, native speakers, workbooks, Rosetta Stone for Classroom Use, television, practice sessions and total student involvement are all part of this dynamic program. No matter what our personal opinion may be about learning Spanish, the simple truth remains that Spanish is the unofficial second language of the United States. Decide right now you will learn it! Do not delay your decision to learn Spanish.
