Portal Questions

Answer Key

1. List four Federal agencies besides FEMA that have disaster assistance programs.

Small Business Administration	Dept. of State	Dept. of Agriculture	NASA
Dept. of Labor	Dept. of Housing & Urban Development	NOAA	Dept. of Commerce
Federal Wildlife Service	Health & Human Services	Dept. of Treasury	FDIC & NCUA
Corp. for National Service	Dept. of Interior	Bureau of Indian Affairs	Environmental Protection Agency
Dept. of Defense	Social Security Administration	Federal Aviation Admin.	Dept. of Transportation

2. Briefly describe the State's role in a Small Business Administration (SBA) declaration.

= The Governor of the State in which the disaster occurred submits a written request to SBA for a physical disaster declaration by SBA (OMB Approval No. 3245-0121). This request should be delivered to the SBA Disaster Area Office serving the region where the disaster occurred within 60 days of the date of the disaster.

3. What is a fire suppression grant? Who is eligible to receive this grant?

= Grant to provide real-time assistance for the suppression of any fire on public (non-Federal) or privately owned forest or grassland that threatens to become a major disaster. The fire suppression grant process is the same as FEMA's Public Assistance (PA) Program, except the FEMA regional director approves only a single grant to the State.

4. Under what conditions does U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) Farm Services Agency (FSA) assistance become available?

= Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act Designation by the Secretary of Agriculture or by administrator (physical losses only)

Objectives

At the completion of this unit, you will be able to:

1. Identify non-FEMA Federal disaster assistance programs.
2. Discuss basic qualification criteria for those Federal disaster assistance programs.
3. Describe the State's role in non-Presidential declaration processes.

Other Disaster Assistance

Many agencies play roles in the activation of the Federal Response Plan. And those agencies have disaster assistance programs. Some of the programs are only available when a Presidential Declaration of disaster is made. Others provide assistance in lesser situations where the personal or business impact is great, but the event is not of a large enough scope to be considered a major disaster.

State Emergency Management Directors expressed a need for a comprehensive list of resources the Federal government could use in assisting disaster recovery efforts. This prompted the publication of Disaster Assistance: A Guide for Disaster Recovery Programs. The intended audience for the guide includes disaster workers, along with local, State, and Federal officials.

Disaster Assistance: A Guide for Disaster Recovery Programs

This guide summarizes 100 financial and technical assistance programs (primarily Federal programs) available to individuals, businesses, and local governments that can aid in recovering from the effects of a disaster. Not only are specific agency disaster aid programs described, but regular programs are included that could be applied to disaster recovery under special circumstances.

The guide is reprinted in the Supplemental Materials section of this unit.

Printed copies of the guide can be ordered by calling the FEMA Publication Center at 1-800-480-2520. It is available online at www.fema.gov/about/1-title.htm.

Read through this guide to familiarize yourself with the wide range of programs available. And learn what role the State must play for the possible recipients to benefit from the programs.

State's Role in Non-Presidential Declarations

The State Emergency Management Agency has responsibilities in preparing the Governor's request for either a Presidential or a Secretarial disaster declaration. The State must gather data to document the damages to ensure that businesses and individuals can receive the assistance needed. The type of information that is needed often parallels what FEMA would request in regard to a Presidential declaration.

In order to obtain the necessary information on Secretarial or SBA disaster declarations, contact your USDA or SBA area representative.

USDA Secretarial Disaster Designations

At the request of a State Governor or Indian Tribal Council, the Secretary of Agriculture can designate counties as disaster areas and provide Emergency loan assistance for physical and production losses in those and contiguous counties.

Certain SBA disaster assistance is also available to qualifying applicants under a Secretarial designation.

SBA Disaster Declarations

For further information on SBA disaster declarations, 13 CFR §123.3, which explains how disaster declarations are made, is presented in the Supplemental Materials section for this unit.

Unit 10 Learning Check

Use the attached Disaster Assistance: A Guide to Recovery Programs to find answers to the following questions.

1. Which Federal agency provides assistance for beach and shore erosion? What are the cost-share requirements?

2. What agency provides AmeriCorps assistance following a disaster? Who is eligible to receive this assistance?

3. What agency provides aid for the repair of Federally funded roads? What are the cost-share requirements?

4. What agency provides assistance to reduce or eliminate illness, disability, and death resulting from exposure of the public and workers to toxic substances at spill and waste disposal sites? Who can receive this assistance?

Supplemental Materials

SBA: How are disaster declarations made? 13 CFR 123.3

- (a) There are four ways in which disaster declarations are issued which make SBA disaster loans possible:
 - (1) The President declares a major disaster and authorizes Federal assistance, including individual assistance (temporary housing and individual and family grant assistance).
 - (2) SBA makes a physical disaster declaration, based on the occurrence of at least a minimum amount of physical damage to buildings, machinery, equipment, inventory, homes, and other property. Such damage usually must meet the following tests:
 - (i) In any county or other smaller political subdivision of a State or U.S. possession, at least 25 homes or 25 businesses, or a combination of at least 25 homes, businesses, or other eligible institutions, each sustain uninsured losses of 40 percent or more of the estimated fair replacement value or pre-disaster fair market value of the damaged property, whichever is lower; or
 - (ii) In any such political subdivision, at least three businesses each sustain uninsured losses of 40 percent or more of the estimated fair replacement value or pre-disaster fair market value of the damaged property, whichever is lower, and, as a direct result of such physical damage, 25 percent or more of the work force in their community would be unemployed for at least 90 days; and
 - (iii) The Governor of the State in which the disaster occurred submits a written request to SBA for a physical disaster declaration by SBA (OMB Approval No. 3245-0121). This request should be delivered to the SBA Disaster Area Office serving the region where the disaster occurred within 60 days of the date of the disaster.

- (3) SBA makes an economic injury disaster declaration in response to a determination of a natural disaster by the Secretary of Agriculture.
 - (4) SBA makes an economic injury declaration in reliance on a State certification that at least five small business concerns in a disaster area have suffered substantial economic injury as a result of the disaster and are in need of financial assistance not otherwise available on reasonable terms. The State certification must be signed by the Governor, must specify the county or counties or other political subdivisions in which the disaster occurred, and must be delivered (with supporting documentation) to the servicing SBA Disaster Area Office within 120 days of the disaster occurrence. The Administrator may, in a case of undue hardship, accept such request after 120 days have expired.
- (b) SBA publishes notice of any disaster declaration in the Federal Register. The published notice will identify the kinds of assistance available, the date and nature of the disaster, and the deadline and location for filing loan applications. Additionally, SBA will use the local media to inform potential loan applicants where to obtain loan applications and otherwise to assist victims in applying for disaster loans. SBA will accept applications after the announced deadline only when SBA determines that the late filing resulted from substantial causes beyond the control of the applicant.

Guide for Disaster Recovery Programs: A Federal Interagency Publication Developed by Signatories to the Federal Response Plan

Foreword

After a disaster, our society is expected to minister to the injured, maintain life-support services for the community, and assist an affected area return to normal. Local government has the primary responsibility for supplying the resources to respond to and recover from disasters. If localities are overwhelmed, they may need supplemental assistance from the applicable State and, possibly, the Federal Government.

The Federal Government helps States and localities prepare for disasters by providing financial and technical assistance for emergency planning, conducting exercises of plans, and building and maintaining an emergency management infrastructure. It also provides or subsidizes training and offers opportunities for emergency management professionals to come together to exchange ideas and information.

In the event of an actual disaster, a Governor may request a Presidential declaration. This request must satisfy the provisions of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act (PL 93-288, as amended by PL 100-707). The Stafford Act is the primary legislative authority for the Federal Government to assist local and State governments in executing their responsibilities for disaster response and recovery.

In a major or catastrophic disaster, the Federal Response Plan (FRP) will likely be activated. The FRP describes resources Federal agencies can mobilize to support initial emergency life-saving functions if State and local government response capabilities are overwhelmed. It outlines planning assumptions, policies, concept of operations, and organizational structures.

The FRP is being expanded to describe Federal actions, resources, and coordination mechanisms available to assist affected individuals, businesses, and public entities recover from the consequences of a disaster. This interagency publication, Disaster Assistance: A Guide to Recovery Programs, summarizes Federal programs that provide recovery assistance.

Guide for Disaster Recovery Programs: A Federal Interagency Publication Developed by Signatories to the Federal Response Plan

About this Publication

Purpose

Use program summaries in this publication only as a guide to potential sources of disaster assistance. Obtain more complete information from the contact noted at the end of each summary.

The purpose of this guide is to transmit basic information about programs of assistance available to individuals, businesses, and public entities after a disaster. These programs help individuals cope with their losses, and affected businesses and public entities restore their structures and operations. The information is intended to serve as a starting point for disaster workers and local, State, and Federal officials to locate sources of help as they seek more definitive information, such as eligibility criteria and application processes. Included are programs that make financial assistance available, as well as those that provide technical assistance and/or goods and other services.

Background

The program summaries in this guide evolved from an initial compilation of programs obtained from the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance (CFDA), the compendium of financial and non-financial programs throughout the Federal Government that provide assistance or benefits to the American public. The summaries were reviewed, revised, and added to by staff of the relevant agencies to reflect programs that are specifically intended to apply to disaster recovery and regular agency programs that, in special circumstances, may support disaster recovery.

Summaries include the notation "CFDA Number." This refers to the program number found in the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.

The CFDA includes a comprehensive list of Federal regional and local office addresses and telephone numbers that is also a useful reference for obtaining program information. The CFDA can be obtained in print or for automated use on CD-ROM (compact disc having "read only" memory), on floppy diskettes, or on line through the Federal Assistance Programs Retrieval System. Charges apply. Each automated edition is revised in June and December. For more information on electronic access, contact GSA/IRMS/WKU, Reporters' Building, Room 101, 300 Seventh Street, S.W., Washington, DC 20407; or call (202) 708-5126. To order the printed version of the CFDA, contact the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, DC 20402; or call (202) 512-0000.

This guide revises and supersedes the Digest of Federal Disaster Assistance Programs (DAP-21), published by the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) in June 1989. Additional copies of the guide, as well as copies of the Federal Response Plan, are available from the FEMA Distribution Facility, Suite D, 8231 Stayton Drive, Jessup, MD 20794; telephone: (800) 480-2520. Program summary changes or suggestions for improving the publication may be forwarded to the Response and Recovery Directorate, FEMA, 500 C Street, S.W., Washington, DC 20472.

Organization and Use of this Publication

An objective of this guide is to reflect in one document the continuum of recovery services available to disaster victims.

Eligibility requirements may be more comprehensive or more restrictive than they appear to be in this guide. It is important, therefore, that readers obtain additional information about program eligibility from the program source.

Program summaries are organized in two sections: (1) specific agency programs that exist for the express purpose of aiding disaster victims (disaster-specific programs) and (2) regular agency programs that may be applied to disaster recovery under special circumstances (disaster-applicable programs). Section One program summaries include slightly more information than Section Two programs, as reflected below. Inclusion of a program does not necessarily mean that assistance is available. Congress may authorize a program but may not appropriate funds for it in a given fiscal year. Current efforts of Congress and the Administration to streamline government also may result in the elimination of some of the programs or consolidation into larger block grants.

Information Included in Summaries
Program Type	Agency	Activating Mechanism	Objectives	Assistance Provided	Cost-Sharing Requirements	Eligibility	Application	Contact	CFDA Number
Section One	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X	X
Section Two	X		X	X		X		X	X

Program summaries are organized alphabetically by title in Sections One and Two. Some program titles have been rearranged to begin with the most descriptive word in the title. As a result, a number of program titles have been changed from the titles that appear in the CFDA. See Appendix Two for a crosswalk between program titles used in this publication and program titles in the CFDA.

To assist the reader further in finding specific information, summaries are indexed alphabetically as follows:

1. Agency – by the Federal or nonprofit agency that has primary responsibility for administration of the program.
2. Type of Assistance – by assistance available, including Advisory and Counseling Services; Direct Payments; Donations; Education, Technical Information, and Training; Formula Grants, Project and Other Grants; Loans; Sale of Goods or Property; Specialized Services; and Technical Assistance.
3. Recipient – by the category of recipient of assistance, as follows: Federal agencies; States; Localities; Nonprofit organizations (sometimes specified by category, such as universities, or organizations that do the work of government); Businesses; and Individuals. Note that the categories in this index are repeated in abbreviated form at the beginning (upper right) of each program summary.

Assistance to individuals may include funds for temporary housing for victims, individual and family grants to meet disaster-related expenses, and loans to individuals for repair or replacement of real and personal property. Funds may flow directly from the Federal Government to the individual, or from the Federal Government to the individual through a State or a subdivision of a State, or from a nonprofit organization to the individual. Assistance to businesses (including farms and sole proprietorships) generally is made available when the ability to continue operations is terminated or impaired by a disaster. Such assistance may include loans or grants to replace livestock herds, restore damaged structures, or replace inventories.

Assistance to public entities (States, localities, etc.) comprises measures such as repair or replacement of non-federally supported thoroughfares and water control facilities (e.g., dikes, irrigation works, levees, and drainage systems) and clearance of debris necessary to protect the public interest. It also includes repair or replacement of Federal buildings, State-supported schools, or public facilities in U.S. Trust Territories or on Native American lands. It includes loans to communities that have incurred substantial losses of tax and other revenue and the use of government-owned equipment, supplies, facilities, personnel, and other resources. Recipients of public assistance may include States, political subdivisions of States (counties or parishes), any type of organization under the aegis of a State agency, localities (municipalities, unincorporated towns, water control districts, etc.), U.S. Trust Territories or possessions, Indian tribes, universities, or other nonprofit organizations.

Guide for Disaster Recovery Programs A Federal Interagency Publication Developed by Signatories to the Federal Response Plan

Section One: Disaster-Specific Programs

Programs summarized in this section have been specifically authorized for use in assisting affected individuals, businesses, and/or public entities recover from the consequences of a disaster. Benefits under these programs generally are triggered by a Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act.

A major disaster is defined as any natural catastrophe or, regardless of cause, any fire, flood, or explosion that causes damage of sufficient severity and magnitude to warrant assistance supplementing State, local, and disaster relief organization efforts to alleviate damage, loss, hardship, or suffering.

An emergency is defined as any occasion or instance for which Federal assistance is needed to supplement State and local efforts to save lives and protect property and public health and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe.

A Governor may request that the President declare a major disaster or emergency when available State and local resources are insufficient. The request must satisfy the provisions of the Stafford Act. Concurrent with a Presidential declaration, FEMA designates the types of assistance to be made available under the Stafford Act. This may include individual assistance, public assistance, and/or hazard mitigation assistance. Depending upon the situation, other Federal disaster relief programs may be activated as well.

The Secretary of Agriculture and the Administrator of the Small Business Administration may also declare disasters and provide disaster assistance under their statutory authorities.

A discussion of the general procedures and process for requesting Federal assistance and the type of assistance that may be available, with or without a Presidential declaration, appears in the FEMA publication, A Guide to Federal Aid in Disasters (FEMA 262, April 1995). To order, contact the FEMA Distribution Facility at Suite D, 8231 Stayton Drive, Jessup, MD 20794; telephone: (800) 480-2520.

State/Local

Agency: Department of Defense (DoD), Department of the Army, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE), Office of the Chief of Engineers.

Activating Mechanism: Decision of the Chief of Engineers.

Objectives: To control public beach and shore erosion through projects not specifically authorized by Congress.

Assistance Provided: Specialized services. USACE designs and constructs the project.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Project planning studies are done in two phases: reconnaissance and feasibility. Reconnaissance studies are federally funded, and the feasibility phase is shared 50/50 with the local sponsor. Local cost-participation requirements and procedures are similar to those for beach erosion-control projects specifically authorized by Congress under normal procedures except that Federal participation cannot exceed $2 million. Local costs are based on the public use and ownership of the beach protected.

Eligibility: States, political subdivisions of States, or other responsible local agencies established under State law and having full authority and ability to assume necessary legal and financial responsibilities.

Application: State or local government officials should consult the nearest District Engineer, then send a letter indicating intent to meet requirements for local participation. An environmental impact statement also is required.

Contact: Headquarters Office: USACE, Attn: CECW-PM, DoD, Washington, DC 20314-1000. Telephone: (202) 761-0144. (FTS not available.) Local: Contact local District Engineer.

CFDA Number: 12.101.

Local

Agency: Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), Community Planning and Development (CPD).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act.

Objectives: To develop viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, and by expanding economic opportunities, principally for low- to moderate-income individuals.

Assistance Provided: Formula grants to entitlement communities (metropolitan cities and urban counties). Disaster-related assistance is one of numerous areas in which community development-type activities may be eligible under the CDBG program. The most appropriate disaster-related use of funds is for long-term needs, such as acquisition, rehabilitation, or reconstruction of damaged properties and facilities and redevelopment of disaster-affected areas. Funds may also be used for emergency response activities, such as debris clearance and demolition, and extraordinary increases in the level of necessary public services. Because conditions may change from the time a community develops its plans for how it expects to use its CDBG funds to the time the funds actually get used, program rules authorize amending the planned use to delete activities and substitute others. This means that, when a disaster occurs, a community may elect to amend its planned use of funds already awarded and to use the funds instead for those disaster response and recovery activities that do not duplicate activities reimbursable by the Federal Emergency Management Agency or available through the Small Business Administration disaster loan programs, or may reprogram other unexpended CDBG funds for those purposes. Citizen participation procedures must be followed; waivers for this requirement are discouraged, although the process may be accelerated. At least 70 percent of funded activities must benefit low- and moderate-income persons.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: None.

Eligibility: Certain metropolitan cities and qualified urban counties. Grantees in designated major disaster areas may receive statutory and regulatory waivers of program requirements regarding the use of regular CDBG funds which recipients designate to address the damage; however, requirements pertaining to nondiscrimination, fair housing, labor standards, environmental standards, and the benefit of persons of low- and moderate-income may not be waived. Additional grants are not available unless emergency supplemental CDBG funds are appropriated.

Application: Recipients must submit new or amended final statements or consolidated plans regarding the proposed use of funds. HUD will review and respond quickly to questions about program requirements and requests for waivers. Address questions and requests to the applicable HUD field office.

Contact: Headquarters Office: Entitlement Communities Division, Office of Block Grant Assistance, CPD, HUD, 451 7th Street, S.W., Washington, DC 20410-7000. Telephone: (202) 708-3587. (Use same number for FTS.) Local: Contact applicable HUD field office.

CFDA Number: 14.218.

Local, via State

Agency: Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), Community Planning and Development (CPD).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act.

Objectives: To develop viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, and by expanding economic opportunities, principally for low to moderate-income individuals.

Assistance Provided: Formula grants to States for non-entitlement communities. Disaster-related assistance is one of numerous areas in which community development activities may be eligible under the CDBG program. The most appropriate disaster-related use of funds is for long-term needs, such as acquisition, rehabilitation, or reconstruction of damaged properties and facilities and redevelopment of disaster-affected areas. Funds may also be used for emergency response activities, such as debris clearance and demolition, and extraordinary increases in the level of necessary public services. States establish the method for distributing funds, e.g., providing for set-asides or allowing flexibility in reordering funding categories in the event of an emergency. States may program those funds for disaster response and recovery activities that do not duplicate activities reimbursable by the Federal Emergency Management Agency or available through the Small Business Administration disaster loan programs, or may reprogram other unexpended CDBG funds for those purposes. Citizen participation procedures must be followed; waivers for this requirement are discouraged, although the process may be accelerated. At least 70 percent of funded activities must benefit low- and moderate-income persons.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: None.

Eligibility: State governments that have elected to administer CDBG funds for non-entitlement communities. States with designated major disaster areas may receive statutory and regulatory waivers of program requirements regarding the use of regular CDBG funds which recipients designate to address the damage; however, requirements pertaining to nondiscrimination, fair housing, labor standards, environmental standards, and the benefit of persons of low- and moderate-income may not be waived. Additional grants are not available unless emergency supplemental CDBG funds are appropriated.

Application: States must submit new or amended final statements or consolidated plans regarding the proposed use of funds. HUD will review and respond quickly to questions about program requirements and requests for waivers. Address questions and requests to the applicable HUD field office.

Contact: Headquarters Office: State and Small Cities Division, Office of Block Grant Assistance, CPD, HUD, 451 7th Street, S.W., Washington, DC 20410-7000. Telephone: (202) 708-3587. (Use same number for FTS.) Local: Contact applicable HUD field office.

CFDA Number: 14.228.

Local

Agency: Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act, designated for public assistance.

Objectives: To provide funds to any local government in a designated disaster area that has suffered a substantial loss of tax and other revenue. The local government must demonstrate a need for financial assistance to perform its governmental functions.

Assistance Provided: Loans not to exceed 25 percent of the local government's annual operating budget for the fiscal year in which the major disaster occurs.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: None.

Eligibility: Any local government in a designated disaster area that has demonstrated a substantial tax loss and a need for financial assistance to perform its governmental functions.

Application: The State's Governor requests a Presidential declaration of an emergency or disaster through the FEMA regional director. An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the single point of contact in the State for more information on the process the State requires to be followed in applying for assistance. Upon declaration of a major disaster, one may apply for assistance through the Governor's authorized representative.

Contact: Infrastructure Support Division, Response and Recovery Directorate, FEMA, 500 C Street, S.W., Washington, DC 20472. Telephone: (202) 646-4240. (FTS not available.)

Individuals

Agency: Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act, designated for individual assistance.

Objectives: To assist disaster victims for unmet disaster-related needs. When Cora C. Brown of Kansas City, Missouri, died in 1977, she left a portion of her estate to the Federal Government as a special fund to be used solely for the relief of human suffering caused by disasters.

Assistance Provided: Grants to individuals.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Not applicable.

Eligibility: Victims of presidentially declared major disasters and emergencies whose disaster-related needs have not or will not be met by governmental agencies or other sources.

Application: None. FEMA and volunteer agencies identify potential recipients.

Contact: Headquarters Office: Human Services Division, Response and Recovery Directorate, FEMA, 500 C Street, S.W., Washington, DC 20472. Telephone: (202) 646-3642. Local: Contact FEMA Human Services Division in the applicable region.

CFDA Number: 83.516.

Individuals, via State

Agency: Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA); and Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS), Center for Mental Health Services (CMHS), Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster under the Stafford Act, designated for individual assistance.

Objectives: To alleviate mental health problems caused or aggravated by major disasters.

Assistance Provided: Grants to States for short-term counseling services for disaster victims.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Not applicable.

Eligibility: Individual. Must be a resident of the designated disaster area or must have been located in the area at the time the disaster occurred. In addition, the person must have a mental health problem that was caused or aggravated by the disaster or its aftermath, or must benefit from services provided by the program. State. A needs assessment must show that services are required because of the severity and magnitude of the disaster; the ability to provide services must exceed State resources and capability; and a plan and proposed budget for services must be provided.

Application: Immediate Services (up to 60 days after declaration). A request by the State to FEMA must be submitted no later than 14 days after the Presidential declaration. Immediate services enable the State or local agency to respond to immediate mental health needs with screening, diagnostic, and counseling techniques, as well as outreach services, such as public information and community networking. Regular Program (up to nine months of services). Application for Federal assistance must be submitted by the State through the FEMA regional director (with a copy sent simultaneously to CMHS), no later than 60 days after the Presidential declaration. The regular program provides up to nine months of crisis counseling, community outreach, and consultation and education services.

CFDA Number: 83.516.

Federal/State/Non-Profit/Individuals

Agency: National Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (NVOAD). Members include both national and State groups.

Activating Mechanism: Not applicable.

Objectives: To act as a coordinating, communications, and convening network for private-sector organizations that provide relief in disaster situations.

Assistance Provided: Specialized services. (1) NVOAD does not deliver direct services. Its member organizations provide a wide variety of disaster relief services, including emergency distribution services; mass feeding; disaster child care; loan personnel; mass or individual shelter; comfort kits; supplementary medical care; cleaning supplies; emergency communications; stress management; disaster assessment; advocacy for disaster victims; building or repair of homes; debris removal; mitigation; burn services; guidance in managing spontaneous volunteers and victim and supply transportation. Some NVOAD members have Memoranda of Understanding with FEMA. (2) NVOAD is a network whose services, for the most part, take place before a disaster. Through programs that encourage interaction and cooperation among agencies, the ability to work together during disaster relief situations is enhanced. This is true both in terms of the development of personal relationships between leaders of different agencies and the formal establishment of improved interagency procedures and standards. (3) VOADnet, NVOAD's computer bulletin board, is a source of immediate information about different public and private agencies' activities in the midst of a disaster. Meetings are convened on major disasters where member agencies are involved. (4) An annual leadership conference trains State VOAD leaders and exposes them to current issues in cooperative disaster response. (5) A quarterly newsletter provides information on Federal and State government activities related to disasters and on member activities.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Not applicable.

Eligibility: National voluntary organizations, States and divisions of States that work on disaster relief, and other organizations that demonstrate an active interest in disaster relief.

Application: Contact NVOAD's national office at the address below.

Contact: NVOAD, 7213 Central Avenue, Takoma Park, MD 20912. Telephone/fax: (301) 270-6782.

CFDA Number: None.

State/Non-profit

Agency: Corporation for National Service (CNS).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act.

Objectives: To provide a variety of long-term disaster relief services, helping communities meet education, public safety, human, or environmental needs arising from a disaster.

Assistance Provided: Program grants. Grants apply to, and are awarded from, the State or national office.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Grantees must meet the cost-sharing requirements of their existing funding from the CNS.

Eligibility: Grants are made only to existing grantees of the CNS. These include AmeriCorps, Learn and Serve America, the National Senior Service Corps, and State commissions on national service.

Application: Current grantees of the CNS should contact CNS headquarters for application guidelines.

Contact: Disaster Relief Coordinator, CNS, 1201 New York Avenue, N.W., Washington, DC 20525. Telephone: (202) 606-5000, ext. 155.

CFDA Number: 94.007.

Individuals

Agency: American Red Cross (ARC).

Activating Mechanism: Disaster event.

Objectives: To sustain human life, reduce the harsh physical and emotional distress that prevents those affected by disasters from meeting their own basic needs, and promote recovery when such relief assistance is not available from other sources. ARC disaster relief assistance includes emergency mass care and assistance for individuals with urgent and verified disaster-caused needs.

Assistance Provided: Specialized services. Emergency Mass Care. Provides individual or congregate temporary shelter, fixed or mobile feeding operations, and/or the bulk distribution of relief supplies to disaster victims and workers. This assistance is provided to people in a disaster-affected area without identifying specific needs of individuals or families on a case-by-case basis. Disaster Welfare Inquiry. Provides locator, family reunification, and communications services to alleviate the anxiety of the immediate family members of those affected by disaster where people are displaced and communications breakdowns exist in the aftermath of disasters. Disaster Health Services. Eligibility: Uninsured losses. Only uninsured or otherwise uncompensated disaster losses are eligible. Any insurance proceeds that are required to be applied against outstanding mortgages do not reduce loan eligibility. However, any insurance proceeds voluntarily applied to any outstanding mortgages do reduce loan eligibility. Ineligible property. Secondary homes, personal pleasure boats, airplanes, recreational vehicles, and similar property are not eligible unless used for business purposes. Property such as antiques and collections are eligible only to the extent of functional use. Amounts for landscaping, swimming pools, etc., are limited. Noncompliance. Applicants who have not complied with the terms of previous loans are not eligible. This includes prior borrowers who did not maintain required flood insurance. Insurance Requirements. SBA requires borrowers to obtain and maintain appropriate insurance. Borrowers of all secured loans (physical loans over $10,000) must purchase and maintain full hazard insurance for the life of the loan. Borrowers whose property is located in a special flood hazard area must purchase and maintain flood insurance for the full insurable value of the property for the life of the loan.

Application: Whenever feasible, interviews are held with disaster victims and the program is explained. Assistance on filing of application is provided. Application is made on a standard form and filed in a single copy with the nearest available SBA disaster area office or special disaster office. Only one copy is required. Eligibility to file terminates 60 days from the date of the disaster declaration, or on the other deadline if extended.

Relocation. Use of SBA disaster loans for relocating is subject to statutory limitations. In general, victims may relocate where they need to do so for reasons beyond their control. If the victim is forced by State or local authorities to relocate, the amount of eligibility is the replacement cost of the property that must be abandoned.

Local/Non-profit, via State

Agency: Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act, designated for public assistance.

Objectives: To provide supplemental assistance to States, local governments, and certain private nonprofit organizations to alleviate suffering and hardship resulting from major disasters or emergencies declared by the President.

Assistance Provided: Project grants. Grant funds can be used to clear debris; apply emergency protective measures to preserve life and property in response to the declared event; and repair or replace damaged structures, such as buildings, utilities, roads and bridges, water-control facilities, and recreational facilities. For insurable structures (primarily buildings) located in identified special flood-hazard areas, assistance from FEMA is reduced by the amount of insurance that could have been obtained under a standard National Flood Insurance Program policy (see separate entry). The FEMA regional director approves grants, based on applications from eligible applicants. States are responsible for distributing funds to subgrantees.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Federal, not less than 75 percent; State and local governments, the remainder. Other matching requirements may be stipulated in the declaration documents.

Eligibility: State and local governments and any political subdivision of a State, Indian tribes, and Alaskan native villages are eligible. Also eligible are private nonprofit organizations that operate educational, utility, emergency, or medical facilities, provide custodial care or other essential services of governmental nature to the general public. As a condition of grants under the Stafford Act, applicants are encouraged to mitigate natural hazards.

Application: Application for public assistance is made through the Governor's authorized representative to the FEMA regional director in accordance with FEMA Disaster Assistance Regulations, 44 CFR 206, except as provided in Part 206.24(d) for emergency declarations involving primarily Federal responsibility. An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the point of contact in the State for more information. A Notice of Interest is normally submitted by applicant within 30 days of a declaration.

Agency: Department of Agriculture (USDA), Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS).

Activating Mechanism: An emergency is considered to exist when a watershed is suddenly impaired by floods, fire, drought, or other natural causes that result in the endangerment of life and property from flood, erosion, or sediment discharge.

Objectives: To provide emergency technical and financial assistance to install or repair structures that reduce runoff and prevent soil erosion to safeguard life and property.

Assistance Provided: Direct payments; technical assistance.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Federal funds may cover 75 percent of construction costs of eligible emergency measures.

Eligibility: Public or private landowners, land managers, land users, or others who have a legal interest in or responsibility for the values threatened by a watershed emergency are eligible to receive assistance. The EWP applies to small-scale, localized disasters as well as those of larger magnitude. The affected area need not be within an area defined in a disaster declaration to be eligible for technical and financial assistance. Eligible applicants must lack funds and other resources to relieve the effects of damage. Applicants must be represented by a "project sponsor" (a local or State government subdivision that can meet the requirements of sponsorship).

Application: The local NRCS office can provide a sample application. During or immediately after a natural disaster, the project sponsor contacts the local NRCS district conservationist (NRCSDC) or his/her representative to determine if the repairs/actions needed are eligible under EWP guidelines. If repairs are eligible, the NRCSDC works with the area office and the NRCS State conservationist (NRCSSC) to determine whether funds are available to provide the needed assistance and to quantify the type and cost of repairs. The sponsor files an application for assistance with the NRCSSC.

Guide for Disaster Recovery Programs A Federal Interagency Publication Developed by Signatories to the Federal Response Plan

Section One: Disaster-Specific Programs

Programs summarized in this section have been specifically authorized for use in assisting affected individuals, businesses, and/or public entities recover from the consequences of a disaster. Benefits under these programs generally are triggered by a Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act.

A major disaster is defined as any natural catastrophe or, regardless of cause, any fire, flood, or explosion that causes damage of sufficient severity and magnitude to warrant assistance supplementing State, local, and disaster relief organization efforts to alleviate damage, loss, hardship, or suffering.

An emergency is defined as any occasion or instance for which Federal assistance is needed to supplement State and local efforts to save lives and protect property and public health and safety, or to lessen or avert the threat of a catastrophe.

A Governor may request that the President declare a major disaster or emergency when available State and local resources are insufficient. The request must satisfy the provisions of the Stafford Act. Concurrent with a Presidential declaration, FEMA designates the types of assistance to be made available under the Stafford Act. This may include individual assistance, public assistance, and/or hazard mitigation assistance. Depending upon the situation, other Federal disaster relief programs may be activated as well.

The Secretary of Agriculture and the Administrator of the Small Business Administration may also declare disasters and provide disaster assistance under their statutory authorities.

A discussion of the general procedures and process for requesting Federal assistance and the type of assistance that may be available, with or without a Presidential declaration, appears in the FEMA publication, A Guide to Federal Aid in Disasters (FEMA 262, April 1995). To order, contact the FEMA Distribution Facility at Suite D, 8231 Stayton Drive, Jessup, MD 20794; telephone: (800) 480-2520.

State/Local

Agency: Department of Defense (DoD), Department of the Army, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE), Office of the Chief of Engineers.

Activating Mechanism: Decision of the Chief of Engineers.

Objectives: To control public beach and shore erosion through projects not specifically authorized by Congress.

Assistance Provided: Specialized services. USACE designs and constructs the project.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Project planning studies are done in two phases: reconnaissance and feasibility. Reconnaissance studies are federally funded, and the feasibility phase is shared 50/50 with the local sponsor. Local cost-participation requirements and procedures are similar to those for beach erosion-control projects specifically authorized by Congress under normal procedures except that Federal participation cannot exceed $2 million. Local costs are based on the public use and ownership of the beach protected.

Eligibility: States, political subdivisions of States, or other responsible local agencies established under State law and having full authority and ability to assume necessary legal and financial responsibilities.

Application: State or local government officials should consult the nearest District Engineer, then send a letter indicating intent to meet requirements for local participation. An environmental impact statement also is required.

Local

Agency: Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), Community Planning and Development (CPD).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act.

Objectives: To develop viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, and by expanding economic opportunities, principally for low- to moderate-income individuals.

Assistance Provided: Formula grants to entitlement communities (metropolitan cities and urban counties). Disaster-related assistance is one of numerous areas in which community development-type activities may be eligible under the CDBG program. The most appropriate disaster-related use of funds is for long-term needs, such as acquisition, rehabilitation, or reconstruction of damaged properties and facilities and redevelopment of disaster-affected areas. Funds may also be used for emergency response activities, such as debris clearance and demolition, and extraordinary increases in the level of necessary public services. Because conditions may change from the time a community develops its plans for how it expects to use its CDBG funds to the time the funds actually get used, program rules authorize amending the planned use to delete activities and substitute others. This means that, when a disaster occurs, a community may elect to amend its planned use of funds already awarded and to use the funds instead for those disaster response and recovery activities that do not duplicate activities reimbursable by the Federal Emergency Management Agency or available through the Small Business Administration disaster loan programs, or may reprogram other unexpended CDBG funds for those purposes. Citizen participation procedures must be followed; waivers for this requirement are discouraged, although the process may be accelerated. At least 70 percent of funded activities must benefit low- and moderate-income persons.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: None.

Eligibility: Certain metropolitan cities and qualified urban counties. Grantees in designated major disaster areas may receive statutory and regulatory waivers of program requirements regarding the use of regular CDBG funds which recipients designate to address the damage; however, requirements pertaining to nondiscrimination, fair housing, labor standards, environmental standards, and the benefit of persons of low- and moderate-income may not be waived. Additional grants are not available unless emergency supplemental CDBG funds are appropriated.

Application: Recipients must submit new or amended final statements or consolidated plans regarding the proposed use of funds. HUD will review and respond quickly to questions about program requirements and requests for waivers. Address questions and requests to the applicable HUD field office.

Contact: Headquarters Office: Entitlement Communities Division, Office of Block Grant Assistance, CPD, HUD, 451 7th Street, S.W., Washington, DC 20410-7000. Telephone: (202) 708-3587. (Use same number for FTS.) Local: Contact applicable HUD field office.

Local, via State

Agency: Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), Community Planning and Development (CPD).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act.

Objectives: To develop viable urban communities by providing decent housing and a suitable living environment, and by expanding economic opportunities, principally for low to moderate- income individuals.

Assistance Provided: Formula grants to States for non-entitlement communities. Disaster-related assistance is one of numerous areas in which community development activities may be eligible under the CDBG program. The most appropriate disaster-related use of funds is for long-term needs, such as acquisition, rehabilitation, or reconstruction of damaged properties and facilities and redevelopment of disaster-affected areas. Funds may also be used for emergency response activities, such as debris clearance and demolition, and extraordinary increases in the level of necessary public services. States establish the method for distributing funds, e.g., providing for set-asides or allowing flexibility in reordering funding categories in the event of an emergency. States may program those funds for disaster response and recovery activities that do not duplicate activities reimbursable by the Federal Emergency Management Agency or available through the Small Business Administration disaster loan programs, or may reprogram other unexpended CDBG funds for those purposes. Citizen participation procedures must be followed; waivers for this requirement are discouraged, although the process may be accelerated. At least 70 percent of funded activities must benefit low- and moderate-income persons.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: None.

Eligibility: State governments that have elected to administer CDBG funds for non-entitlement communities. States with designated major disaster areas may receive statutory and regulatory waivers of program requirements regarding the use of regular CDBG funds which recipients designate to address the damage; however, requirements pertaining to nondiscrimination, fair housing, labor standards, environmental standards, and the benefit of persons of low- and moderate-income may not be waived. Additional grants are not available unless emergency supplemental CDBG funds are appropriated.

Federal/State/Non-profit/Individual

Agency: National Voluntary Organizations Active in Disaster (NVOAD). Members include both national and State groups.

Activating Mechanism: Not applicable.

Objectives: To act as a coordinating, communications, and convening network for private-sector organizations that provide relief in disaster situations.

Assistance Provided: Specialized services. (1) NVOAD does not deliver direct services. Its member organizations provide a wide variety of disaster relief services, including emergency distribution services; mass feeding; disaster child care; loan personnel; mass or individual shelter; comfort kits; supplementary medical care; cleaning supplies; emergency communications; stress management; disaster assessment; advocacy for disaster victims; building or repair of homes; debris removal; mitigation; burn services; guidance in managing spontaneous volunteers and victim and supply transportation. Some NVOAD members have Memoranda of Understanding with FEMA. (2) NVOAD is a network whose services, for the most part, take place before a disaster. Through programs that encourage interaction and cooperation among agencies, the ability to work together during disaster relief situations is enhanced. This is true both in terms of the development of personal relationships between leaders of different agencies and the formal establishment of improved interagency procedures and standards. (3) VOADnet, NVOAD's computer bulletin board, is a source of immediate information about different public and private agencies' activities in the midst of a disaster. Meetings are convened on major disasters where member agencies are involved. (5) A quarterly newsletter provides information on Federal and State government activities related to disasters and on member activities.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Not applicable.

Eligibility: National voluntary organizations, States and divisions of States that work on disaster relief, and other organizations that demonstrate an active interest in disaster relief.

Eligibility to file terminates 60 days from the date of the disaster declaration, or on the other deadline if extended. Relocation. Use of SBA disaster loans for relocating is subject to statutory limitations. In general, victims may relocate where they need to do so for reasons beyond their control. If the victim is forced by State or local authorities to relocate, the amount of eligibility is the replacement cost of the property that must be abandoned.

CFDA Number: 59.008.

Local/Non-profit, via State

Agency: Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act, designated for public assistance.

Objectives: To provide supplemental assistance to States, local governments, and certain private nonprofit organizations to alleviate suffering and hardship resulting from major disasters or emergencies declared by the President.

Assistance Provided: Project grants. Grant funds can be used to clear debris; apply emergency protective measures to preserve life and property in response to the declared event; and repair or replace damaged structures, such as buildings, utilities, roads and bridges, water-control facilities, and recreational facilities. For insurable structures

(primarily buildings) located in identified special flood-hazard areas, assistance from FEMA is reduced by the amount of insurance that could have been obtained under a standard National Flood Insurance Program policy (see separate entry). The FEMA regional director approves grants, based on applications from eligible applicants. States are responsible for distributing funds to subgrantees.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Federal, not less than 75 percent; State and local governments, the remainder. Other matching requirements may be stipulated in the declaration documents.

Eligibility: State and local governments and any political subdivision of a State, Indian tribes, and Alaskan native villages are eligible. Also eligible are private nonprofit organizations that operate educational, utility, emergency, or medical facilities, provide custodial care or other essential services of governmental nature to the general public. As a condition of grants under the Stafford Act, applicants are encouraged to mitigate natural hazards.

Application: Application for public assistance is made through the Governor's authorized representative to the FEMA regional director in accordance with FEMA Disaster Assistance Regulations, 44 CFR 206, except as provided in Part 206.24(d) for emergency declarations involving primarily Federal responsibility. An applicant should consult the office or official designated as the point of contact in the State for more information. A Notice of Interest is normally submitted by applicant within 30 days of a declaration.

Contact: Infrastructure Support Division, Response and Recovery Directorate, FEMA, 500 C Street, S.W., Washington, DC 20472. Telephone: (202) 646-3026.

CFDA Number: 83.516.

Individual

Agency: Department of the Treasury, Bureau of the Public Debt.

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act.

Objectives: To assist disaster victims by expediting replacement or redemption of U.S. Savings Bonds.

Assistance Provided: Specialized services. The Bureau of the Public Debt will expedite replacement of U.S. Savings Bonds lost or destroyed as a result of a disaster. It will also waive the normal six-month minimum holding period for Series EE Savings Bonds presented to authorized paying agents for redemption. Most financial institutions serve as paying agents for U.S. Savings Bonds.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Not applicable.

Eligibility: U.S. Savings Bonds owners whose bonds are lost or destroyed in a declared disaster.

Application: Bond owners should complete Form PD-1048, available at most financial institutions or the Federal Reserve Bank. Provide as much information as possible, e.g., how the bonds were registered; owner's Social Security Number; approximate dates of issue; bond denominations; and serial numbers. The completed form must be certified by a Notary Public or bank official. Send completed form to the Savings Bonds Operations Office.

Contact: Savings Bonds Operations Office, Bureau of the Public Debt, 200 Third Street, Parkersburg, WV 26106-1328. Telephone: (304) 480-6112.

CFDA Number: None.

Business

Agency: Department of the Treasury, Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms (ATF).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act.

Objectives: To provide Federal alcohol and tobacco excise tax refunds to businesses that have lost assets in a disaster.

Assistance Provided: Specialized services.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Not applicable.

Eligibility: Businesses in a disaster area holding alcoholic beverages or tobacco products for wholesale or retail use that were lost or rendered unmarketable by the disaster, or condemned by an authorized official. Products lost to theft are not eligible for claim relief. The law does not authorize payment to claimants indemnified by insurers or other parties for the tax claimed.

Application: A claim may be filed with ATF for an excise tax refund on alcohol or tobacco products destroyed or rendered unfit for sale as a result of a disaster. Use ATF Form 2635. Forms and assistance are available from an ATF district office.

Contact: Headquarters Office: Tax Compliance Branch, ATF, Department of the Treasury, Washington, DC 20226-0001. Telephone: (202) 927-8220. Local: Contact ATF district office.

CFDA Number: None.

Individual

Agency: Department of the Treasury, Internal Revenue Service (IRS).

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster or emergency under the Stafford Act.

Objectives: To provide free income tax information and assistance to taxpayers whose property has been damaged or lost in a federally declared disaster area. The assistance is the option to file an amended return for the prior year to obtain a refund of taxes already paid rather than wait to claim the disaster loss on the subsequent year's return.

Assistance Provided: Advisory and counseling services. IRS employees are present at most Federal recovery service centers to provide free tax information. Taxpayers are given information about casualty loss deductions and assisted in determining whether a claim for refund of taxes already paid can be filed. IRS employees provide information to help taxpayers reconstruct destroyed financial records. Copies or transcripts of previously filed tax returns will be provided free of charge to taxpayers located in the federally declared disaster area.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Not applicable.

Eligibility: Individuals who have incurred damage to or loss of property as a result of a federally declared disaster.

Application: See "Contact" information below.

Contact: Headquarters Office: Assistant Commissioner, Taxpayer Service Division, IRS, 1111 Constitution Avenue, N.W., T:T:C:C, Washington, DC 20224. Telephone: (202) 283-0600. Local: Contact the applicable Federal recovery service center, any IRS office, or call (800) 829-1040. Hearing-impaired number: (800) 829-4059.

CFDA Number: None.

Federal/State

Agency: Department of Transportation (DOT), Federal Highway Administration (FHWA).

Activating Mechanism: Serious Federal-aid road or Federal road damage caused by a natural disaster that occurred over a wide area, or by catastrophic failure.

Objectives: To provide aid for the repair of Federal-aid roads.

Assistance Provided: Formula grants; project grants.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Federal share is 100 percent for eligible emergency repairs done within 180 days of the disaster; otherwise, the Federal share is based on the Federal-aid highway on which eligible damage occurred.

Eligibility: State highway/transportation agency or Federal agency.

Application: Application is submitted by the State department of transportation for damages to Federal-aid highway routes, and by the applicable Federal agency for damages to roads on Federal lands. Applications are submitted to FHWA, normally with a damage inspection report within six weeks following the applicant's initial notification of its intent to apply for emergency relief funds.

Contact: Headquarters Office: Director, Office of Engineering, FHWA, DOT, 400 7th Street, S.W., Washington, DC 20590. Telephone: (202) 366-0450. (Use same number for FTS.) Local: Contact local or regional office.

Individual, via State

Agency: Department of Labor (DOL) and Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA). DOL administers Section 410 of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act. DOL works with personnel of the State employment security agency in an affected State to administer the DUA program.

Activating Mechanism: Presidential declaration of a major disaster under the Stafford Act, designated for individual assistance. (Note: Presidential declaration may be limited to DUA only.)

Objectives: To provide financial assistance to individuals who are not eligible for regular Unemployment Insurance (UI) benefits but who are left jobless in the wake of a major disaster.

Assistance Provided: Direct payments of DUA benefits and reemployment assistance services.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Not applicable.

Eligibility: Individuals who are not eligible for regular UI benefits but are left jobless after a major disaster. Individuals usually are (1) workers (e.g., migrant or seasonal) whose income depends on an employer whose business has been interrupted or who has incurred business losses as a direct result of a major disaster; (2) self-employed persons whose income has been substantially affected as a direct result of a major disaster; and (3) employees who are covered by UI but are determined by the State employment security agency to be ineligible (e.g., not fulfilling time-at-work requirements, or lacking transportation or access to work).

Application: Initial applications for DUA are filed within 30 days after the date of the announcement by the State employment security agency regarding availability of DUA unless the applicant has good cause to file after the 30-day deadline. No application will be considered if filed after the 26th week following the declaration date. For purposes of DUA, certain South Pacific Island jurisdictions are considered States.

Contact: Headquarters Office: Federal Programs, Unemployment Insurance Service, DOL, 200 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, DC 20210. Telephone: (202) 219-5312. Objectives: To help rural residents obtain adequate quantities of water that meet the standards of the Safe Drinking Water Act.

Assistance Provided: Project grants.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: None.

Eligibility: Public bodies in rural areas and towns with a population of 15,000 or less, private nonprofit corporations, political subdivisions of a State, and Indian tribes in areas identified in a Presidential disaster declaration. The decision of the USDA's Rural Economic and Community Development (RECD) State office is based on applications received. Projects compete nationally for available funds under the provisions of the ECWAG Program.

Application: An applicant should consult the official designated as the point of contact in the State for information on application requirements. Standard application forms furnished by the USDA must be submitted to the appropriate RECD district office. Applications are reviewed and scored for priority by RUS after November 1 of each year. Reviews continue as long as funds are available. (Note: No funds appropriated in FY 96.)

Contact: Headquarters Office: Assistant Administrator, Water and Waste, RUS, USDA, Washington, DC 20250-3200. Telephone: (202) 690-2670. (Use same number for FTS.)
Local: Contact the RECD county, district, or State office.

State/Local

Agency: Department of Defense (DoD), Department of the Army, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE), Office of the Chief of Engineers.

CFDA Number: 12.109.

State/Local/Non-profit/Business/Individual

Agency: Department of Agriculture (USDA), Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS).

Activating Mechanism: An emergency is considered to exist when a watershed is suddenly impaired by floods, fire, drought, or other natural causes that result in the endangerment of life and property from flood, erosion, or sediment discharge.

Objectives: To provide emergency technical and financial assistance to install or repair structures that reduce runoff and prevent soil erosion to safeguard life and property.

Assistance Provided: Direct payments; technical assistance.

Cost-Sharing Requirements: Federal funds may cover 75 percent of construction costs of eligible emergency measures.

Eligibility: Public or private landowners, land managers, land users, or others who have a legal interest in or responsibility for the values threatened by a watershed emergency are eligible to receive assistance. The EWP applies to small-scale, localized disasters as well as those of larger magnitude. The affected area need not be within an area defined in a disaster declaration to be eligible for technical and financial assistance. Eligible applicants must lack funds and other resources to relieve the effects of damage. Applicants must be represented by a "project sponsor" (a local or State government subdivision that can meet the requirements of sponsorship).

Application: The local NRCS office can provide a sample application. During or immediately after a natural disaster, the project sponsor contacts the local NRCS district conservationist (NRCSDC) or his/her representative to determine if the repairs/actions needed are eligible under EWP guidelines. If repairs are eligible, the NRCSDC works with the area office and the NRCS State conservationist (NRCSSC) to determine whether funds are available to provide the needed assistance and to quantify the type and cost of repairs. The sponsor files an application for assistance with the NRCSSC.

Contact: Headquarters Office: Deputy Chief for Natural Resource Programs, NRCS, USDA, P.O. Box 2890, Washington, DC 20013. Telephone: (202) 720-3527. (Use same number for FTS.) Local: Contact NRCS State office.

A Guide for Disaster Recovery Programs

This guide summarizes 100 financial and technical assistance programs (primarily federal programs) available to individuals, businesses, and local governments that can aid in recovering from the effects of a disaster. Not only are specific agency disaster aid programs described, but also regular programs are included that could be applied to disaster recovery under special circumstances.

State Emergency Management Directors prompted development of this publication. They expressed a need for a comprehensive list of resources the federal government could bring to bear in assisting disaster recovery efforts. The intended audience for the guide includes disaster workers, along with local, state and federal officials.

Printed copies of the guide can be ordered by calling the FEMA Publication Center at 1-800-480-2520.
