2010 CALCULATION OF DISTRIBUTABLE INCOME AMOUNT ON SHARES WORKSHEET

DILDINE FAMILY TRUST
2010 SYSTEM 1

87-5719352
FORM 1041

When total deductions are less than total ordinary income, the method below is used to calculate the distributable amount of each class of ordinary income (shares worksheet line 1, 2, 5a, and 6a.)

If capital gains are to be distributed, that must be indicated on Schedule D, Part III. Distributable amounts for lines 3 and 4a-4c of the shares worksheet carry from that schedule.

a. Total ordinary income (without regard to capital gain (loss) and other income attributable to corpus)	20,000
b. Income distribution deduction (without regard to capital gain being distributed) from Form 1041, page 2, Schedule B, line 15 minus line 3	15,126
c. Ratio of ordinary income being distributed to total ordinary income (line b divided by line a)	0.756300

GROSS INCOME AMOUNT x RATIO (line c) = PORTION TO BE DISTRIBUTED

Interest (line 1)	30,000	x	0.756300	=	22,689
Dividends (line 2a)		x		=
Other portfolio and nonbusiness income (line 5)		x		=
Ordinary business income (line 6)		x		=	-7,563
Net rental real estate (line 7)	-10,000	x	0.756300	=
Other rental income (line 8)		x		=

If there is a discrepancy due to rounding, a single income item is adjusted in order to reconcile with the amount on line b above.

ADDITIONAL EXPLANATION:

For tax purposes, a distribution from a trust or an estate to a beneficiary generally is treated as a distribution of current income. The fiduciary is allowed to deduct the income so distributed, and a corresponding amount is included in the gross income of the beneficiary. The tax attributes of distributions are reported to the IRS and to beneficiaries via Schedule K-1. As a result, the total taxable income reported on Schedule K-1 should equal the fiduciary's income distribution deduction (Form 1041, page 2, Schedule B, line 15). Note that if there is no income distribution deduction (line 15 of Schedule B equals zero), no taxable income needs to be reported on Schedule K-1.

Income distributed by an estate or trust to its beneficiaries generally retains its character in the hands of the beneficiaries. Therefore, distributions consist of prorata shares of each type of income included in the distributable net income (DNI) of the fiduciary, unless the governing instrument directs otherwise.

All deductions included in the DNI computation are allocated among the classes of income included in DNI. Expenses are applied first to ordinary income and then, if necessary, are applied to capital gains. Expenses in excess of ordinary and capital income become a net operating loss that may be carried back 2 years and/or forward 20 years.

If the governing instrument directs that some other method be used to determine distributable amounts, override fields are provided for each line item in the input for the allocable shares worksheet.
