In Company F of the Fifth Regiment New Hampshire Volunteer Infantry according to Reg. of NH Soldiers and Sailors in the War of the Rebellion.

Andrew's regiment fought, amongst others, the battles of Antietam, Fredericksburg, Chancellorsville, Gettysburg. It is perhaps no surprise then that this regiment sustained the greatest loss in battle of any Infantry or Cavalry Regiment in the Union Army. What is sad is that the regiment's last battle was fought on April 7, 1865, and having survived the bloody battles, he succumbed to disease on April 19, 1865. His regiment was mustered out on July 28, 1865.

Notes for Jonathan Leach:

From Don Ryan (<http://worldconnect.rootsweb.com/cgi-bin/igm.cgi?op=GET&db=ryand&id=I50758>):

Jonathan Leach came to Kirby VT. In 1798, and bought a lot of land near the center of that part of the town which was then called Burke Tongue, and cut his first tree. He was the first settler in that town and was soon joined by Josiah Joslin, Jude White, Jonathan Lewis, Ebenezer Damen, Ashel Burt, Antipus Harrington and others, most of them from MA. And NH. While absent, engaged in removing his family from MA. to their new home, the proprietors obtained a new draught of the town, bringing his number some five miles to the southward of the spot where he began clearing, in an unbroken wilderness. Procuring on his request the assistance of a neighbor, as a guide, he started out in quest of his number, which after some difficulty, he succeeded in finding. In this new location he began his labors in the month of April 1800. He erected at once, A log house, though as the reader may well imagine "under difficulties" in as much as he was destitute of shingles and boards not to mention numerous other articles indispensable for convenient and successful house building. Into this rude structure, while the gable ends were still open, he moved his family consisting of a wife and two small children. Addressing himself now, to clearing away the forest about him, and preparing the soil for cultivation he succeeded, the first year in raising sufficient grain to meet the wants of his family. By the third year he had erected the first frame barn in the town, in which building was taught the first school and held the first religious meeting (1804). It was still in good condition in 1880. He also built the first saw mill in Kirby VT. He held nearly all the public offices of his town.

Notes for Deacon Seth Story:

Seth is both Mike Saltmarsh's and Necia Carleton's (his wife) common ancestor. They are thus 8th cousins once removed.

From Colonial Families of New England:

The family was of modest social and economic status in the Ipswich Chebacco community. Seth served in the militia as required, and held his share of public offices, including some his father had held. He was a deacon and elder in the church.

In his will Story stated "all my Utensils of husbandry and all my Carpenters Tools I give To my Two...Sons Zachariah & Seth Equally between them. The sons also inherited most of the property. Four daughters were alive at the time also.

His house was researched and dismantled in 1957 by the Henry Francis du Point Winterthur Museum of Winterthur, Delaware, where the hall (first-floor room) is on exhibit.

Served under Major Samuel Appleton in King Philip's War with the rank of sergeant. Was a deacon at the Second Church in Chebacco.

Notes for William Story:

[Stearns book]

"William Story, carpenter, came from Norwich, Norfolk, England, in 1637, as a servant of Samuel Dix, being then twenty-three years old. He embarked April 8, 1637, and settled at Ipswich, Massachusetts. A deed on record shows that he sold a lot of land in Ipswich previous to February 12, 1643, to William Knowlton. He purchased two lots of land adjoining other land of which he was then possessed, January 1, 1655. He was a subscriber to Major Denison in 1648, and owned a share and a half in Plum Island in 1664. In 1679 he was a voter in town affairs, and at that time was called William, Sr. He was a surveyor of highways in 1662, and was also called carpenter. The records show that he was possessed of land in Chebacco, November 10, 1652, this land adjoining John Webster on the northwest. On May 8, 1649, he purchased a farm of ninety acres from Henry Archer, which land had been granted by Archer by the town of Ipswich, and lying beyond Chebacco Falls. In 1671 he had permission to operate a mill on the Chebacco river, and in February, 1672, Abraham Perkins complained against him for taking a lot of green "ole timer" which he drew from the farm of said Perkins on the south side of Chebacco river "either off the commons or my farm.""

Notes for Samuel HARTSWELL:

SAMUEL served in the war against the indians under the leadership of Philip of Pokanoket, his name appearing in the list of those to whom, or their descendants, lands were granted in 1735, the share allotted for his services passing to his grandson, EPHRIAM-4. It seems likely that he was one of those who made the "hungry march" against the stronghold of Philip, and to whom a land gratuity was specially granted, as the name of JOHN-2, known to have been out in that war, does not appear among the grantees of land in 1735. He undoubtedly settled near his father at marriage, lived nearer him at his death than JOHN-2, but nothing yet appears to indicate with certainty whether it was he or his son SAMUEL-3 who settled on the lands in the present bounds of Lincoln, since held by his descendants until 1875.

Notes for William Chandler:

[Stearnes]

"In a list of inhabitants at Roxbury between 1638 and 1640, William Chandler appears as the owner of twenty-three acres of land, with seven persons in his family. He was charged with the care on the commons of one goat and kid, at the least of any of the residents. He took the freeman's oath in 1640, and was at that time stricken with disease, which caused his demise November 26, 1641. He was among the proprietors of Andover, with his son Thomas, and tradition says he was the owner of the tannery at the corner of Bartlett street and Hawmut avenue, Roxbury. A chronicler of his time says he "Lived a religious & godly life among us & fell into a Consumption to which he had, a long time, been inclined: he lay near a year sick, in all which time his faith, patience & Godliness & Contentation So Shined that Christ was much glorified in him-he was a man of Weak parts but Excellent faith and holiness! he was a Very thanful man, and much magnified God's goodness. He was poor, but God prepared the hearts of his people to him that he never wanted that which was (at least in his Esteem) Very plentiful and comfortable to him-he died in the year 1641, and left a Sweet memory and Savor behind him." William Chandler's widow was married July 2, 1643, to John Dane, of Barkhamstead, England, who died in September, 1658, and she married (third) August 9, 1660, John Parmenter of Sudbury, Massachusetts."

Notes for Lawrence Leach:

Among the first settlers in Salem. He owned a mill and an interest in the colony's first iron foundry. He was proposed for a freeman at Salem, in 1630, and was sworn May 18, 1638. Was one of the twelve jurymen which in Boston, in 1630, served on the trial of the first capital case that was heard in Massachusetts. Lawrence came from England to Salem, Massachusetts, in the "fleet" with Rev. Francis Higginson, the first minister sent out by the company. Lawrence was one of the founders of the church of Salem of which he was a prominent member.

The "Talbot" was the 20th ship to sail for New England.

[Great Migration Begins]

ORIGIN: Unknown

MIGRATION: 1629

FIRST RESIDENCE: Salem

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP: In the list of Salem Church members compiled late in 1636 [SChR 5].

FREEMAN: Requested 19 October 1630 and admitted 18 May 1631 [MBCR 1:80, 366].

EDUCATION: His inventory included "a Bible with another book" valued at 5s.

OFFICES: Jury, trial of Walter Palmer in the death of Austin Bratcher, 9 November 1630 [MBCR 1:81].

Essex grand jury, 25 January 1641 [EQC 1:33]. Petit jury, 27 December 1642 [EQC 1:44]. Jury foreman, January 1637/8, March 1638, 30 December 1645 [EQC 1:7, 89]. Jury, 27 September 1636, 27 December 1636, 28 March 1637, 27 March 1638, 26 June 1638, 25 December 1638, 31 December 1639, 29 December 1640 [EQC 1:3-5, 7, 8, 10, 14, 24].

Salem selectman 1636-40, 1642 [STR 1:34, 44, 77, 79, 80, 82-95, 105, 113].

ESTATE: He received one hundred acres in the freeman's land at Salem in 1636 [STR 1:19, 27]. He was granted three-quarters of an acre of marsh on 25 December 1637, with a household of five [STR 1:103].

One hundred acres of upland (presumably the same as that noted in the paragraph above) and six acres of marsh were laid out to Lawrence Leach on 17 February 1636[7] [STR 1:37]. He was granted ten acres of meadow on 9 December 1639 and fifteen more acres of meadow on 7 May 1638 [STR 1:93, 96].

On 18 March 1657[8] Lawrence Leach entered a caution for Richard Leach "who hath given him by his father Larrance Leach his farm on Riall side that joineth to Jacob Barney, both upland and salt marsh, only reserving for his particular use so much as is needful during his & his wife's lifetime" [ELR 1:37].

On about 7 September 1665, but not brought for acknowledgment until 28 March 1680, Samuel Friend of Manchester sold a mill and mill house at Bass River, with two acres of land and twenty acres a little distance off on Royal's Neck side "there being no bill of sale made till now," the original purchaser being Laurance Leach of Salem "now deceased," and the sale was confirmed to "John Leach, son unto Lawrance Leach aforesaid" [ELR 5:109-10].

The "nuncupative will of Lawrence Leach of Salem" was proved 25 June 1662: "Larance Leach aged 85 years or thereabouts being perfect in memory near a year before his death expressed himself unto us whose names are hereunder written in the disposing of that which he had, we being urgent with him to make his will his expressions to us was this: First he said that he did owe thirty pounds for the mill and his will was that his wife should pay his debts and when his debts were paid then she should take all he had. John Porter, John Bacheller" [EQC 2:428; ELR 2:46; EPR 1:388-89].

The inventory of "Lawrence Leach of Salem" [undated] totalled £138 14s. 8d., including real estate valued at £100: "the house, with two acres of land with the orchard, being part of the said two acres," £30; "a mill," £40; "20 acres of land not improved on Ryall side," £10"; and "fifteen acres of meadow bought of Mr. Downing," £20 [EQC 2:429; EPR 1:389].

On 12 April 1671 Elizabeth Leach Sr. of Salem, widow, deeded the mill or mills with the housing, land & orchard "sold by my son John Leach" to John Dodge of Beverly [ELR 3:111].

On 22 January 1670[1] Elizabeth Leach of Salem, widow, executrix to the estate of Laurence Leach, deceased, sold for "£14 to be paid unto my daughter Rachel Golthwright" a share of fifteen acres of meadow in the great fresh meadow, five acres excepted, to Richard Leach of Salem [ELR 6:44].

BIRTH: About 1583 (estimated by splitting the difference between his age as stated in his nuncupative will and the year of birth that would result from assuming he was twenty-five when he married).

DEATH: By 25 June 1662 (probate of will).

MARRIAGE: By 1636 (and by about 1615 if she was the mother of all his children) Elizabeth _____, who survived him. "Elizabeth Leech" was in the list of Salem church members compiled in late 1636 [SChR 6].

CHILDREN:

i ROBERT, b. about 1615 (deposed aged about 58 years, 1 September 1673 [EQC 5:215]): one of the two sons of Lawrence Leach granted land in 1639; evidently he who died Manchester, intestate, leaving a relict [perhaps Alice] and two sons before June, 1674 [EQC 5:364-5].

ii JOHN, b. say 1617, one of the two sons of Lawrence Leach granted land in 1639. There being several men named John Leach, this man's career is presently unclear.

iii RICHARD, b. about 1619 (deposed aged about fifty years, March 1669 [EQC 4:111]; deposed aged "about sixty-seven years" 4 February 1684/5 [ELR 9:255]); m. by about 1645 Sarah Fuller, daughter of widow Anne Fuller (in her nuncupative will, probably made early in 1662, "Anne Fuller, widow," bequeathed most of her estate to "her son Richard Leach" and a cow to "John Leach & Sara Leach" [EPR 1:389]).

iv RACHEL, b. say 1622; m. (1) by about 1642 John Sibley of Manchester, who d. 1661 leaving "9 fatherless children ... the eldest daughter 19 years old" [EPR 1:348]; m. (2) after 1661 and by 1670 THOMAS GOLDTHWAIT [ELR 6:44].

ASSOCIATIONS: "John Leech, the brother of Lawrence Leech," was received for an inhabitant by Salem on 23 January 1636/7 [STR 1:33].

On 27 August 1644 "Richard Leech" was charged with having "received a pig of John Burrage, servant to Jno. Porter and himself, and his uncle Jno. Leech concealed it, not having it cried, until three months later," as a result of which Richard Leach and John Leach were fined twenty shillings apiece [EQC 1:69].

In his nuncupative will, taken by Elizabeth Buxton and Mary Felton sometime in 1658, John Leach Sr. of Salem gave everything he had to John Leach. "At another time having further conference about the disposing of his estate unto the said John Leach, we told him there were several John Leaches [and] he should do well to express which of them, he said John Leach the son of Richard Leach" [EPR 1:288].

COMMENTS: In the first letter of instruction to John Endicott, dated 17 April 1629, Governor Craddock had this to say of Leach: "We desire you to take notice of one Lawrence Leach, whom we have found a careful and painful man, and we doubt not but he will continue his diligence let him have deserving respect" [MBCR 1:394].

A mature adult when he arrived, Lawrence Leach was, true to Craddock's description, painstakingly diligent. His leadership in Salem was quietly competent. Usually on the jury rather than in front of it, he was only once brought to task, being one of those who kept his cattle on Salem common and was fined with many others for it at December Term 1642 [EQC 1:49]. He appraised the estate of Samuel Smith on 18 November 1642 and retired from public service shortly thereafter [EQC 1:47].

On 15 May 1639 "Lawrence Leach's two sons" were granted seventy acres in Salem [STR 1:88].

BIBLIOGRAPHIC NOTE: In 1924 F. Phelps Leach published a genealogy of this family which claimed ten children for the immigrant [Lawrence Leach of Salem, Massachusetts and some of his Descendants (East Highgate, Vermont, 1924)]. This author inserted into the family of Lawrence Leach many persons of the same surname from all parts of New England (and even from old England) who could not have been his children. The Robert Leach presented in this volume as son of Lawrence is a chimaera, created by mixing records for Robert Leach of Charlestown and Robert Leach of Manchester, the latter of whom was the son of the immigrant.
