Meet your TDs

ACBL's Tournament Director Appreciation is going on during this tournament. Check this space each day to meet one of the tournament directors working at the Fall NABC.

For a long time before he took up directing, Harry Falk was telling people what to do. When he wasn't running the family mattress company in upstate New York, he was working as a swimming referee, making sure everyone did the right strokes and stayed in their lanes. He also was a diving judge.

After he moved to Florida in the mid-Nineties, it was only natural for Falk to take up another vocation that allowed him to influence an organized event.

Working from his home base in Palm City FL, Falk is now busy running tournaments all over Florida, especially sectionals. "I probably do as many sectionals as anyone in the country," he says.

Falk learned bridge about 20 years ago, finally yielding to years of prodding by his mother. He quickly became addicted, and when he played at the local club, he studied how things all came together.

After leaving New York, Falk decided he wanted to make a living in bridge, and he is now a full-time ACBL employee, working 75% of his sessions in his home state.

Falk doesn't play much any more, but he still loves the game. Even better, he says, is being part of a successful tournament: "I like seeing a big event come together and run smoothly."

Grad students win Non-LM Pairs

Non-LM champs Mike Develin and John Barth.

Mike Develin of Berkeley CA and John Barth of Stanford CA are the 2005 winners of the Rufus "Skinny" Miles Non-Life Master Pairs. Develin, a post-doctoral student in mathematics, and Barth, who is earning his master's degree in chemical engineering, won the two-session contest with a large second-session game.

The winners, both 25, were in fourth place after a first-session performance of 57.18%. In the evening, however, Develin and Barth posted a 65.23% game to win the event by one board.

In second were Cassandra Spain of Shelley ID and Karen Gurwitz of Littleton CO.

Develin and Barth have only played together a few months. This is the first NABC that Develin has attended.

Karl Johnson

Karl Johnson, a retired national tournament director and husband of ACBL TD Patty Johnson, died Thursday in Sebring FL after a long illness. He was 81.

Johnson, originally of Moline IL, became a tournament director in 1960 and quickly ascended to national rank, the highest for TDs, in 1967.

Gary Blaiss, one of Johnson's contemporaries and now ACBL's chief administrative officer, said Johnson was "one of the giants of our profession."

Blaiss recalled the 1984 Summer NABC in Washington DC, at which the director in charge abruptly quit, leaving the organizers in the lurch. Blaiss recalled that Johnson stepped in "on a day's notice" to run the NABC and did so expertly.

Johnson, said Blaiss, was always very supportive of younger TDs and was one of the founders of the Professional Tournament Directors association.

Houston duo lead Women's LM

Pat Levy and Esta Van Zandt topped the list of qualifiers in yesterday's Smith Life Master Women's Pairs. Levy and Van Zandt, of Houston, posted a 64.88% game in the afternoon session and a 60.75% game in the evening to lead the event by one board. The leaders' two-session total was 1665.34 (51 = top).

In second with 1617.93 were Mary Savko and Ellie Hanlon of Tequesta FL. Marcia Freed of Stuart FL and Christine Urbanek of Tonawanda NY were third with 1559.87.

Berkowitz, Cohen lead LM Open Pairs

David Berkowitz and Larry Cohen put together two strong games to take the lead after two qualifying sessions of the Bobby Nail Life Master Open Pairs.

The leaders had a sizzling 69.38% game in the afternoon session and followed with 61.46% in the evening. Cohen has won the event, which was the Life Master Men's Pairs until 1990, two times – with Marty Bergen in 1983 and with Robert Levin in 1988.

Right behind Berkowitz and Cohen were Zia Mahmood and Jill Meyers, both of whom have previous wins in the championship. Zia won back-to-back titles with Hugh Ross in 1990 and 1991. Meyers won with Steve Garner in 2000.

Meyers, JoAnna Stansby and Jo Morse are the only women to win the LM Open Pairs in the 15 years since it changed from a men's event. Stansby, playing with her husband, Lew, was the first.

JUST FOR NEW PLAYERS

Two big bridge questions

By Lynn Berg

Journalism has five questions that all news articles should answer—the five “w” words: who, what, where, when and why. Bridge has only two questions which must be answered in any auction — where and how high.

Many times we know the answer to “where” first. Partner opens 1♥, and you hold

♠K 8 2 ♥A 9 7 5 ♦Q J 8 4 ♣9 7

or perhaps

♠9 8 2 ♥A 9 7 5 ♦Q J 8 4 ♣9 7

Surely the “where” is hearts. But you can’t know for sure how high you should be. So with the first hand, you jump to 3♥, telling partner you have heart support and 11-12 points — a limit raise. With the second hand, you make a single raise to 2♥. In either case, you await partner’s decision. She might pass, carry on to game, or even try for slam with a big hand. Tip: when you have a fit for partner’s major, you know the “where.” Give partner the right information to determine how high.

If partner opens a minor, or if you don’t have at least three of partner’s major, the dialogue to answer our two big questions may be more complex. Say partner opens 1♦ and you hold:

♠K J 9 8 6 ♥A 9 7 5 2 ♦6 ♣A Q.

The moment partner opens, you know that “how high” is no lower than game. Partner has an opening hand, you have 14 high-card points. It is your responsibility to see to it that your side gets to game. This particular hand has a trap for some players, too: you are used to responding “up the line” when partner opens a minor, but that isn’t the best method with two five-card suits. Respond 1♠, and then jump in hearts if partner doesn’t raise spades. The second bid will advise partner that we belong in game. For instance:

Partner	You

tells partner you are two-suited with a good hand. Since partner rebid 1NT, there’s a good chance we have an eight-card fit in one of the majors.

Sometimes you can make a very descriptive bid that combines information about HCP and distribution. If partner opens a minor and you jump to 2NT, for instance, partner should know

- You have a balanced hand.
- You have no four-card major.
- You have 11-12 HCP.

That’s a wealth of information to provide with one bid. Now partner can probably make a good decision to answer your two big questions. If you had jumped to 3NT, partner would expect you to have 13-16 HCP, balanced distribution with no four-card major. You and your partner might have slightly different limits for these jumps in no trump, but you should still be delivering the same distributional messages.

Many books and articles have been written about bridge bidding, but all auctions come down to an attempt to answer those two big questions: what strain should we play in, a suit or notrump, and how high should we get? Is it part-score, game or slam? If we can remember that we are always striving to answer these questions, bidding becomes easier for both partners.

Lynn Berg lives in Deland FL. She is a retired English professor who is really enjoying her new career in bridge.

West	North	East	South
		1♠	Pass
2♦	Pass	3♦	Pass
3♠	Pass	4♠	All Pass

Opening lead: ♥5.

Bidding commentary: With extras, East can raise to 3♦ with three-card support. With four-card support the raise can be made with a minimum. The 3♠ bid, delayed support at the three level, is game forcing and shows three spades. West’s sequence describes a hand too strong to raise directly to 2♠.

Those who play 2/1 game force (any two-level response to an opening bid is forcing to game) respond 1NT, a one-round force, with the West hand. The hand is not strong enough to force to game with a 2♦ response. For those using 2/1, West continues the description by jumping in spades on the rebid. Diamonds aren’t mentioned.

Lead commentary: Holding four trumps to an honor, it is usually right to lead from your longest side suit. The idea is to try to force declarer to ruff, thus reducing his trump length. If South can manage to wind up with more trumps than East, it’s goodbye East.

Defensive commentary: When dummy plays low at trick one, North inserts the jack. When dummy has an honor and third hand has a higher and a lower honor, the lower honor is inserted. North, knowing that South has four trumps, continues with the ♥A and a heart, forcing East to ruff — the game plan. East and South each have four spades. When East attacks trumps, South wins the third round, the one that voids dummy. South plays a fourth heart, forcing East to ruff with his last trump. Don’t look now, but South remains with a trump and a good heart and East has no more spades! Down two! If South wins an earlier spade, he cannot make East ruff because dummy has trump and declarer will ruff the heart in dummy, retaining his trump length. Declarer will then be able to draw trumps and run the diamonds. When trying to force the long hand in a suit in which both declarer and dummy are void, take your trump winner when dummy’s last trump is played.

After South ducks two spades, declarer can save a trick by playing top clubs and ruffing the losing club in dummy before turning his attention to diamonds. South ruffs the third round of diamonds and winds up with two spade tricks to go with the two heart tricks already taken.

Bishop and Henderson have taken the Teacher Accreditation Program courses and are now studying to be directors. Their goal: to run bridge games on cruise ships.

Johnson

Tom Quinlan, a longtime DIC himself, said he worked with Johnson for more than 30 years and noticed that “when he wasn’t around things didn’t get done, or they didn’t get done right.”

Quinlan said that for years Johnson and the late John Wiser were the brains behind the appeals process at NABCs. “They gave us a good foundation for appeals,” said Quinlan.

Johnson was soft-spoken as a rule, Quinlan said, but he was not afraid to voice opinions when he felt strongly about a subject. “He was a stickler for doing things the right way,” Quinlan said.

Chris Patrias, another national TD and longtime friend, said Johnson “was always teaching” whenever another director went to him with a problem or a question. Patrias said there was a running joke about “Karl Johnson’s closet” – a reference to his frequent response to questions: “I’ve got something in writing about that at home in my closet.”

Jokes aside, Patrias said, Johnson was well respected and liked by his colleagues: “He knew a lot.”

Patrias, who lives in the St. Louis area, said he enjoyed his annual bet with Johnson, a diehard Chicago Cubs fan, about which of their baseball teams would do better. “I won money from him about five years in a row,” Patrias said.

Karl and Patty knew each other from working together at tournaments in the Midwest. They were married in June of 1982.

Karl retired in February of 1988, three months after he and Patty had moved to Florida.

Patty said her husband flourished in retirement, playing golf, reading and following sports. Thirteen years ago, he survived a near-fatal heart attack on a golf course, and he also made it through a bout with lung cancer suffered six years ago.

Patty became a national tournament director three years ago and is now the ACBL field representative for Florida. Karl, she said, “was always very supportive” of her TD activities.

Relatives of Bridge Players Anonymous: a confession

By Janice Arenofsky

Hello. My name is Janice, and I’m the relative of a Bridge Addict. This is my story.

I was fine until my sister got engaged to a bridge player. In no time at all, it seemed, she went from playing war and concentration to making bids and contracts. From then on, she was playing with her fiance-partner at least once, sometimes twice, a week.

If you called, she’d talk to you, but you felt her impatience and the stirrings of desire for a good bridge game with accomplished players. Meanwhile I’d sit at home wondering if I, too, would one day give up my sissy card games and grow up to become a bridge player like my older sister.

Once married, my sibling couldn’t say no to any bridge-playing opportunity. She’d play any day of the week, with her husband or without. It didn’t matter where the game was or what the snacks were, she’d putt-putt there in her old Buick with the vinyl top and broken odometer.

Within a few years she and her husband became Life Masters, and I was married and worrying what to do with my free time. Every chance she had, she would try to recruit my husband and me. “Take a course at the high school,” she would say while diapering her firstborn.

“And read a few books.” Meanwhile she was playing bridge so often and with so many better players that she began to improve by leaps and bounds.

Pretty soon she was motoring or flying to local, regional and national bridge conventions all over the country. One time it was Florida, the next time it would be Las Vegas or Washington DC.

I didn’t know it at the time, but that was when she started abandoning her family for the quick fix of bridge. She said it was a hobby, stress relief, a way to be competitive without becoming a real estate broker, but I knew better. She was hooked on it.

Since she was the first person in our family to become a fully functioning bridge player, no one understood her constant need for the thrills and chills of the sport. I figured she was using it as a way to avoid facing her real problems, whatever they were since I couldn’t actually fathom why a middle-class high-school teacher with a lawyer for a husband and three adorable children (two of whom were unfortunately turned on to bridge at an early age) could be unhappy.

I had now relocated to Phoenix, where oddly enough, my sister never seemed to have a bridge convention. I checked on the ACBL web site and found out that, sure enough, there had been a recent bridge conference in the Valley of the Sun. When I called my sister on this, she stammered and stuttered and finally came up with the excuse that, “It was just too hot in Arizona in the summer.”

But I knew better. After all, not only was it a dry heat, I had a pool.

There was another, uglier, reason. If my sister and her husband came to Phoenix, they would feel obliged to spend some quality time with us. And that would take away from my sister’s nonstop bridge schedule. That would never do. By then, she really couldn’t go more than 24 hours without a bridge fix. Otherwise she’d act edgy and nervous.

Sadly, the situation never got any better. Every time I returned home to visit, she’d be going to play bridge. It didn’t matter that she hadn’t seen me for months and sometimes years, she still couldn’t tear herself away from games in New Jersey, New York and Connecticut. I did what I could to help her – I invited her to dinners at trendy nightclubs and even tried to distract her with tickets to a few Broadway shows – but nothing helped. Even her two married children tried to entice her away with opportunities to babysit her grandchildren and paint the kitchen. It was hopeless. The last straw was when I called her from Scottsdale and realized while I was blabbing away, she was at her computer playing online with a fellow addict in South America. What gave it away were all those dings ringing from her PC. She didn’t even care enough to muffle the sounds.

So that’s my story. Luckily, I did not inherit the “obsessive” gene. I never became enthralled by the coolness, sophistication and intellectual pleasure of bridge. My sister now plays bridge online every night and on weekends, she attends marathon sessions in the tri-state area.

I hope I’ve helped. Perhaps you’ll have more luck rehabilitating your relative-addict.

Thank you for listening.

Cohen was West, and received the lead of the ♣A followed by a heart switch. South took the ♥A and returned a club. Cohen won the ♣K, played a spade to the ace and a spade to the jack, finding both the good and bad news.

Going about the business of playing for overtricks, Cohen played a diamond to the ace, ruffed a low club, played a diamond to the king and ruffed the ♣Q. This was the ending:

Now a heart goes to dummy’s queen and diamonds are played for the trump coup (technically, a grand coup since he ruffed a winner). Note that if Cohen had used the ♥Q as an entry to ruff clubs, South could have pitched his second diamond on the ♣Q and spoiled the coup.

Plus 450 was good for 19 out of 25 matchpoints.

More Truscott memories

The tribute to Alan Truscott published in the Daily Bulletin on Friday included three letters from friends of the late New York Times bridge editor.

The following were received by Barry Rigal, who organized a memorial to Truscott in New York after his death in September.

From Mike and Steve Becker, Florida and Connecticut

We first met Alan as youths in the early Sixties after he had emigrated to New York City. We had been playing in tournaments with some success in and around New York City, and for some reason Alan took a shine to us. As the years passed, we came to know him as a family friend, a Greater New York Bridge Association board member, a partner, an opponent, a reporter and eventually as a teammate in major national tournaments. Because B. Jay and Dorothy were partners for eight years, and because Alan and Dorothy later married, it was natural that a bond grew between the three of them and their respective families. These ties were at their closest when B. Jay, Dorothy and Alan broke the Reese-Schapiro affair.

Alan was always very good to the Becker family, finding a way to squeeze our names into a half dozen or so articles every year.

Alan made the game of bridge better and more enjoyable for all, both as a gentleman at the table and a reporter away from it. At any time, in virtually any situation, some apropos rhyme or limerick could pop out of Alan's mouth. We will miss Alan's unique wit and intellect.

From Sandra Landy, Great Britain

Alan Truscott was already a great name when I went up to Oxford, and I was impressed that such a well-known player could take time to visit us and arrange matches to strengthen our game. With all the good players who subsequently represented Great Britain and who developed out of Oxford in the late Fifties, his efforts paid off. Thank you, Alan.

From Maureen Hiron, Great Britain

When my husband died, Alan was one of the first to send me a letter of condolences, and on hearing that I was taking over a bridge correspondent of The Independent, Alan followed the letter with a bulky envelope containing first-class column material, in case I was having difficulty finding suitable hands in my early days. I will always be grateful to him for that act of kindness.

From Patrick Jourdain, Wales

My first bridge club was in Surrey, England, in 1961. Alan had been the star member and had just left for the U.S.

It was after the 1984 World Bridge Olympiad that Alan Truscott, Per and Britt Jannersten, Evelyn Senn and I spent a week traveling by car down the West Coast to the NABC in San Diego. The trip was made highly entertaining by Alan's anecdotes and his recall of virtually all the Tom Lehrer and Flanders and Swan songs and poems. It cemented our friendship that began when I first became the editor in 1981.

Alan often offered to share a room at the world championships, and I was with him in 1993 when a pickpocket stole his wallet in Santiago, Chile. Alan, typically, chased the thief down the street and tried to rugby tackle him. The youth was too fast, of course, and Alan fell down on the pavement, dislocated his shoulder and went to the opening ceremony with it in a sling. I had to put his socks on for him every morning.

Before the world championships in Albuquerque and Montreal, Alan and Dorothy generously invited several of the International Attendees at last evening's reception for teachers and club officials included Matthew Greenways of Edmonton AB, manager of the Edmonton Bridge Centre; Carol Robertson, director of club and member services for the ACBL; Accredited Teacher Brenda Montague of Swampscott MA; Julie Greenberg, ACBL's director of education; and District 17 Director Jerry Fleming.

Bridge Press Association officers to their home in the Adirondack Mountains in New York, where we swam, rowed boats and played tennis together.

At each world championship, we had a reunion dinner of the Seattle trip, and I often dined with Alan when the two of us were last to leave the press room. He was always good company, a source of great stories and all the latest news.

For me, he was the world's leading bridge journalist, and no world championship will seem the same, or as good, without him.

From Peter Weichsel, California

Alan Truscott was my No. 1 press agent. I sometimes feel guilty about the number of times I was featured in the New York Times. Not only was I very fond of Alan, but I will always be grateful for all the ink he graced me with. He had a great wit and was an extremely talented writer, as well as a genuinely nice person.

Kathie Wei-Sender, Florida

Alan was one of my friends who encouraged me to take up bridge. He helped (my late husband) Charles Wei and I create the Precision bidding system and named it just that. With Dorothy, we toured the world to promote bridge and Precision, and on the way we made friends and had a lot of fun. We were with Alan and Dorothy when he proposed marriage to her. I will miss him very much.

From Zia Mahmood, U.S. and Pakistan

I had the greatest respect and liking for Alan. I loved his anecdotes and stories of the old days, and whenever I was asked to pick a team for panel shows at the NABCs, I would tell the organizer, "Give me Alan Truscott," and I wouldn't need anyone else. The world of bridge will miss him, as will I.

New Life Masters

Carol Adams of Council Bluffs IA earned her gold card as her team won two matches in two different knockout teams on Friday. She was playing with husband Larry Adams and teammates Gay Ostrander of Arvada CO and Jo Ann Miller of Lakewood CO.

Another new LM is George Prozan of San Francisco. Needing only gold points, he went over in the Friday-Saturday Knockout Teams. He was playing with Dan Raider. Their teammates were Tony and Joan Viidik.

Chair massage

Got a kink in your neck? Stiff back muscles? (Bridge can do that, you know.) There are massage therapists on hand in Denver near the playing areas to provide chair massages for a minimal fee.

Look for the funny looking chairs that don't look like chairs, and sit down for a relief session you'll be sure to return to time and time again. It's well worth the recommended $5 tip for seven minutes.

Today Is Denver Unit #361 Day at the Colorado NABC Where Were You in 1976?

What do Jack Phillips, Peggy Greene, Wann Smith, Lois Scott, Romy Gerould, Neal Walker, Yetta Foreman, Jay McGrew, Martha Cecil and Don Heitler have in common? And what were they doing in 1976?

They were the first 10 members of the Board of Directors for the newly incorporated Denver Metropolitan Unit of the American Contract Bridge League, officially filed with the State of Colorado in August 1976.

Today, the board members are different, but the purpose is the same:

A. To preserve and promote the best interest of competitive contract bridge, and any modifications thereof;

B. To cooperate with, and assist the League in the promotion and conduct of contract bridge tournaments;

C. To prescribe rules of eligibility for participation in tournaments under its own auspices;

D. To consider and pass upon reports of dishonest, unethical and improper conduct of participants in tournaments, and to bar or suspend persons guilty of such conduct from further participation;

E. To promote the development and organization of affiliated clubs within the Unit;

F. To conduct such other activities as may be in keeping with its principal objectives.

The Denver Unit currently has approximately 1200 members, and hosts one regional, four sectional and two IN tournaments each year. A typical sectional tournament of 3-1/2 days will see 450 tables of bridge in play, the 6-1/2 day regional is steadily growing, and approaching 2000 tables.

The membership rolls of the Denver Unit over the years have seen such greats as Dan Mordecai, Jan Janitschke, Craig Janitschke, Dick Reed, Jack Bitman and Dick Lesko.

You are currently participating in a tournament that was facilitated greatly by several members of the Denver Unit (along with many more volunteers from across the state), and you can expect the same warm western hospitality at Denver Unit hosted regional and sectional tournaments. If you are enjoying this tournament, come back to Denver in May. Our regional tournament runs for seven days, ending on Memorial Day. We'd love to have you back.

Richard Pavlicek Jr. and Richard Pavlicek

Father-Son Combo "Nailed" 2004 LM Pairs

Richard Pavlicek and Richard Pavlicek Jr. topped the field in last year's four-session Bobby Nail Life Master Open Pairs. It was the first national-level victory for them as a partnership. Richard Sr. of Fort Lauderdale FL had won 10 previous NABC titles, but it was the first for Richard Jr., of Santa Clara CA, in an open event.

The duo posted a score of 3020.35 masterpoints.

In second with 2984.89 were Mark Aquino of Jamaica Plain MA and Jonathan Green of Kingston NY.

The play

This four-session event is restricted to Life Masters and is played over two qualifying sessions and two final sessions.

Before 1963 the event was restricted to National Masters and players of higher rank. It was a men's event until 1990 when it became an open event.

At stake is the Bobby Nail Trophy, designated by the ACBL Board of Directors to honor the diminutive Texan (1925-95) who won this event in 1974 with longtime friend and partner Gerald Michaud.

Nail, inducted into the Bridge Hall of Fame at the 2001 Summer NABC in Toronto, won four other North American championships and represented North America twice in the Bermuda Bowl. His team was second in 1963.

Three Super Mornings!

10 am -- Noon each day in Plaza F

Second in the Miles Non-Life Master Pairs were Cassandra Spain and Karen Gurwitz.

Best-laid plans

Larry Cohen had a plan on the following deal from the first qualifying session of the Bobby Nail Life Master Open Pairs, but his opponent didn't cooperate. Cohen was West, playing with David Berkowitz.

Dr: South ♠ A J 7
Vul: Both ♥ A 10 9 5
♦ A Q 8
♣ A 8 4

♠ K 10 8 ♠ 6 4 2
♥ J 4 3 2 ♥ Q 8
♦ K 10 4 2 ♦ 9 7 6 3
♣ 10 9 ♣ K J 7 6

♠ Q 9 6 3
♥ K 7 6
♦ J 5
♣ Q 5 3 2

West	North	East	South
			Pass
Pass	1♣	Pass	1♠
Pass	2NT	Pass	3NT
All Pass

Berkowitz started with the ♦7, which went to the jack, king and ace. Declarer played a low club from hand and put up dummy's queen when Berkowitz played low. Now declarer played a spade to the 8, jack and 2, following with the ♠A. Berkowitz played the ♠4, dummy the 6 and Cohen the king! He knew the deception would work, and his plan was for declarer – "knowing" he had four spade tricks at any time – to work on other suits before taking the "marked" finesse against Berkowitz's ♠10. By then, Cohen hoped, he would have some established tricks of his own to cash.

Declarer foiled the plan, however, by playing a spade to dummy's 9 at the next trick. Cohen got his spade trick, which he would have had by playing the 10 instead of the king, and declarer took the nine tricks he was entitled to.

Health Note:

High-Altitude Sickness

What is high-altitude or mountain sickness?

Sometimes people get sick at high altitudes. This is called mountain sickness or high-altitude sickness.

What causes this problem?

Lack of oxygen causes high-altitude sickness. As altitude increases, the air becomes "thinner," which means less oxygen is in the atmosphere. You get less oxygen in your lungs with each breath, so the amount of oxygen in your blood declines. All people can experience mountain sickness, but it may be more severe in people who have heart or lung problems.

What are the symptoms?

Symptoms usually begin within 48 hours of arriving at high altitude. Symptoms include:

- headaches, breathlessness, fatigue

- nausea or vomiting
- inability to sleep
- swelling of the face, hands and feet

Recommendation

Most people adjust or "acclimatize" to the high altitude within a few days. Here are some tips:

- Avoid strenuous activity for the first day or two.
- Drink extra fluid.
- Be careful of drinking alcohol. Its effect is magnified at high altitude.
- Your doctor may prescribe medication to help prevent or treat altitude sickness.

The real thing

By Carl Dahl

At the Fall Nationals in Houston in 1970, I entered my first national event, the Mixed Pairs.

At game time, I met up with a rather tightly wound lady who was destined to be my partner. Later, we sat down against an elderly man and woman (I was 27 – everybody looked elderly to me).

I proceeded to make probably the worst overcall of my life

♠A 6 5 4 ♥10 8 5 4 3 ♦5 4 ♣9 2.

I actually overcalled 1♥ over a 1♣ opener.

The lady at my left doubled. Please note that this was before the day of Alerts. After the double, everyone passed.

It took picture-perfect defense to beat me the required three tricks, a top for them. I noticed to my surprise that my right-hand opponent had four hearts to the A-K-Q.

Then I belatedly noticed that they were playing Schenken. The 1♣ showed 17 or more high-card points and was forcing. The double was positive and showed 8 or more HCP. The old man converted to penalty by passing.

My partner was disgusted. She said, "I should have redoubled to punish you even more."

I gave my apology, "I'm sorry. I did not notice that they were playing Schenken."

"Playing Schenken?" she said through clenched teeth. "Playing Schenken? They are Schenken!"

I had managed to get a zero against Howard and Bee Schenken.

Somehow I did win masterpoints that day, my first national event.

Season's Greetings

from the Mid-Atlantic Bridge Conference Host to 30,000 Regional tables a year.

Make your holidays the happiest by planning to play in the biggest and best tournaments of the new year. All Mid-Atlantic regionals offer loads of bracketed knockouts and exciting and trend-setting Intermediate-Newcomer schedules and lectures. And our three favorite words: Hospitality, hospitality, hospitality. Still just $10 a session.

Atlanta, GA - Dec. 26-Jan. 1, Crowne Plaza Ravinia (770) 395-7700. With the recent Summer NABC in town, the traditional Labor Day regional moves to New Year's in the Big Peach. Chair: Jack Feagin (404) 252-9246, jfeagin2@bellsouth.net.

Williamsburg, VA - Jan. 16-22, Marriott, 50 Kingsmill Road (757) 220-2500. Play bridge where George Washington played more than two centuries ago. Chair: Wyatt Mapp (757) 597-0000, mappowell@yahoo.com.

Hilton Head Island, SC - Feb. 6-12, Marriott Hotel and Beach Resort (843) 686-8400. Our biennial winter break to this semitropical escape on the shores of the Atlantic. Co-chair: Carol Wilson (843) 681-3083, donew@adelphia.net.

Gatlinburg, TN - April 17-23, Convention Center. Yet another ACBL record-breaker? Don't bet against it, even though the bar is set quite high; it reached 9,096 tables in 2005. Denver trivia – Part 1

• In 1935, Louis Ballast melted a slice of cheese on a hamburger at his Denver Humpty Dumpty drive-in restaurant, and patented the invention as the world's first "cheeseburger." The restaurant is gone today, but there is a small memorial to this historic dining event at 2776 North Speer Blvd.(in the parking lot for Key Bank).

• Denver truly is one mile high. The 15th step on the west side of the State Capitol Building is 5280 feet (1609 m) above sea level.

• It was on top of nearby Pikes Peak in 1893 that Katherine Lee Bates was inspired to write the words to "America the Beautiful."

• The mountainous area of Colorado is six times the size of Switzerland and contains 9,600 miles (15,449 km) of fishing streams, 2850 lakes and over 1000 peaks two miles (3218 km) high.

• The road up 14,260 foot (4346 meters) high Mount Evans is the highest paved road in North America — and it is maintained and operated by Denver City Parks Department. Denver's Mountain Parks Department maintains 20,000 acres of park lands including its own private buffalo herd and Red Rocks Amphitheatre — all part of the largest city park system in the nation.

• In hopes of gaining political favors, local boosters named the frontier mining camp on the South Platte River "Denver" after Kansas Territorial Governor James Denver. They never received any favors — by the time they named the town, Denver had already resigned.

• There were originally three separate towns on the current site of Denver, with three different names. In 1859, in return for a barrel of whiskey to be shared by all, the other names were dropped and the tent and log cabin city officially became "Denver."

• Denver is one of the few cities in history that was not on a road, railroad, lake, navigable river or body of water when it was founded. Denver just happened to be where the first few flakes of gold were found in 1858 and it was here that the first camp was made. The first permanent structure was a saloon.

• The Indians warned early settlers not to build there, but no one listened. In its first few years, Denver was destroyed twice, by fire and flood.

• The dome of the State Capitol in Denver is covered with 200 ounces of 24K gold, but the really priceless building material was used inside as wainscoting. It is Colorado onyx, a rare stone found near Beulah, Colorado. The entire world's supply was used in this building and no more of it has ever been found.

• The Denver Zoo is the fourth most popular zoo in America (based on those with paid admission fees) and has the 7th most diverse animal collection. The zoo has 3500 animals representing over 685 species of which 157 are classified as threatened or endangered. It costs $38,000 a day to care for the animals and operate the zoo.

• Denver Parks Dept. grows 240,000 flowers a year in their own greenhouse, planting them in 506 flower beds throughout the city. If laid end to end, these plants would stretch for 56 miles (90 km). If placed together, the city's flower beds would cover every foot of the of Colorado Convention Center — about seven acres of flowers.

• Some of Denver's famous high school alumni include Golda Meir, a future Israeli prime minister who attended North High School, and Douglas Fairbanks, who was expelled from East High before becoming one of the most famous silent movie stars of all time. Hattie McDaniel, the first African American to win an Academy Award for her performance in Gone With The Wind, also attended East High.

• Central City (located 34 miles (55 km) west of Denver) is known as the "Richest Square Mile on Earth" because of the half billion dollars of gold mined there. A new "gold rush" was launched in Central City in October 1991 when limited stakes casino gambling was legalized for Central City and neighboring Black Hawk. Original projections thought that only a few casinos would open in the first few years; within one year of legalization, there were 41 casinos in the two towns offering over 7000 slot machines, poker tables and blackjack games.

• The Colorado Rockies opened on April 9, 1993 before 80,277 fans, the most to ever witness an opening game in baseball history. The team went on to break 11 Major League Baseball records including most single season fans — 4,483,350 — the most to ever attend any American sports team in a single season.

• Coloradans love sport-utility vehicles and full-size trucks. In 1996, nearly as many Sport Utility Vehicles and trucks were registered in Colorado as new cars; 126,056 SUVs and trucks compared to 127,928 new cars.

• An 1872 Colorado newspaper describing a new hotel — the first in the city to feature locks on the doors — reported: "Guests may lie down to peaceful slumbers, undisturbed by the apprehensions of getting their heads blown off." In Denver's wild days, famous gunfighter Bat Masterson was employed as a guard at several of the city's saloons, but today, downtown Denver is one of the safest cities in America. There are 5200 first-class hotel rooms in downtown Denver and 24,000 beautiful rooms throughout the city.

• Denver is a popular setting for many authors. There are at least 25 novels where the action takes place in the Mile High City, including Waiting to Exhale by Terry McMillan, which became a critically acclaimed movie and Jack Kerouac's classic, On the Road.

Knowing when to get in and out of an auction – and when to stay quiet – is a key skill in bridge.

It is the same in the stock market. NewArc investors enjoyed great gains in the last big rally, but were out of the dangerous stocks before things broke. Is now the time for another big move?

Taxi vouchers are free for a one-way trip with one or two passengers, or free for the round trip with three or four passengers. To obtain your voucher, stop by the "horses" in the lobby of the Adam's Mark Hotel on the day you want to shop between 9:30 and 10 a.m. Tuesday, Nov. 22 or Friday, Nov. 25 — and you can leave and return to the Adam's Mark at whenever you choose.

While in Cherry Creek, visit the nationally recognized Tattered Cover Bookstore (you can easily spend a couple hours in the Tattered Cover's four-story bookstore), and be sure to pick up one of their Buy-One-Get-One-Free coupons good at the Tattered Cover coffee shop; Movado; Anthropologie; Crane & Co. Paper Makers; Montblanc; Louis Vuitton; Pottery Barn; bebe; Adreinne Vittadini; Tommy Bahama; The Wizard's Chest, Kazoo (voted the best toystore in the US), and many more shops, galleries and restaurants. You came all the way to Denver...don't miss this opportunity to shop Cherry Creek — the ultimate shopping experience.

Dinner in Cherry Creek a Delight

Having traveled this far, dining in Cherry Creek North is a must. The famed Cherry Creek North shopping area in Denver is a mere 10-minute taxi ride away . . . and it's free one way with one or two passengers, and free round-trip passage with three or four passengers.

On Monday, Nov. 21, Wednesday, Nov. 23 and Friday, Nov. 25, enjoy a free taxi ride, either one way or round trip, to Cherry Creek for dinner. Vouchers are limited so sign up at the Information Desk. Then be in front of the Adam's Mark at the taxi stand between 4:45 p.m. and 5:15 p.m. on the day of your choice and pick up your voucher and your taxi.

You'll be dropped at the restaurant of your choice. It is recommended you make a reservation at the restaurant.

When you're ready to return, simply call the taxi company (details provided on your voucher) for priority pick up wherever you are, and you'll be returned to the Adam's Mark. Remember: if you're playing bridge allow enough time to return and be in your place at the start of the evening session.

Additionally, some taxi rides will be selected at random to receive a $10 gift certificate good at most merchants in the Cherry Creek area. Don't miss this opportunity to see the famous Cherry Creek North.

You'll find such notables as Amore Ristorante, Bob's Steak and Chop House, Chez Jose, Cucina Colore, Fourth Story Restaurant and Bar, Gelato d'Italia, Legends, Mirepoix, Pasta Pasta Pasta, Piatti Restaurant, Soleil, Steak Au Poivre Bistro and many more. An experience you can't pass up!

Bus Excursions to Colorado's Gaming

On Saturday, Nov. 18 and Sunday, Nov. 19, a bus will depart the Adam's Mark Hotel at 5 p.m. and you will be returned to the hotel by 11 p.m. On the bus you will be served turkey sandwiches and beverages. In addition, the Fortune Valley Casino is providing $5 in coins, $5 in food credit and 40 points on your Fortune Valley player's card. Non-bridge players welcome.
