2008 Fall Studio Schedule and Class Descriptions

Children/Youth Classes

Children's Dance: ages 5 - 8

...introduces students to the culture and art forms of Africa. Coordination, poly-rhythmic movements and basic positions of West Africa dance are emphasized. History and language is taught through songs and games

Youth Dance: ages 9 - 17

...builds on basic dance patterns and incorporates them into sequences. Students learn to use dance as a language. An understanding of the partnership between dancer and drummer is formed.

Beginning Drumming: ages 8 - 17

...teaches an appreciation for the drum and music of Africa. Students develop rhythmic skills and basic drum techniques. Students must provide their own hand drum.

Intermediate/Advanced Drumming: ages 9 - 17

...at this level students will be challenged to develop their skills while learning how to identify rhythms. Prerequisite: Completion of the beginning drumming class.

Hip Hop ages: 9 - 17

...a fun class in contemporary Hip Hop dance styles. All levels welcome!

Must have ten students to form a class. Classes are subject to change without notice.

Adult Classes

Come Dance With the Ko-Thi Ensemble

... now you can dance just like a Ko-Thi dancer. Learn the secrets and techniques needed for stamina and grace that is uniquely Ko Thi. This class is on campus as part of our UWM professional partnership.

Adult African Dance: Cultural Journey & Workout

...offers the techniques, terminology, and fundamentals of African dance movement. Students work for stamina and endurance to live accompaniment, while getting a great aerobic workout. This is a joint venture between Ko-Thi and the Jewish Community Center.

Movement and Flexibility for the 40 Plus Student

...combines the movement and culture of African dance to improve balance and flexibility. Back for the fall by popular demand this class will stimulate your senses, lengthen and tone your muscles all while teaching you movements and culture of Africa and the Caribbean.

New King Drive location and date for fall.
