

How To File a Health Care Claim

To complete a Health Care reimbursement request (a claim), you must submit a Health Care FSA Claim Form along with the receipts that clearly show an eligible expense was incurred. To complete a reimbursement request, you should:

1. Complete a Health Care FSA Claim Form
2. Attach itemized documentation
3. Submit the form and documentation to ADP

The Claim Form must be completed entirely, dated and signed. The supporting receipts or billing statements must state the vendor name, vendor contact information, purchase date, a description of the expense(s) and the expense amount. An Explanation of Benefits (EOB) from your medical provider can also be used as supporting documentation for your claim. A credit card receipt or canceled check is not adequate documentation. Credit card receipts often do not list the individual items purchased along with a description of the item. This is why you must save your purchase receipts, bills, itemized statements or EOB. Health Care claims cannot be processed for payment without proper supporting documentation.

You may submit up to four (4) purchases on a single Health Care Claim Form, using a separate line for each purchase. Please fax (fastest process) OR mail the documents, but please DO NOT DO BOTH. Be sure to keep a copy of your claim.

Place the documents in this order: Health Care Claim Form first, then the supporting documentation. Please do not return the instruction pages with your form and receipts.

Why Providing Documentation Is Important

The IRS has provided strict requirements stating that expenses reimbursed through a Flexible Spending Account must be substantiated using itemized receipts, bills, statements or Explanation of Benefits. All supporting documentation must reflect the vendor name, vendor contact information, date purchase/expense was incurred, a description of the expense and the expense amount. Health Care claims submitted without eligible documentation cannot be approved for payment, per IRS regulations. If your claim is declined for improper documentation, or if the expense is deemed as ineligible, you will be notified by ADP via U.S. Mail Service.

Important Information About Health Care Service Dates and Expense Reimbursement

IRS regulations place strict guidelines on reimbursements for Health Care expenses. One point of confusion in these regulations is the difference between when an expense is paid versus when an expense is “incurred”. Per IRS regulations, expenses reimbursed through a Health Care FSA are based on the date the expense was incurred, not the date you paid for the service (with some exceptions). The date the expense was incurred is the actual date the services were provided or, in the case of purchasing products, the date you purchased the products.

Orthodontia expenses are an exception because the service typically spans multiple plan years. Your payment contract for the services will determine how you should submit the expenses on your FSA claims.

- Monthly/Weekly payments – Submit each payment as a separate expense along with the receipt showing the date of the payment period and type of service.
- In Full – If you paid for the entire treatment in a single payment at the start of service, submit the contract along with the plan of treatment and the amount paid with your claim form. Note: Even if the treatment is spread over 2 years, the entire amount will come out of your current plan year account.

When you have a large number of receipts to submit, you have the option of sending the details of your claims on a spreadsheet showing the date, provider, amount and type of service for each item. For the type of service, you should categorize your expenses as RX (for prescription), over-the-counter, co-pay, etc. The spreadsheet should then be submitted with your completed claim form(s) and receipts.

Filing Multiple Expenses with the Same Service Date and Same Amounts

There may be times when you need to submit multiple expenses for the same amounts that were incurred on the same date. For example, you have two children who are both ill. Both children see the doctor on the same day and both children receive their own prescription with the same co-pay amount. The ADP claims processing system automatically categorizes claims based on the service date and amount and then compares those dates and amounts to claims you have already submitted. By filing a separate claim form for each child, the claim that is received and processed second will be marked as a duplicate claim. When submitting multiple claims with identical service dates and amounts, you should submit these expenses on the same claim form whenever possible. If the claims are for eligible dependents, be sure to include the dependent name and date of birth where indicated. This will help prevent eligible expenses from being inadvertently marked as duplicate claims.

You will receive a notification when a claim is marked as a duplicate. In the event a claim is mistakenly considered a duplicate, please contact your Participant Solution Center to have the claim status corrected. You can review your claims online at www.flexdirect.adp.com.

Resubmitting an FSA Claim When Additional Information is Requested

On occasion, you may be asked to resubmit a claim because information you provided was insufficient. You may have neglected to provide required information such as an itemized receipt or perhaps you just forgot to sign the claim form. In the event you are asked to resubmit a claim, you must submit a new claim form with the requested information.

Depending on the situation, it may not be necessary to resubmit the entire claim. For example, if you filed a claim with four purchases and only one purchase required additional information, you would file a new claim for that one purchase with its supporting documentation. You should not resubmit the entire claim with all four purchases as this will result in duplicating the other three purchases and you would receive a letter indicating that these purchases had been duplicated. However, if you forgot to include receipts or if you neglected to sign your claim form, it would be necessary to resubmit the entire claim with all its supporting documentation.

For questions or additional information on resubmitting claims, please contact your Participant Solution Center or visit www.flexdirect.adp.com.

Please do not return the instructions pages with your claim form and receipts.
