The authority for the State Board of Education so select and adopt textbooks is codified in the General Statutes of North Carolina 115C-85 through 115C-102.

- A. On an annual basis, the State Board of Education shall review the Board's responsibilities to evaluate and adopt textbooks. The Board shall be informed of the legal and ethical considerations of discussions with textbook company representatives during the textbook process.
- B. The Invitation to Submit Textbooks for Evaluation and Adoption in North Carolina document shall provide the required procedures for the evaluation and adoption process for submission, evaluation, and adoption of instructional materials and a schedule for the process. Publishers and producers are required to follow the procedures set forth in this document. Failure to comply with all procedures, including states deadlines, may result in disqualification. A period of time shall be set aside for the Textbook Commission to meet and deliberate before a list of textbook recommendations is taken to the State Board of Education for adoption, according to the schedule for the evaluation and adoption process determined by DPI when the Invitation to Submit Textbooks is issued. Publishers will have time to present additional information to the commission if their title(s) have been excluded from the list of recommendations. The procedure for reconsideration shall be described in the Invitation to Submit Textbooks.

C. Include in the call letter, the Invitation to Submit Textbooks for Evaluation and Adoption, the following information about contact with State Board of Education members and Textbook Commission members:

1. The Commission may meet publicly with representatives of publishers to discuss the Commission's plans and procedures for adoption of textbooks.
2. At no time during the adoption process (from the time the State Board approves the call letter until the State Board adopts the list of textbooks) may the Commission or any of its members meet privately with any publisher's representatives.
3. The Superintendent shall remove from the Textbook Company Register any publisher whose representatives attempt to exercise undue pressure of any kind to adopt its books upon a member of the Textbook Commission, the regional textbook evaluation advisory committees, the curriculum review committee or the staff of the Department of Public Instruction.
4. The State Board of Education shall direct the Superintendent of Public Instruction to remove from the Textbook Company Register any publisher whose representatives attempt to exercise undue pressure of any form upon a member of the State Board of Education to adopt its books.

For purposes of restrictions, "undue pressure" means personal contact, whether in person, by telephone, or in written form, that attempts to advocate for the selection of a particular book or series of books. "Undue pressure" does not include social contact or presentations to the Textbook Commission as a whole, and does not include written communication with Textbook Commission members or agency officials following acceptance or rejection of a submission in an effort to seek clarification or reconsideration.

D. General Counsel to the State Board of Education shall review and approve the Invitation to Submit Textbooks for Evaluation and Adoption prior to its being presented to the State Board of Education.

E. Revisions to the Invitation to Submit Textbooks for Evaluation and Adoption in North Carolina shall be reviewed and approved by the State Board of Education.

F. Each publishing company piloting textbook materials being submitted for consideration in the current adoption year shall notify the Textbook Commission, in writing, which materials are being piloted and in which districts materials are being piloted. Dear Board Members:

It is my pleasure to present to you recommendations for the 2010-11 adoption of instructional materials for English/Language Arts and Reading K-12.

The Textbook Commission has worked hard to provide a list of materials that reflects the goals and is aligned with North Carolina Standard Course of Study and the Common Core State Standards.

Commission members and approximately 138 teacher evaluators have reviewed all of the submitted materials very carefully. We are proud of the work these dedicated teachers have done.

The Textbook Commission, appointed by Governor Perdue, represents the eight education districts of the state and includes parents, teachers and administrators. Each of the members has worked tirelessly in performing the duties of the Textbook Commission and has served the schools of North Carolina well. Throughout this process, our eyes have been focused on the needs of students and teachers across the state.

We appreciate the support of the State Board as we strive to provide a high quality of expertise and professionalism in performing the duties of the textbook adoption process.

Respectfully,
